GEN. NEVILLE SUCCUMBS

Head of Marine Corps Was 60

[illegible] of Two Wars and Other Expeditions Dies of Heart Disease

Countless Decorations Won; Butler Now Ranking Officer

[illegible]HINGTON, July 8. (AP)—A [illegible] of two wars, two punitive [illegible] and a rebellion, Maj.-[illegible] Wendell C. Neville, 60 years [illegible] commandant of the Marine [illegible] died today of heart disease. [illegible] sturdy heart that carried [illegible] through the World War, the [illegible]-American War and other [illegible] episodes and brought him [illegible] honors and decorations [illegible] at the home of his [illegible] Mrs. John P. W. Vest, at [illegible] Beach, Maryland.

[illegible] Neville had been in ill [illegible] several months since he suffered a stroke and spent a few [illegible] in the naval hospital. He [illegible] to duty and last Thursday [illegible] on leave to recuperate [illegible] before continuing with his [illegible] work as head of the Marine Corps.

[illegible] RANKING OFFICER

[illegible] his death Brig.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler became the ranking [illegible] in the Marine Corps. Brig.-[illegible] Ben H. Fuller, assistant commandant, immediately was appointed [illegible] commandant of the corps.

[illegible] Neville's war experience began with the battles of Guantanamo and Cusco in the Spanish-[illegible] conflict. He was appointed a captain, for conspicuous conduct in the Guantanamo encounter. [illegible] the Philippine Insurrection [illegible] out and Neville started for [illegible] islands, but was diverted to China, and served for three [illegible] in the Boxer Rebellion.

[illegible] major he went to Cuba with [illegible] of pacification in 1906 and [illegible] commanded the Second [illegible] of Marines when that famous [illegible] participated in the seizure and occupation of Vera Cruz.

[illegible] two years he commanded the marine detachment at [illegible] and in December of 1917 he [illegible] for France with the Fifth [illegible] of Marines, thus setting [illegible] the work for which he [illegible] known.

"FOLLOW ME" NEVILLE

[illegible] commanded the famous Fifth [illegible] of Marines in the Verdun [illegible] Thierry sectors and [illegible] well-known Fourth Brigade [illegible] Marines in ensuing operations near Soissons, St. Mihiel, the [illegible] and the Meuse-Argonne; [illegible] during these campaigns [illegible] the name of "Follow Me" [illegible] and the plaudits of his own [illegible] as well as decorations from [illegible] Allies.

ERA OF HATE PICTURED

Leading Democratic Senator Says Pact Only Bar to World Mistrust

Dispute Over Secret Papers Continues But Fails to Reach Vote

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—Ratification of the London naval treaty was urged before the Senate in the opening debate today by Senator Swanson, Virginia, ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations and Naval committees, but the treaty was soon submerged in a quarrel over the right of the Senate to documents relating to the London parley.

Before filled galleries, Senator Swanson put the case of the treaty proponents with the plea that its ratification is in the best interests of the United States both from a "selfish, military standpoint" and from "a higher and nobler purpose."

As the Virginian concluded his two-hour address the Senate reverted to its dispute over the McKellar resolution requesting President Hoover to give the Senate all papers and documents relating to the pact.

VOTE DELAYED

Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee, who is in charge of the treaty, announced he was willing to accept the resolution but after three hours' debate led by Senators Johnson, Republican, California, and McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, the Senate adjourned without reaching a vote.

Senator Borah suggested an amendment to the McKellar resolution to request the papers "if compatible with public interest." McKellar refused the amendment and Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democratic leader, then proposed the amendment but no vote was reached on that.

Treaty advocates apparently were willing to adopt the resolution in the interest of speeding up debate. President Hoover has sent some of the documents to the Foreign Relations Committee but he has withheld part of them, asserting their publication would not be compatible with public interest. There is no expectation in the Senate he will send them up even if the McKellar resolution is adopted.

TWO QUORUM CALLS

Senators Johnson and McKellar conceded today they could do nothing about it if the President declined. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, has offered to show in confidence the notes exchanged between Ambassador Dawes and the government prior to the London parley. These are the notes which have been withheld.

Two quorum calls today revealed only one more than the necessary

BRAZIL TO AFRICA HOP UNDER WAY

Jean Mermoz, French Pilot, Essays 1800-Mile Flight Over South Atlantic

NATAL (Brazil) July 8. (AP)—Jean Mermoz, crack French air-mail pilot, took off this afternoon for a nonstop flight back to Africa.

Eighteen hundred miles of ocean separated him from his objective, Dakar, in French Equatorial Africa. The South Atlantic never has been successfully crossed from west to east.

The attempt, primarily is intended to show the feasibility of regular air-mail service across the South Atlantic.

Mermoz, who got away at 4:32 p.m., hoped to better the time of his first flight. On May 12-13, he crossed St. Louis, Senegal, in 20 hours and 16 minutes, making the first air-mail trip under bad weather conditions.

For two days the pilot and his radio operator, Leopold Gimme, and his navigator, Jean Abry, had been waiting on Lake Bomfin, twenty miles from Natal, for favorable wind and favorable weather.

RADIO REPORT INDICATES PROGRESS

FERNANDO DE NORONHA, July 8. (AP)—A wireless message from Jean Mermoz, French air-mail pilot, attempting the first crossing of the South Atlantic, reported tonight he was passing close to this island, but beyond sighting distance.

All was well on board. The message was picked up at 9:35 p.m., local time.

LINDBERGH BABY NAMED FOR FATHER

Mother Wins Out in Her Wish That He be Known as Charles Augustus, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 8. (Exclusive) A statement was issued at the home of Ambassador and Mrs. Dwight Morrow in Englewood, N. J., last night to the effect that Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh have named their son born at the Morrow home on June 22, Charles Augustus, Jr.

Previous reports had indicated that the name Charles Morrow Lindbergh might be chosen. Mrs. Lindbergh herself was said to have stood out for the name of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.,—and she has won out.

India Reports Village Lost in Earthquake

DHUBRI (Assam, India) July 8. (AP) An unconfirmed report reached here today that the Sahbi Hills had been cleft asunder by an earthquake and a village in Kanchigaon swallowed up. The quake which caused the tragedy was among the first of the 112 shocks registered in the last few days.

The local hospital treasury buildings and match factory have been damaged seriously.

AGRARIANS DIE IN FIGHT

MEXICO CITY, July 8. (AP)—The correspondent of El Universal at Guanajuato today reported that ten agrarians had been killed and numerous others wounded in a battle between farmers and Huicachi and Zoyatlan over disposal of communal grants of land.

NEW YORK'S POPULATION 6,958,792

Final Figures Give City Increase of 24 Per Cent; Brooklyn Leads Boroughs

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—New York City has a population of 6,958,-792, according to 1930 census figures, completed today. This is an increase of 1,338,744, or nearly 24 per cent.

The final borough to report, the Bronx, showed a total population of 1,266,734, nearly 500,000 gain since 1920.

Brooklyn still has the greatest population of the city's five boroughs with 2,596,154, a 28.6 per cent gain in ten years.

Queens Borough, with a population of 1,082,212, made the greatest increase during the past decade, 130 per cent.

FLORIDA'S POPULATION AROUND 1,500,000

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) July 8. (AP) Official census enumerations made public today from sixty-five of the sixty-seven counties in Florida showed a population of 1,447,645. Census officials said indications are reports from the other counties will place the State's population at approximately 1,500,000. The population in 1920 was 968,470.

STORM DAMAGES FARMS

WINNIPEG, July 8. (AP)—An electrical storm accompanied by hail and high winds swept a wide stretch of territory in Manitoba and Alberta last night and today. Heavy damage to crops, farm buildings and communications service was reported.

THREE DIE FROM HEAT IN MIDWEST

Minnesota, Dakotas and Missouri Report Mercury Near 100 Mark

ST. PAUL, July 8. (AP)—Two lives were claimed, directly or indirectly, by a heat wave which continued to grip the Northwest today as temperatures moved upward in Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

Ole C. Nelson, 65 years of age, Virginia, Minn., was overcome in Minneapolis today and died a few minutes later.

C. V. Kerkove, 50, Hatfield, Minn., committed suicide because of ill health aggravated, it was reported, by intense heat.

In Minnesota, Pipestone reported a temperature of 100 deg., while Fargo, N. D., reported 96 deg., the highest of the year for that city, and Jamestown, N. D., 98.

HIGH TEMPERATURES CONTINUE IN MISSOURI

KANSAS CITY, July 8. (AP)—Abnormal temperatures continued to prevail over much of this section today, aiding wheat farmers and swimming-pool operators.

At least one death was caused by the heat.

Edward W. Higgins, 63, a carpenter, died of heat prostration while working in Springfield, Mo., on his first day on a job he had tried for weeks to obtain.

SUITOR KILLS DIVORCEE

CHICAGO, July 8. (AP)—Mrs. Bessie Lahey, 38 years of age, mother of five children, was shot to death by a rejected suitor today while she slept. Her slayer, Alfred Geisler, 42, killed himself. Mrs. Lahey was divorced.

TIME ERASES BITTER FEUD

"Mother" Jones Makes Peace With Rockefeller by Congratulatory Message on His Birthday

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) July 8. (AP)—The years completed another victory today as John D. Rockefeller on his ninety-first birthday received a congratulatory message from his one-time bitter foe, "Mother" Jones, union-labor leader.

Less than a score of those patient, invincible years have passed since "Mother" Jones went to jail after her denunciation of the Rockefellers—a denunciation delivered in the white heat of her wrath that flamed up during the Colorado mine wars.

But "Mother" Jones is 100 years of age now, peacefully living out what is left of life for her in a quiet, secluded country home in Maryland.

And John D. Rockefeller is 91, a mild and benevolent old gentleman who dispenses millions of dollars and hundreds of bright new dimes as he lives on toward the century mark.

HER MESSAGE

So today from Silver Springs, Md., to Pocantico Hills, N. Y., came the following message that only time could make possible.

"Congratulations on the arrival of your ninety-first birthday anniversary. Thank God, we have some men in the world as good as you. We never needed them as much as we do today. Most sincere wishes that you may be blessed with many more."

The Rockefellers made the first move in the peace that was finally concluded today. On her 100th birthday anniversary a few weeks ago, "Mother" Jones received a telegram of felicitation from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and, in expressing her appreciation for the message, she revealed the fact that once several years ago he had invited her to his home for dinner.

"Your loyalty to your ideals, your fearless adherence to your duty as you have seen it, is an inspiration to all who have known you," read the message from the son of her old-time enemy.

DARNED GOOD SPORT

And after she had read it, "Mother" Jones said:

"He's a darned good sport. I've licked him many times, but now we've made peace."

His wire from "Mother" Jones and the compliment paid him in a radio speech last night by the Prince of Wales, who said he hoped England would produce a philanthropist like him, were the high spots of John D. Rockefeller's birthday anniversary.

But, so far as he was concerned himself, it was just another day, quietly passed in seclusion and the routine he loves. There was golf in the morning at Pocantico Hills, a drive about the estate in the afternoon and a family dinner party in the evening.

And the few who saw him observed that, if he keeps his present health, the wish of "Mother" Jones, that he be blessed with many more birthdays, will most certainly be fulfilled.

Before Mr. Rockefeller went for his ride he was informed newspaper men were stationed at the two commonly used entrances to the estate. So he ordered another gate opened and, eluding the reporters, went for a two-hour drive in his favorite automobile, which is sixteen years old.

LIVING COST DECLINING

Value of Dollar Increases

Sale Level of Commodities for May Lowest Since Before War

Twenty Per Cent Decrease in Prices Noted Between 1920 and 1930

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—The clouds of the business depression have a silver lining for the wage-earner sure of his job with no reduction of pay, and for the person with a fixed income.

Old high cost of living, ogre of the war and post-war period, isn't the terrifying figure it used to be, and the slump in commodity prices threatens to make it still less formidable. The consumer's dollar now goes much further than it did in 1920 and a bit further than in 1929, and may go even further before the end of 1930.

DOLLAR BUYS MORE

Ethelbert Stewart, Commissioner of Labor Statistics, says the purchasing power of the retail or "home" dollar applied to foodstuffs last May was $1.056, compared with $1 in July, 1929, for a family whose monthly outlay for food is about $50, the saving is from $2.50 to $3 a month, no small item in homes where pennies are potent.

Government economists say that while a decline in retail prices is virtually never commensurate with the drop in wholesale prices, the current slump in the latter should add some power to the home dollar.

Getting down to the "meat and potatoes" of the situation, the retail prices of twenty-two articles of food decreased from April 15 to May 15, the latest period on which prices are available. The prices of seven articles increased, while thirteen showed no change. Since May, however, the general trend has been downward, the reduction in meat prices being a notable feature.

LOWEST SINCE 1916

The wholesale price level of all commodities in May was the lowest it has been since September, 1916. The wholesale purchasing power of the 1926 dollar for all commodities was $1.12 in May. It is greater today, farm products, foods, cotton and woolen goods, silk, rayon, fuel, drugs and furniture having dropped in wholesale prices.

While up-to-the-minute figures on the general cost of living are not available, the comparatively recent survey of December, 1929, shows a large drop from the peak of June, 1920. In thirty-two representative cities the average cost of living decreased 20.8 per cent. In nearly all of these cities the decrease in the cost of clothing since the silk-shirt era has been tremendous. Rents have decreased steadily since 1923 and house furnishing goods have had a similar decline.

Mrs. Hoover to Again Rest at Rapidan Camp

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover, home again in the White House after a month's rest in the mountains, will make her sojourn here only temporarily. Already, after two days in the city, she is planning to return to the restful seclusion of the President's camp on the Rapidan.

She probably will spend the greater part of her time there until she goes west with the President. The bracing, pine-scented air and complete relaxation have proven an ideal antidote for months of strenuous activity as first lady of the land.

Use of Alcohol Rule Unchanged

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—The first of the joint regulations to be issued by Secretary Mellon and Atty.-Gen. Mitchell regarding the handling of industrial alcohol were made public tonight, continuing in effect the regulations in force on June 30, when the Prohibition Bureau was transferred to the Department of Justice.

Jewish Police Pair Ambushed

HAIFA (Palestine) July 8. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency) — Two mounted members of the Palestine police force were ambushed today on the highway between Safed and Acre by unknown assailants. One of them, Abdul Koubahs, was killed.

Police believe it to be part of a campaign of depredations.

Child Marriage Hindu Convicted

ROHTAK, PUNJAB (India) July 8. (AP)—The first conviction under the Sarda Act for the prevention of child marriages, which was adopted last autumn, was registered here today.

It is thought to be the first of its kind in all India.

Will Rogers Remarks

BEVERLY HILLS, July 8. [To the Editor of The Times:] The Senate is trying to get all the communications that passed between Ambassador Dawes and President Hoover before the disarmament conference met. When they open 'em all up they will be found to contain nothing but Dawes asking for more smoking tobacco.

Every city kicked on its census returns, claiming they did not count the suburbs. Well, the whole United States just published theirs, 122,000,000. Now, I guess, we will claim America was short counted; we should have taken in Mexico and Canada.

Yours,

BILLION FOR BUILDINGS

Realty Men Say Money Plenty

Timidity of Borrowers Only Reason for Slump in Construction

Survey of Forty-six Cities Discloses Ample Funds for Home Loans

TORONTO (Can.) July 8.—There is nearly $1,000,000,000 begging to be borrowed for nonspeculative home construction and ready to be passed out over the counters tomorrow morning in forty-six cities in the United States, Herbert U. Nelson, executive secretary of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, today told the association directors assembled here for this organization's twenty-third annual convention.

People who have been saying that money is tight in the United States just haven't been around to their brokers lately, for if they want it for sound building projects they probably will be ushered right into the president's private office, said Mr. Nelson.

SURVEY COMPLETED

Because the association felt that resumption of building asked by President Hoover had been delayed due to timidity on the part of the public in asking for construction loans, a survey on what is actually available in forty-six widely separated cities was completed by the association a week ago, said Mr. Nelson.

The survey, which is supported by documentary evidence from individual banks and mortgage houses, revealed that $843,712,000 can be loaned at once in these forty-six cities for nonspeculative building. Lending institutions in Chicago reported the highest figure available, the returns from that city totaling $300,000,000 ready to be loaned for this purpose.

Pointing out that much of the unemployment in the States has been due to a country-wide curtailment of residence and other construction which has affected not only building-trades workers but thousands of employees of factories manufacturing materials and equipment used in building, Mr. Nelson stated that the stock market crash of last fall and the subsequent business depression had scared people throughout the country from asking for construction loans.

LOOSE TALK

"The man in the street is still talking hard times and really doesn't believe he could raise very much money for home building or any other construction enterprise in which he might be interested," said Mr. Nelson. "If you asked the average fellow if this is a good time for home buying or building, he would gloomily say 'No!' Yet it is

PLEA LOST BY MOONEY

Pardon Refused by Governor

Young Holds Supreme Court Ruling on Billings Decides Case

Discrediting of Oxman Story Fails to Break Down Charges, He Asserts

Gov. Young yesterday denied the pardon application of Thomas J. Mooney, serving a life term in San Quentin prison for participation in the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing that killed ten persons and wounded many others.

The executive announced his decision in a five-page statement in which he said that he is convinced that Mooney's case is inseparably linked to that of Warren K. Billings, a follower of Mooney, convicted of the same crime, although at a separate trial, and now, because of a previous conviction on a felony charge, in Folsom for life.

Billings's application for a pardon came before the State Supreme Court and was rejected by that tribunal in a recommendation to the Governor last week.

In his statement Gov. Young suggests to the members of the Supreme Court that should material witnesses who have repudiated their former testimony appear before them, the court give hearings to such witnesses.

AFFIDAVIT DISTRUSTED

"Until the truth of the repudiating affidavits can be definitely established no one can question the decision of the Supreme Court or the reasoning of the Advisory Pardon Board," said the Governor, referring particularly to John McDonald, a waiter, who testified at Billings's trial that he had seen Billings and Mooney near the scene of the bombing and who later repudiated this testimony.

"For various reasons, which are set forth at length, the justices distrusted this affidavit," said the Governor. The Governor points out that the court made efforts to locate the witness, only to be requested to abandon the attempt by Billings in a letter in which the Folsom prisoner asked that the court confine itself to the records, affidavits and other documents before it.

Billings's action, the Governor declares, threw the prisoner open to suspicion "through his apparent fear to have McDonald come before the court, where the circumstances surrounding the affidavit might be investigated."

OXMAN DISCREDITED

The Governor set forth that he places no credence in the testimony of F. C. Oxman, a cattle dealer, but that he is convinced that the case against Mooney stood up, notwithstanding the discrediting of Oxman's testimony.

The Governor said he is aware that his decision is disappointing to many, particularly to those who have come to feel strongly on the subject without, he said, having had the opportunity to study the case at first hand.

"But in a case like this," he continued, "I must be guided by a conscientious regard for my oath of office, rather than a willingness to respond to popular appeal."

The Governor's statement set forth that he has made a personal investigation of the case, interviewing various persons in an effort to arrive at the truth. He has received hundreds of communications from all over the world, but asserts that there has been no propaganda or pressure of any kind directed to keeping Mooney in prison.

In making his decision, he related, he did so without prejudice against Mooney for the man's social theories.

YOUNG'S STATEMENT

The Governor's statement follows in full:

I have before me an application for pardon in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, now undergoing life imprisonment in San Quentin prison, together with a communication from the State Supreme Court in which six of its seven members refuse to recommend a pardon to Warren K. Billings, convicted of the same crime though at a separate trial. Mooney was tried during January and February of 1917 and convicted for guilty participation in a bomb

SOUTHERN CROSS HOME

Santa Maria Throngs Give Kingsford-Smith and Aides Ovation as Plane Goes to Trip Sponsor

BY BURTON L. SMITH
"Times" Staff Representative

SANTA MARIA, July 8. (Exclusive)—Weather-beaten and travel-stained, yet proud victor in its fight against the elements, its motors in perfect tune and its silver wings flashing in the noonday sun, the Southern Cross and its intrepid pilot, Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, arrived here today.

"We are not in Santa Maria on a visit," said Commander Kingsford-Smith in his short address in answer to the cheers of a multitude gathered at Hancock Field to bid him welcome, "but have arrived to attend a home-coming."

This city marks the end of the trail for the giant Fokker trimotored monoplane, which has completed a successful trip around the globe. The Southern Cross will remain here as property of G. Allan Hancock, founder of the Hancock School of Aeronautics and principal backer and sponsor of Wing Commander Kingsford-Smith in many of his exploits.

AWAITED BY THRONGS

The ship arrived here at 12:12 p.m. after a flight from San Francisco. More than 10,000 persons had been waiting most of the morning at Hancock Field to join in the short program arranged by the Santa Maria Valley Chamber of Commerce.

With Commander Kingsford-Smith were his navigator, Capt. Patrick Saul, and his radio operator, John Stannage, who were greeted by Capt. G. Allan Hancock and members of the reception committee. The guests of honor were escorted to a platform erected in front of the dormitories of the aero-explosion in San Francisco on July 22, 1916—an explosion which took a toll of ten lives and maimed and wounded many more. The original sentence of death imposed upon the defendant was a year and a half later commuted to imprisonment for life.

PARDON FOR TOM MOONEY REFUSED BY GOV. YOUNG

Popular Feeling for Bomb Outrage Convict Declared Based on Ignorance of Facts

Although two previous governors had refused to pardon Mooney, I have, nevertheless, given his application most thorough and exceedingly careful consideration. I have been in receipt of many hundreds of communications from all portions of the world, most of them evidencing a sincere beliefe in the prisoner's innocence and urging his pardon, though in practically every instance with no first-hand knowledge of the case except what they have been told by others, or have read either in the press or in literature sent out by the Mooney Defense Committee. There has been no propaganda or pressure of any kind directed to the keeping of Mooney in prison.

PREJUDICE DENIED

In making my study of the case, I have done so with absolutely no prejudice against Tom Mooney for any social theories he may hold or for any other crimes with which he may have been charged, or may have been capable of committing. If he was innocent of this particular crime, to keep him in prison would be an ineffaceable blot upon the good name of the State. On the other hand, if he was not innocent, he was guilty of one of the most uncalled-for and atrocious crimes ever committed—the wanton murder of unsuspecting men, women and children, gathered upon a public street to witness a patriotic demonstration of San Francisco's citizens.

Coupled with the case of Mooney was the parallel case of Warren K. Billings, who several months before had been convicted of participation in the same crime, and who had already served a term in prison for another offense. The Constitution of California expressly forbids a Governor to grant executive clemency to a twice - convicted felon except upon recommendation by a majority of the justices of the State Supreme Court; and on November 7, 1929, Billings applied to the court for such a recommendation. In order to secure all possible assistance and advice as to the case of Mooney, I referred it to the Advisory Pardon Board, which is regularly constituted by law to assist in investigating applications for executive clemency. Their report is now before me, and is hereby made a part of this statement.

CAREFUL STUDY MADE

Although I had spent many months in studying these cases and had carefully read the transcripts of the trials, as well as the thousands of pages of the briefs, petitions, affidavits and other documents filed with me, as continuously stated during my investigations I had not been able to convince myself of the innocence of the prisoners; but I had been convinced that innocence or guilt of the one implied corresponding innocence or guilt of the other, and that whatever treatment was accorded the one, should in all fairness apply to the other.

Accordingly, it was with much satisfaction that I learned that Billings had applied to the justices of the Supreme Court for a pardon recommendation; for I realized that this would mean an independent and unbiased study by the highest judicial body of the State, composed of men of specialized training and outstanding ability; and I sincerely welcomed this assistance in a case which I had found exceedingly difficult and baffling. Early in November, 1929, I expressed myself on this matter as follows:

"In all the maze of conflicting testimony at the trials, and in all the doubts raised since that time, one thing stands out clearly, and is conceded equally by those who favor and those who oppose a pardon—that both men are guilty or that neither is. Although they were tried separately for the same offense, the evidence at both trials in all essential particulars applies to one as well as to the other. Therefore whatever recommendation the Supreme Court makes or refuses to make in the Billings case must apply with equal force to the case of Mooney."

WITNESSES STRESSED

I have quoted this statement which I made when Billings first made application to the Supreme Court justices, for I would not have it thought that I have changed my attitude in this matter in any particular. In fact, I have consistently stated that the justices' decision, after their independent and unbiased study, would of necessity be conclusive; and in order to insure this independent study, I have scrupulously refrained from discussing the matter with the members of the court. In fact, until their recent communication of July 2 was sent to me, I had not received the slightest intimation as to what their recommendation would be.

In denying Billings's application for a favorable recommendation, the justices lay particular stress upon the witness, John McDonald, who identified both Billings and Mooney as the men who placed the bomb which caused the loss of life. Both Billings and Mooney now contend that McDonald's original testimony was wiped out by an affidavit made four years later in New York City, in which he repudiated his original testimony. The question naturally arises as to how this repudiation was secured, and on what basis it is entitled to more credit than the testimony given on oath at the trials—testimony which might easily have led to a death sentence for both defendants.

For various reasons which are set forth at length, the justices distrusted this affidavit; but in order to give Billings the benefit of the doubt determined that "some effort should be made to locate John McDonald, with a view to such further questions as might serve to shed light upon the circumstances and motives attending and animating the making of the affidavit in question." This was the wisest and fairest action the members of the court could have taken, for if it could be shown that such witnesses as John McDonald had issued false affidavits through improper motives, obviously no pardon or commutation could be recommended; while if it could be shown that the repudiating affidavits were true and dependable, the case against Billings would be materially weakened.

Right here comes an action on the part of Billings that seems to admit of no explanation—namely a letter under date of May 4, 1930, addressed to the court protesting against any such outside investigation as they were proposing, and stating his belief that neither the Constitution nor the Penal Code conferred upon the Supreme Court the right to make such investigation. Upon the receipt of this letter the justices abandoned any attempts to secure the presence of McDonald. Meanwhile, there is no escaping the fact that Billings threw himself open to suspicion through his apparent fear to have McDonald come before the members of the court, where the circumstances surrounding his affidavit might be investigated.

ONLY TWO WITNESSES

In the case of Mooney, there were two witnesses who testified to seeing Billings and Mooney at the scene of the explosion. One of these was McDonald, who also testified in the Billings case, and the other was the cattle dealer, F. C. Oxman, who did not testify in that case. I have made a special study of Oxman's testimony, and desire to say that I thoroughly discredit it. I have personally and at great length interviewed both Mr. and Mrs. Hatcher of Woodland, where Oxman visited on the morning of the 22nd inst., and am convinced that he did not arrive in San Francisco until hours after the explosion took place. I believe that Oxman was nothing more or less than a publicity-seeking romancer, though I do not believe that his connection with the case was through any connivance or conspiracy with the prosecuting officials. I cannot agree, however, that the case against Mooney falls with the discrediting of Oxman, for the testimony of John McDonald is as strong a factor in that case as in the case of Billings.

I think there would be general agreement with the concurring opinion of Associate Justice Shenk, who, though conceding that the showing now made by the applicant does not warrant a recommendation for pardon, nevertheless insists that:

"The means should be made available, as occasion might require, to disclose the circumstances and conditions under which a witness, thoroughly examined and cross-examined at a public trial, has later cast reflections upon or repudiated his former testimony given under oath in open court . . . The important thing is to arrive at the truth of the matter, and in order to do so we should have the power to employ any appropriate means to satisfy ourselves of the truth or falsity of the repudiation, especially in the absence of any statute or rule governing the procedure in the premises. If we should exercise that power it might be that the truth would be satisfactorily brought to light, either for or against the application."

LEAVES DOOR OPEN

In view of Justice Shenk's observation in this regard, I would most respectfully suggest to the members of the Supreme Court that, should McDonald or any other material witness who has repudiated his former testimony appear before them for the purpose of proving that such repudiations are trustworthy and that their former testimony was perjured, it may be only just and right to consider the propriety of giving a hearing to such witnesses in the case of Billings, just as I should desire to do in the case of Mooney.

Until the truth of the repudiating affidavits can be definitely established, no one can question the decision of the Supreme Court or the reasoning of the Advisory Pardon Board, for there are certainly some portions of McDonald's affidavit which appear patently untrustworthy. For instance in his affidavit McDonald alleges that no proper identification of either Mooney or Billings was made by him—that Lieut. Goff took him to the door of Mooney's cell and said "This is your man; this is Mooney;" and that he subsequently took him to Billings's cell, "asked a turnkey to open the door, and said, 'Come out here, Billings' ". Upon careful investigation I am convinced that nothing of this kind occurred; nor can anyone believe that Billings and Mooney and their attorneys knew of such a spurious identification without calling attention to the matter in either of the trials.

OPPOSES POLITICS

In view of what has been said above, and in view of the fact that from the very first I have considered the cases of Billings and Mooney as parallel and in common with all others have recognized that both must be guilty or both innocent, until some further light is shed upon the case which I do not now possess I manifestly must accept the conclusions of the Supreme Court and the Advisory Pardon Board, and accordingly must at this time deny a pardon to Thomas J. Mooney. I am aware that this decision will be disappointing to many, particularly to those who have come to feel strongly on this subject without having had the opportunity to study the case at first hand; but in a matter like this I must be guided by a conscientious regard for my oath of office, rather than a willingness to respond to popular appeal.

Along this line I possibly can do no better than to quote from a letter I wrote in December of last year to Mr. Fremont Older, who has from the beginning taken such an earnest and sincere interest in these cases:

"Although I realize just as well as you that whatever decision I reach may be seized upon by political opponents, even though they themselves through similar study would have reached exactly the same conclusions as I, nevertheless the proper disposition of these cases is a duty too sacred to justify attack by those who would seek to use it as a political football. The good name of the State demands that this whole matter be removed entirely from the realm of politics; and I trust that it is not necessary to pledge you my word that, whether I am in a position to decide these cases before a campaign or during a campaign or after a campaign, my final decision will not depend one iota upon when it is made."

That this "final decision" has been made at the present time rather than six months ago is due to my feeling that out of deference to the Supreme Court I could not properly act upon the case of Mooney until the members of the court, in accordance with the Constitution, had acted on the parallel case of Billings. I am announcing my decision at the earliest possible moment after receiving the communication from the court.

MOONEY'S VITUPERATION CHOKED BY WARDEN

SAN QUENTIN, July 8. (AP)—Disappointed at rejection of his plea for a pardon, Thomas Mooney, convicted bomber, struck back at the administration of Gov. Young in an interview today—an interview abruptly terminated by Warden Holohan.

"I brand every union-labor leader who supports C. C. Young in the coming election as a traitor," Mooney had just said.

"The rank and file will support my cause. But the leaders are lined up with the big business interests—with their fingers in the money bags."

WARDEN STOPS IT

"Mooney, you'll have to stop issuing political propaganda from here," interrupted the warden, who had just entered the room. "I won't stand for any prisoner making such statements."

Mooney turned without a word and went back to his cell, and the warden turned to the waiting group of newspaper men.

"I've been fair with Mooney with regard to his case, but if he's going to make such remarks as this I'll have to put the soft pedal on him," he explained.

The interview started with newspaper men informing him the Governor had rejected his plea for pardon.

MONEY BLOWS OFF

Mooney flared up almost at once and asserted Warren Billings had been approached three days before the bombing and offered $5000 if he would "frame" Mooney. He added a charge Gov. Young had "double-crossed" him after promising him "favorable consideration" of his case eight months ago, and was telling how he would line up the union-labor vote to oppose Young when Warden Holohan entered.

In between, Mooney referred to the Advisory Pardon Board as a "political buffer," criticised the Supreme Court decision in Billings's application for a pardon recommendation as "most unscholarly," and said the Mooney defense league would seek as candidate for Governor "a fearless and courageous enough man to pardon two innocent men who have served fourteen years in prison."

"FRAMING" STORY NEWS TO YOUNG

When apprised of Thomas Mooney's declaration that Billings had been offered $5000 three days before the bombing to "frame" him, Gov. Young last night stated he had no knowledge whatever on the subject.

DEFENSE COMMITTEE SPEAKS FOR PUBLIC

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—Gov. Young "has failed in his duty to the citizens of California," Mary E. Gallagher of the Tom Mooney defense committee declared in a formal statement late today.

"All the evidence upon which the Mooney and Billings petitions for pardon were based has been in the hands of the public for several years," Miss Gallagher said. "The entire State was reviewing these cases simultaneously with the Governor, and the conclusion of the public is that Mooney and Billings are innocent.

"Gov. Young has disappointed the highest-minded people of the State, but our committee will continue to carry on our educational campaign. Mooney and Billings cannot remain in prison for life. The citizens of California will not permit this injustice to continue."

APPLICATION FOR PAROLE NEXT MOVE OF BILLINGS

SACRAMENTO, July 8. (Exclusive)—Warren K. Billings, who, with Thomas J. Mooney, has seen the door to a pardon closed before him during the past week, said today he may make application to the State prison board for a parole.

This is the first time either of the two Preparedness Day bomb-explosion figures have given the slightest intimation they would seek to obtain their release from prison by any other means except by an unconditional pardon.

Billings made the statement to Warden Smith this morning when the latter went to his Folsom prison cell to inform Billings of Gov. Young's refusal to pardon Mooney.

forty-nine members present to transact business and treaty advocates showed some concern.

Two members will leave tomorrow, Senators Barkley, Kentucky, and Connally, Texas, both Democrats, as American delegates to the Inter-Parliamentary Union in London. Senator Barkley spoke today in behalf of the treaty, urging its ratification in the interest of peace. He feared rejection of the treaty would invite a "disastrous naval race."

Senator Johnson called attention to a statement in the Diplomatic Review, a Japanese publication, stating there was a gentleman's agreement whereby America would build only fifteen of the eighteen cruisers authorized by the treaty.

REED DENIES REPORT

Senator Reed, a London delegate, quickly denied any such agreement and Senator Robinson, Arkansas, another London delegate, asked Johnson if he thought it was true. Johnson contended, in view of such statements, the Senate ought to have all papers relating to the treaty.

Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, another treaty opponent, asked if President Hoover is attempting to "conceal something." He pointed out the President had given the Foreign Relations Committee some of the papers in confidence and he wanted to know why all of them could not be given the committee in confidence. Johnson said if the President demanded they be kept in confidence by the Senate he would agree to it.

However, Senator Glenn, Republican, Illinois, argued it had been shown in the past the Senate could not pledge itself to keep things in confidence.

"I am going to place a little confidence in the President," said Glenn.

"It's not a question of confidence in the President," retorted Johnson. "It is a question whether you have got any manhood as a United States Senator to demand that which is rightfully yours."

Swanson told the Senate the treaty gives America a well-balanced fleet for the first time; assures American naval supremacy in the western hemisphere and saves the taxpayers $1,000,000,000 in checking naval competition.

"Whether controlled by selfish, material interests or the broader and nobler purpose of promoting world peace and betterment," he concluded, "the best interests of the United States demand ratification of this treaty.

"From a military and selfish standpoint, the United States cannot afford to reject this treaty. From a higher and nobler purpose the treaty should have our approval . . . for the United States to reject this treaty would be for her to abandon her moral leadership in the world and declaring at the same time that she is an imperialistic nation seeking conquest and expansion.

MISTRUST FEARED

"It would create in the rest of the world an apprehension that we had sinister purposes to serve when we rejected the treaty, and would create a mistrust among all the nations of the world, and would result finally in political combinations against us to our detriment and menace. This situation would injure our foreign commerce and retard our material development."

Swanson took up in detail the dominant issue over the limitation of construction of cruisers and the complaint of American naval officers against the restriction upon eight-inch-gun ships for the United States Navy.

He noted that when the London conference opened Great Britain was in excess of parity with the United States on all kinds of cruisers by 8.1 while Japan was in excess of the 5-3 ratio by 4.3.

"If this treaty is ratified," he continued, "the United States can build five additional eight-inch-gun cruisers; Great Britain will have to scrap four of the Hawkins class, and Japan will only complete those now under construction. The ratio of eight-inch cruisers will then be, United States ten, Great Britain, 8.1 and Japan 6. There certainly can be no complaint as to this."

MINOR DIFFERENCES

Reviewing the complaints against limitation on these eight-inch-gun cruisers while Great Britain is allowed more of her favored six-inch-gun cruisers, Swanson concluded that "it would be folly to wreck this treaty on the difference in the military value between twenty-seven-inch guns and thirty-six-inch guns." He said this difference in the cruisers involves less than 3 per cent of the entire naval tonnage.

"The naval supremacy of the United States is firmly established in the Western Hemisphere by this treaty," he said. "It seems to me to be wise to accept this great advantage and not to risk the naval strength of America to the uncertainties that must exist in a policy of competitive building.

"The opponents of this treaty have claimed that it involves new construction to an amount of about $1,000,000,000 on the part of United States. This statement is entirely true. This new construction would, of course, be spread over a number of years. This new construction is due to the fact that for the past ten years we have lagged far behind Great Britain and Japan in new construction. This treaty in reality provides for a slowing-up in construction on the part of these two countries while the United States catches up.

SAVING CITED

"This may seem a large sum but it is just about one-half of what this country will actually have to spend in providing a navy which maintains the desired ratio if the present treaty is not approved.

"If this treaty is defeated, we must begin to replace our capital ships at once. The total cost of replacing the battleship fleet will be about $600,000,000. To build the tonnage in which we are short at present in carriers, cruisers, destroyers, and submarines with relation to other powers will require about $900,000,000.

"Also there must be provided additional funds for construction to meet the building of other powers which we may, of course, expect them to continue in case there is no treaty. This amount is, of course, indefinite, but will probably amount to at least $500,000,000 over a period of probably ten years. Hence it is perfectly reasonable to assume that new construction will cost this nation $1,000,000,000 more without a treaty than it will if the London treaty is ratified."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—Margery Menefee, 21 years of age, San Francisco, explained to steamship officials today she is not a stowaway.

Nevertheless, she was treated like one when found aboard the liner Malolo en route to Honolulu and transferred at sea to another ship which reached San Francisco today.

"I simply went aboard the Malolo last Saturday to say good-by to some friends," she said. "I was attacked by a fainting spell and lay down. When I came to the Malolo was out at sea."

Miss Menefee formerly attended the Westlake School for Girls in Los Angeles.

GRAPE SIGN-UP HOUR TO STRIKE

Last Day of Grace Dawns on State's Vineyardists

Plan Summarized in Simple Words for Skeptics

Final Drive to be Carried to Growers Today

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (Exclusive)—With twenty-four hours to go to the conclusion of the grape tonnage sign-up campaign for Federal farm relief, leaders of the industry and the signature drive today summarized the eleven items of the proposed control plan in words of approximately one syllable so there can be no misunderstanding on the part of growers who have held out.

Field workers equipped with this information will spend their last day tomorrow obtaining signatures. They will carry the message to unsigned growers with the simple warning:

CASE SUMMARIZED

"Go with the government or go it alone."

The eleven points are:

The contract is not a lien on land; it is not recorded; it does determine the surplus and its characteristics, creates the fund to buy the surplus, utilizes four organizations to merchandize the salable crop, provides a by-product organization for salvaging as much of the surplus as possible and guarantees that any other necessary organization may be created and become a part of the plan if and when the need arises.

PLAN EXPLAINED

The fund to finance the surplus will be raised by levying $1.50 per ton on fresh grapes and $5.25 a ton on raisins, and the purchase of the surplus will be accomplished by the California Grape Control Board offering cash to anyone willing to accept the price offered for a part or all of his grapes on the vine. Grapes thus bought may be disposed of in part to Fruit Industries, Inc., for by-product manufacture and part or all of the remainder shipped to market if prices are strengthened.

The four co-operatives for marketing are the California Vineyardists' Association, California Fruit Exchange, California Raisin Pool and the San Joaquin Grower-Shipper Association, each of which is in operation.

'PHONE GIRL AND LEEDS ON SEA TRIP

Ex-Queen of Switchboard and Heir to Millions Renewing Romance

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 8. (Exclusive)—A renewal of the romance of William B. Leeds, Jr., heir to the millions of the "tin plate king," and Miss Olive Hamilton, 24 years of age, former telephone operator in a hotel here, was seen by some today as the pair were among those aboard Leeds's $500,000 steam yacht, the Flying Fox, when it steamed out of port this morning.

The big yacht had been tied to a dock at the foot of Mayland avenue, Gardner's Basin, since July 4, and Miss Hamilton had been a frequent guest aboard, although registered at the Ritz Carlton Hotel. According to persons at the dock when the Flying Fox cleared at dawn, Miss Hamilton was aboard.

It was in Atlantic City that young Leeds met Miss Hamilton in 1927, where she added to her $90-a-month income as telephone operator by serving as a model in store windows.

Leeds was reported engaged to Miss Hamilton shortly after he was divorced from the former Princess Xenia in February, last, but the report was denied.

Constitution Towed Out to Have "Sticks" Stepped With Maritime Rites

BOSTON, July 8. (AP)—The historic frigate Constitution, conqueror of British warships and the Barbary pirates 125 years ago, today made her first voyage in thirty-three years. She was towed from the navy yard across the harbor to dry dock to further the task of her second restoration.

The trip took place almost 100 years to the day after the order to junk her which brought forth the memorable poem of Oliver Wendell Holmes, sarcastically advising "Ay, tear her tattered ensign down."

A mainmast, a mizzen and a foremast were ceremoniously stepped before the day was done. Before the great crane lifted the 104-foot mainmast into her Gov. Allen was scheduled to deposit a silver dollar under its foot. A penny of 1814 vintage was to be laid under the mizzen, and a gold piece under the foremast.

Tomorrow with her masts in place "Old Ironsides" will again look like her old self. Three years have been spent in restoring her. The work is 85 per cent accomplished.

JURY URGES REARREST OF RANCHER'S WIDOW

REDWOOD CITY, July 8. (AP)—Rearrest of Mrs. Minnie Roderick was recommended today by a Coroner's jury after inquest here of the death of her husband, Frank Roderick, La Honda rancher.

The jury suggested Mrs. Roderick be held until she proved her innocence by fair trial, and further that Ernest L. Hillebrand, neighboring rancher, be detained as a material witness. Roderick's body, a bullet hole through the brain, was found buried twenty-six feet deep in an abandoned well on his ranch. William Woodring had been charged with the murder.

PENNSYLVANIA MAN NAMED ELKS RULER

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 8. (AP)—Lawrence H. Rupp of Allentown, Pa., was elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks today, to succeed Col. Walter Andrews. J. Edward Masters of Charleroi, Pa., was re-elected Grand Secretary; Lloyd Maxwell of Chicago, Grand Treasurer, and James D. Richardson of Cincinnati, Grand Trustee. The new officers were elected at the first executive session of the sixty-sixth Grand Lodge reunion.

BRADDOCK'S DEFEAT WILL BE OBSERVED

PITTSBURGH, July 8. (AP)—Observance of the 175th anniversary of Braddock's defeat at the hands of the French and Indians on the Monongahela River began today at Braddock, a suburb. The spot where Gen. Braddock and his British and Colonial troops were crushed by the French and their Indian allies teemed with preparations for a huge pageant.

STATE ARGUES AGAINST DAVIS

Supreme Court Hears Views on Keyes's Aide

Attack Made on New Trial Granted Defendant

Tribunal to Take Decision Under Advisement

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—Oral arguments on the State's appeal from the Appellate Court judgment granting a new trial to Harold (Buddy) Davis, former chief deputy under Dist.-Atty. Keyes of Los Angeles, convicted of bribery, were presented today before the Supreme court.

Davis was convicted of "going easy" on certain defendants in the Julian Petroleum Corporation overissue scandal.

STATE'S CONTENTION

The State, represented by Dep. Atty.-Gen. Richards, contended Davis was "tarred with the same brush" as others convicted in the Keyes bribery scandal.

He said while "it may not have been proved" that Davis had asked Ed Rosenberg, Julian defendant, for a bribe through Ben Getzoff, the go-between in the case, it had been proved Davis had solicited Getzoff directly.

This, Richards asserted, made him as guilty as the others, regardless of whether any money had been paid.

Defense, through Attorney Geisler, replied Getzoff's testimony was not corroborated, contending he had turned State's evidence to obtain probation.

TECHNICAL PLEA

Geisler maintained even if it had been proved Davis received money from Getzoff the mere reception of money did not constitute a bribe unless it be shown there was criminal intent.

He described Davis's conviction as a "gross miscarriage of justice."

GLASS JAR GIVES CLEW TO GRAHAM

Dry Wheat on Mountain Top May Have Been Left by Missing Flyer

CEDAR CITY (Utah) July 8. (AP) A pint glass jar full of dry wheat found about fifteen miles from this city and several miles from Maurice Graham's wrecked airplane today furnished searching parties a new clew in their efforts to locate Graham's body.

Michael E. Stopp, a carpenter, found the jar today and brought it here. He telegraphed to Mrs. Graham, now in Los Angeles, and received a reply, he said, saying Graham always carried a bottle of dry wheat in his plane for use as food in case of emergency, due to its unusual sustaining powers.

Western Air Express officials, Graham's employers when he disappeared during a snowstorm last January, also were notified of the find. Stopp said he does not know the exact distance from Cedar City to the spot where he found the bottle, but indicated it is on a mountain much higher than where the plane was located several weeks ago.

Searchers expressed the belief Graham carried the bottle of wheat following the crash of his plane and he scaled the mountain in an attempt to locate a town.

VANNUTELLI GIVEN LAST SACRAMENT

Aged Cardinal Receives Extreme Unction After He Suffers Relapse

VATICAN CITY, July 8. (AP)—Cardinal Vennutelli, dean of the Sacred College, today received holy communion and extreme unction.

The cardinal, who is 93 years of age, overtaxed his strength in church ceremonies on Ascension Day, and became very ill yesterday. In the evening he was reported somewhat improved, but during the night his heart weakened.

After receiving the last sacraments, Cardinal Vannutelli asked the Pope send him the apostolic benediction. Pope Pius, through Mgr. Pizzardo, Papal Undersecretary retary of State, replied he gladly acceded to the request and was praying fervently for the cardinal's recovery.

COPPER STOCK FRAUD ACCUSATIONS DENIED

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—City Magistrate Ewald and five others indicted for using the mails to defraud in the sale of stock of the Cotter Butte Mines of Butte, Mont., pleaded not guilty today and were admitted to bail. Those indicted are the magistrate, his brother, Dr. Louis A. Ewald; Harry C. Cotter, president of the mine company; Frank E. Mitterlechner, secretary-treasurer; Francis E. Schirp, promoter of the enterprise, and Frank M. Bins, mine manager.

WOMEN PRISONERS MAKE BABY LAYETTE

SAN RAFAEL, July 8. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Kavanaugh, convict mother of Los Angeles, and her day-old baby daughter were reported doing nicely today at a hospital here. Kavanaugh, like his 24-year-old wife, is in San Quentin penitentiary for a theater robbery.

The baby has a complete layette made by the women inmates of the prison.

DUCHESS PRAYS FOR MALE CHILD

Duke of York's Wife Wants Direct Throne Heir

Royal Family Also Anxious for Son This Time

Mother Will Have Daughter to Herself Then

LONDON, July 8. (NANA)—Just now the Duchess of York is an object of very special interest to her royal relatives. They are most earnestly hoping that the child expected soon will be a boy, and so is the Duchess.

If the hopes of the royal family are realized there will be a male heir to the throne in the direct line of succession. But the Duchess is hoping for a boy for other and more human reasons.

It has been one of her trials since the birth of her daughter that she has had by no means a free hand in the upbringing of her child. Circumstances almost forbade that she should. The Princess Elizabeth was, and at the moment is, in the direct line of succession to the throne. And this being so, the sovereign is entitled by custom, tradition and actual law to supervise her upbringing and education.

QUEEN RULES CHILD

From the moment of the birth of the Princess, Queen Mary has had probably more to say regarding the rearing of the Princess than the child's mother.

It was Queen Mary who appointed the two nurses in whose charge the Princess was placed. The infant was even dressed as Queen Mary wished. Lady Strathmore, mother of the Duchess of York, made a cap for the baby to wear. It was trimmed with blue. The trimming was taken off by the Duchess at the suggestion—it was of course a command—of her mother-in-law.

And when the question of playmates arose, that was decided by Queen Mary. Among the married relatives of the Duchess there are several who have children the Duchess thought would make suitable playmates for her child. But this suggestion was promptly negatived by Queen Mary. The playmate of the Princess Elizabeth had to be of royal birth, so the only playmates she has had are the two boys of the Princess Mary.

FAMILIES COOL

Between the royal family and the family of the Duchess the friendliest of relations do not exist. Members of the family of the Duchess do not come much into contact with the royal family.

This coolness is mainly due to the pride of the Earl of Strathmore, who regards the family of which he is the head, with all its great and ancient traditions, as quite the equal of the royal family. And though he has always treated the head of the royal family with respect he has never made any attempt to conceal his opinion that in the matter of descent his own family perhaps possesses a longer and more honorable lineage than the family into which his daughter married.

King George has never troubled himself about what the Earl of Strathmore may think about such a matter, but Queen Mary does, and she resents his attitude. For this reason she has probably emphasized her authority over the Princess Elizabeth in a greater degree than she would otherwise.

BOY WILL FULFILL HOPE

It has been trying to the gentle-souled Duchess; she would not dream of falling out with her husband's family, but she did feel that she should have more authority over her own child.

But if a boy is born to the Duchess now, this will alter her position in regard to her daughter and bring her greater happiness. If the Duchess has a boy, the Princess Elizabeth will cease to be of first-rate importance in the royal family and the boy will take her place; he will attract all the attention of his royal relatives.

If this happens the Duchess will regain control of the upbringing of her daughter and the mother instinct in her will be satisfied. And more than that, in giving birth to a boy the Duchess would feel that she had performed the duty expected of her and had fulfilled the hopes of her royal relatives.

Lightning Kills Man in Arizona

PHOENIX, July 8. (AP)—Lightning accompanying general rainfall in Arizona today killed an aged ranch house caretaker at Howard Lake, thirty miles northwest of Flagstaff, and caused a fire at Prescott which destroyed a two-story residence.

Thunderstorms and heavy showers were reported throughout the southeastern section of the State.

NEPHEW OF BELL GETS SECRET RENO DIVORCE

RENO, July 8. (Exclusive)—Josephine Hutchinson, New York actress, who gave up her husband and her home two years ago for a minor role in Eva Le Gallienne's troupe, was divorced today by Robert W. Bell, a nephew of the late Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone.

So anxious was he for absolute secrecy that young Bell's lawyer filed his divorce under a code number and his name was not placed in public record. His suit was heard in chambers and he was immediately granted a decree.

SEA-TOWED GLIDER HANGS UP RECORD

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—A wireless message from Capt. Stuparich of the liner Saturnia revealed today the glider Claibourne Foster stayed in the air eight hours yesterday, believed to be the longest ocean flight ever made in a towed glider. At the end of eight hours a faulty shock cord connecting the liner and the glider caused the little flying boat to plunge into the waves, from which it and its two occupants were saved with the help of a lifeboat.

DOYLE MESSAGE PURPORTED

First Word from Spiritland Declared by Spokane Medium Received by Her

SPOKANE (Wash.) July 8. (AP)—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's first message from the spirit world was intercepted today by Rev. Cora Kincannon Smith, for many years a medium here, she asserts in an interview published by the Spokesman Review.

"There may be a lot of fool mediums who will claim they received a message from Sir Arthur," she said. "I do not claim that. I received a message this morning that no doubt was intended for his family."

Miss Smith had written down the message as follows:

"Am greatly pleased with this strange, new country. It is more beautiful than I had ever dreamed. Through the golden light around me I behold the faces of my loved ones who were waiting for me.

"They knew the day of my arrival and greeted me with their smiles and love. Their arms were filled with my favorite flowers and now in the land where they never fade he is resting and is supremely happy in the presence of the beloved son who gave proof to him there was another country."

She explained the change from the first to the third person by saying the closing part of the concluding sentence evidently had come from a spectator in the spirit world.

SIR ARTHUR TO REST NEAR HIS HOME

LONDON, July 8. (AP)—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle will be buried on Friday in the garden of his home at Crowborough, Sussex, a few yards from the outdoor study where the creator of Sherlock Holmes spent many days devising the plots of his stories.

Lady Conan Doyle and the family, in choosing the site of the tomb, made plain they wished the funeral to take place within the grounds of the estate. There will be no church ritual and the burial ceremony will be entirely conducted at the side of the grave.

A memorial service for the author and spiritualist leader will be held in Albert Hall, London, on Sunday by two London spiritual societies.

Many believers hope at this meeting the spirit of Sir Arthur will communicate with them. Several prominent spiritualists will speak.

REBELS GIVE CHINA ARMY HARD FIGHT

Nationalists Handicapped by Battle With Bandits in Turning Back Foes

SHANGHAI, July 8. (AP)—Harassed by increasing banditry ravaging its southern provinces, the Nationalist government fought hard today to turn back invading rebel armies from the north.

A new Nationalist offensive was reported in Shantung Province to repel the northerners, who recently captured Tsinan and swept on southward and eastward in a great arc reaching from Yenchow to Weihsien. Hostilities began near Weihsien, the government troops striving to recapture Tsinan and drive the rebels back across the Yellow River. Although attacked fiercely by rebels in Honan and Shantung, the government was forced to give heed to increasing banditry ravaging its southern provinces.

Seven hundred brigands were killed in Northwestern Kiangsi, but other hordes ravaged Hupeh, Hunan, Chekiang and Fukien provinces.

Fostered by famine, lawlessness has spread over Chekiang, accompanied by suffering and rice riots, while in adjacent Fukien, bandits and rebels forced the provincial authorities to appeal for aid to the imperiled central government.

Theatrical Man Kills Himself

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—Lindley Cook 38 years of age, theatrical producer, was found dead tonight in the home of his brother-in-law in Rockville Center with a paper bag containing a chloroform-soaked handkerchief over his head.

A police surgeon said he had committed suicide. It is believed he was despondent over theatrical losses.

TAXICAB DRIVERS WIN LIQUOR-CASE APPEAL

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) July 8. (AP) The Arkansas Supreme Court has absolved taxicab drivers of guilt as transporters of liquor when a passenger carries intoxicants without their consent or knowledge.

The question was decided in an opinion in which the court reverser judgment of the Hot Springs Circuit Court. The lower court had upheld an order of Malvern Municipal Court fining Ernest Henson, a taxi driver, $100 on a charge of transporting liquor. Henson's passenger pleaded guilty to possessing liquor.

BISHOP O'LEARY DIES

DAYTON (O.) July 8. (AP)—Bishop Louis J. O'Leary, 53 years of age, of the Catholic church, stationed at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, Eastern Canada, died at a hospital here today.

GRAVE HE DUG CLAIMS MAN

Civil War Veteran Has Last Resting Place Ready Twenty-one Years

MILWAUKEE, July 8. (AP)—The grave he dug in 1909 today claimed the body of Francis (Daddy) Collins, 103-year-old veteran of the Civil War.

Collins had lived in fear he would die without a grave in readiness. So he purchased a $4000 lot, dug his own resting place and lavished hundreds of dollars on the plat for landscaping.

GERMANS SCOUT BRIAND SCHEME

"Matter for League" Said to be Attitude

BERLIN, July 8. (AP)—Metropolitan dailies professing to be able to give a reliable forecast of the German government's reply to Briand's pan-Europa memorandum state Briand's proposition is regarded as coming within the purview of the League of Nations.

All proposals of this nature, it is believed in Germany, should be submitted to the League in order that duplication of work might be avoided. The points of agreement which Germany regards most important, these papers state, comprise common economic and tariff questions as well as agricultural problems.

RESCUES IN AIR CRASH REPORTED

Pilot of Capsized Flying Boat Sees Two of Eight on Board Picked Up

BERLIN, July 8. (AP)—Pilot Kuring of the Dornier Wal flying boat that capsized last night after a forced descent into the sea near Bonhol, Denmark, telephoned the Lufthansa offices this evening he saw two persons rescued and believes three others also were saved. Eight were on the flying boat.

As the steamer which picked up survivors was making only a little headway through heavy seas, she is not expected to reach port for another twenty-four hours, and the number and names of the rescued will be definitely learned only then.

Kuring said the snapping of the crankshaft of the two hindmost motors, arranged in tandem on the upper deck, forced the flying boat down. Large waves swamped it.

Boulder Power Unavailable to New Mexico

SANTA FE (N. M.) July 8. (AP)—Efforts of New Mexico to obtain an allocation of Boulder Dam power have met an obstacle in a ruling of the Interior Department which officials say will prevent the State from participating.

Francis Wilson, Interstate River Commissioner for New Mexico, reported to Gov. Dillon the State had been refused the right to obtain an option and only a binding contract for power could be entered into at this time. Wilson said this put the dam power out of the reach of the State.

Girl Injured in Drain Pipe

QUINCY (Ill.) July 8. (Exclusive) Bernice Trine, 11 years of age, was injured, perhaps fatally, today when she was carried 150 feet through an outlet pipe and dashed against a rocky hillside at the municipal swimming pool.

All swimmers had been ordered from the pool and it was being drained. Attendants did not see the girl who dived into the pool and was sucked into the outlet pipe. Passers-by saw her body come from the mouth of the pipe, plunge down a thirty-foot wooden chute and to the rocks below.

Idleness Grows in Great Britain

LONDON, July 8. (AP)—The Secretary of the Ministry of Labor announced today the total number of unemployed in Great Britain on June 30, last, reached 1,890,600. This was 75,253 more than the week before and 748,218 more than a year ago.

Congressman Hurt in Crash

CHICAGO, July 8. (AP)—Representative Lampert of Wisconsin suffered a broken collar bone and other injuries today when his automobile collided with a coal truck. Hospital attaches said his hurts might be serious, but not fatal.

TARIFF COMMISSION POSTS CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—Pending appointment of the new Tariff Commission as called for under the Tariff Act of 1930, the sugar and other investigations ordered by the Senate will not be undertaken actively. President Hoover has under consideration a list of names for the reorganized commission and is expected by Senate Republican leaders to submit some of them to the Senate this week, or at least before the special session ends.

Ziegfeld Beauty Gives Up Reno Residence to Make Picture in Hollywood

RENO, July 8. (Exclusive)—Paulette Goddard James, Ziegfeld beauty, has been in Reno for a little more than two months planning on a divorce from Peter James, a former broker, but she will not go through with the divorce at this time, for she has had to go to Hollywood to comply with terms of a contract for four pictures.

The former Paulette Goddard lacked only about three weeks of completing her three-month residence in Reno when the call came to go to Hollywood to take part in a new picture. She does not know whether she will have an opportunity to complete her Nevada residence, or will have to give it up and begin all over again after she is through making pictures.

COTTON AREA CUT REPORTED

Acreage Less on 1st Inst. Than Year Ago

Production Forecast to Be Issued in August

Department of Agriculture Gives Data by States

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—Cotton in cultivation in the United States on July 1 was announced today by the Department of Agriculture as aggregating 45,815,000 acres, compared with 47,067,000 acres, the revised area in cultivation a year ago, and 45,981,000 acres picked last year, when a crop of 14,821,499 equivalent 500-pound bales of lint was ginned.

The department issued no forecast of indicated production, as that is forbidden by law, and will not make any production forecast until their August report, which will be based on the acreage in cultivation July 1, less the ten-year average abandonment in each State after July 1.

The area in cultivation July 1 this year was: Virginia, 90,000 acres; North Carolina, 1,724,000; South Carolina, 2,205,000; Georgia, 3,818,000; Florida, 106,000; Missouri, 383,000; Tennessee, 1,227,000; Alabama, 3,652,000; Mississippi, 1,227,000; Louisiana, 2,071,000; Texas, 17,500,000; Oklahoma, 4,076,000; Arkansas, 4,012,000; New Mexico, 133,000; Arizona, 212,000; California, 273,000, and all other States, 19,000.

The acreage for Lower California, Old Mexico, is 101,000, which is not included in the California figures nor in the United States total.

I.C.C. Ruling Will Increase Earnings $12,000,000

Eastern Railroads Allowed New Classifications

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Railroads operating in western trunk-line territory, which extends west from Lake Michigan to the Rocky Mountains and northward from Kansas and Missouri to the Canadian border, were authorized today to establish increased rates on classified freight.

The increased annual earnings expected to result from the Interstate Commerce Commission ruling are estimated in railroad circles at $12,000,000.

At the same time, railroads in eastern territory were accorded permission to institute a new system of class rates applying over the northeast quarter of the United States, which will in general result in increased earnings.

The western trunk-line rate revision will be effective November 1, while the eastern revision will be made effective within four months.

Ambition says: "Make haste."
Caution says: "Make haste slowly."

The experience of three generations of our savers amends that to read: "Make haste wisely."

They have found in our 6% facilities this desirable combination: the more rapid financial progress that Ambition desires . . . and the rigidly maintained protection that Caution demands.

Cautious people look behind the 6% interest paid by Pacific States Savings and see these confidence inspiring factors:

The largest resources of any building and loan association in the United States . . . A financial statement free from bank indebtedness and with a furniture and fixture and real estate account carried at $1 each . . . A voluntary cash and bond reserve totaling 5 million dollars in addition to other cash on hand . . . An invested capital totaling three million dollars of which surplus and undivided profits are over 3½ times guarantee capital stock . . . And the added protection inherent in our loan rate of 7% which is attracting to us the choicest first lien collateral being offered any California building and loan association.

Consider this many sided protection while July still offers you, through Pacific States Savings, the opportunity to embrace in your financial plans both adequate yield and adequate safety.

TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS PLANNED

Newport Beach Illuminated Water Fete Saturday

Twelfth Annual Event Will Have New Features

Army Antiaircraft Beams Loaned for Spectacle

NEWPORT BEACH, July 8.—With new features, some of them never attempted before in any event, the twelfth annual Tournament of Lights, the West's greatest and most unique illuminated water spectacle, will be staged in Newport Bay Saturday evening.

As the city has just completed its latest $200,000 improvement at the entrance to the harbor, this year's lights carnival is also being made a civic celebration of this latest step in realization of an improved harbor—a step that has provided a channel at the entrance 250 feet wide and fifteen feet deep at low tide.

PLANE OVER PARADE

In addition to the parade of gorgeously illuminated craft of many kinds, from canoes to cruisers, the Richfield Oil Company's plane, with its Neon sign visible from the ground, will again fly overhead during the parade, which will start at 8 p.m. and continue until 10 o'clock.

A new feature will be the playing of great Army antiaircraft searchlights from Fort MacArthur, and something said to have never been tried before will be the manner in which the musical part of the program will be given. The music of Everett Hoagland's orchestra playing at the Rendezvous Ballroom, Balboa, will be broadcast by remote control by radio station KGER, Long Beach, to three sets on floats in various sections of the parade, and given to the public through three public-address systems. Interspersed between the orchestral numbers will be announcements of the tournament.

General Chairman H. L. Sherman of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce committee, which is again sponsoring the event, has mapped out the course of the parade, which will begin at the western end of Balboa Island, proceeding easterly along the south of that island, then turning toward Balboa Peninsula and proceeding westward along the shores of the peninsula, past Balboa, East Newport Bay Island and Newport, as far as Nineteenth street, where it will turn north to its eastern end, where it will disband.

SEEN FROM MANY POINTS

The spectacle will thus be visible to spectators on almost any part of the bay shore in Newport, Balboa, Balboa Island, Corona, Del Mar, Lido Isle, Bay Island, Harbor Island and Newport Heights. It will pass close to the bay shore at nearly all points and will be so arranged that the decorated and most brilliantly lighted part of the floats and boats will be toward the shore.

Many organizations never before in the parade will have floats entered this year, according to a list of entries given out today by W. L. Jordan, chairman of the entries committee. Through their chambers of commerce, Long Beach and San Clemente are two of the coast cities represented for the first time.

G. C. Macleod, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, is active in promoting the Tournament of Lights.

SAN FERNANDO CLUBS TO HEAR CLAGSTONE

SAN FERNANDO, July 8.—Paul Clagstone, manager of the western division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will be in San Fernando Friday, the 25th inst., to address a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, according to word received by C. C. Arrowsmith, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Clagstone had been scheduled to speak here on two different occasions but both engagements had to be canceled because of a conflict of dates.

SAN FERNANDO POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW LESS

SAN FERNANDO, July 8.—Business at the local postoffice for the fiscal year just ended is about $2000 less than that done in the fiscal year preceding, it is announced by Postmaster H. C. Caldwell. Receipts for the year totaled $34,847 as compared with $36,904 last fiscal year. The decrease is due to the general business inactivity, it is stated.

CANDIDATE IN SHERIFF RACE DIES

John Mason, Wet Aspirant to Imperial County Post, Drops Dead at Brawley

BRAWLEY, July 8.—John Mason, 72 years of age, one of seven candidates in the contest for Imperial county Sheriff this year, dropped dead in the yard near his ranch home northwest of this city, early this afternoon.

The body was found a few minutes after he had expired by employees at the ranch. Physicians were summoned immediately. They gave heart trouble as the probable cause. Evidently the aged man had been stricken as he crossed the farm yard and had died almost instantly.

Mason has been a resident of the valley for seventeen years and was defeated in the race for Sheriff eight years ago. He was running for office this year as a wet candidate, and was regarded as the most colorful candidate in the county, due to his pronounced views on prohibition, marriage and other subjects. He was married at one time but has been separated from his wife for many years, and little is known here regarding other family connections.

RANCH HOME BOUGHT FOR RETIRED PASTOR

NEWHALL, July 8.—Rev. Wolcott H. Evans has retired from church work after sixteen years of service. He was pastor of the Community Presbyterian Church here. In his last church service at which he preached his farewell sermon representatives from fraternal organizations, the Woman's Club, Kiwanis Club and other civic and religious bodies were present. In token of the worth of Mr. Evans townspeople have purchased a small avocado ranch near Vista in San Diego county and presented it to the minister and his wife for a home. The couple will move on the place at once.

"MAMMY" SINGERS RAPPED

Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, U.S.C. President, in Address, Says They Must Mend Ways

PASADENA, July 8.—Popular-song writers and "mammy" singers must mend their ways unless they are to kill public appreciation of good music, Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, told 100 delegates to the annual convention of the Music Teachers' Association of California which opened last night in the Hotel Huntington.

The university executive decried nastily worded songs and asserted that clean, but not necessarily high-brow words must displace vulgar effusions.

"It is high time," Dr. Von KleinSmid declared, "for musicians to do their bit to force radio broadcasters to stop playing trash."

Alexander Stewart, past president of the association, who presided today, pointed to Dr. Von KleinSmid's words as the keynote of the convention, which closes Thursday night.

Addressing his remarks to piano teachers among the delegates, George Liebling of New York, pupil of Franz Liszt, described the teaching technique of the great composer.

Talks were made also by Franklin Provo of the Pasadena Community Playhouse, Abbie Morton Jamison of the association's executive committee, Dean Walter F. Skeele of the college of music, U.S.C., and Elizabeth Simpson of Alameda.

A feature of last night's banquet was a demonstration of the theramin, a radio-type instrument that is played by waving one's hands in the air a foot or more from the mechanism.

Mrs. Mary T. Wood-Arfwedson of San Diego, attended the banquet in a dress of point lace which was worn at George Washington's inauguration. The dress is 154 years old and will be given to the Smithsonian Institution.

TWO BURNED IN OIL WELL BLAST

Explosion, Believed Due to Friction, at Ventura

Chanslor-Canfield Midway Rig Blazes Four Hours

Dale Holbert and George W. Herrine Badly Injured

VENTURA, July 8. (AP)—An explosion, presumably resulting from friction, early today set fire to the Hobson A-2 well of the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company in a new field above Seacliff and seriously burned two men. The blaze was extinguished after four hours.

Dale Holbert and George W. Herrine, both of Los Angeles, were burned and taken to Los Angeles hospitals. They may recover.

The well, a test project to determine the direction of the oil structure at Seacliff, was down 7479 feet and was about to be opened for test when the explosion occurred. A steel derrick prevented destruction of the ground work of the well, but it is feared the fire has become subterranean and further drilling may be suspended for an indefinite period.

NOMINATING PETITIONS CIRCULATED

Hoping That Incorporation Election at Gardena Will Succeed, Aspirants Move

GARDENA, July 8.—Nominating petitions to fill city offices to be created in the incorporation election, set for August 5, next, if successful, were placed in circulation here today. The election involving territory lying west of Vermont avenue between Nigger Slough on the south and extending to Carter avenue on the north, with the McDonald tract which was recently annexed to Torrance and Western City, forming the western boundary line, was called by the County Board of Supervisors following a hearing yesterday. No protests were entered at the hearing and civic bodies of the district are generally indorsing the move. It is based, according to its supporters, upon opposition to the Hollywood-Palos Verdes parkway project and upon the desire for a greater degree of harmony between the communities of Gardena, Moneta and Strawberry Park, which comprise the incorporation territory.

Action asking the incorporation gives Gardena as the name selected for the proposed city, which would be of the sixth class, with a population estimated at 3000. The assessed valuation is $4,000,000 and the territory involved covers an area about two and one-half miles in length and a mile and one-half in width. It adjoins the Los Angeles shoe-string strip, lying east from Vermont avenue, and a large portion of the business section of what is now Gardena, including its postoffice, lies within the Los Angeles area.

Candidates for whom nominating petitions have been prepared are: For City Trustee, Wayne A. Bogart, Earl Stewart, Charles Hale, S. M. Seeverm, A. A. Bamford and Michael Riveley. For City Clerk: Robert Pratt, Milton Smith and Anna Mae Elliton. Nominating petitions for the office of City Treasurer, the only remaining elective office, have not been prepared. The petitions are returnable on the 16th inst., it is understood.

The tract, with the exception of the Western City district, which is subject to an election to determine annexation to Hawthorne on the 14th inst., and Lawndale, which will vote on annextion to Hawthorne on August 15, is the last remaining unincorporated territory in this immediate vicinity.

Landlord Says Man Will Not Pay or Move

AZUSA, July 8.—Refusing to pay rent or to move caused the arrest yesterday of Lincoln Stann on charges of disturbing the peace, to which he pleaded not guilty when he appeared before Judge J. O. Durrell in Police Court.

The charges were preferred against the aged man by Claude Buzard, owner of the property, who told officers that Stann started a battle in front of his store and threw rocks at him.

Judge Durrell set the trial for next Thursday in local court.

Holiday Throng Orderly Around Glendora Hills

GLENDORA, July 8.—More automobiles entered the San Gabriel Canyon over the week-end than any other time on record, according to N. E. Petersen, district ranger, who announced today that 2500 cars, aggregating 10,000 people, were in the canyon.

He also stated that approximately 9200 persons were picnicking in San Antonio Canyon and 3000 in San Dimas Canyon.

An outstanding fact disclosed by the rangers' registers showed that for the first time on record the Fourth of July was celebrated in the mountains and canyons of this vicinity with no violation of any kind on the books.

"THAR'S GOLD IN THEM HILLS"

But Just Where? Is Question Agitating Ventura County Since Department of Commerce Reports Mine in That Area, But Does Not State Location

VENTURA, July 8.—The lost mines of Ophir and their mystery paled into insignificance today beside the search for Ventura county's only producing gold mine. First clew that the county has a mine in operation and yielding the precious metal came in the mail today in a report from the Department of Commerce, Washington.

Listing one mine in the county, the report said that thirty-five tons of ore, old tailings, etc., 22.86 ounces of fine gold and six fine ounces of silver, had been produced during 1929. The total value of the output was estimated at $476. Location and operators of the mine were not listed.

Old-timers, now few and far apart, recall the days when this mountainous county was the scene of an intensive search for precious metal. In a few, very few spots, gold and silver rewarded the prospectors. Most of the searchers, after vain tramping and shoveling, trekked into more promising hills or returned to the plow or saddle.

Reports of sporadic placer or shaft mining continue to trickle back to civilization through the winding canyons of the barren back country, however, and every now and then some bewhiskered individual staggered out from the recesses of the hills to throw a poke of gold dust upon the bar and call for drinks for the house. (This was before prohibition days.)

Gold mining has been considered as extinct as bed-warmers in this county for several decades, according to inquiries made today.

"I've never heard of the mine," Charles Petit, County Surveyor, said. "It is probably in one of the side canyons of Piru Creek."

Ed M. Sheridan, pioneer and historian, declared that the news of the mine came to him for the first time. "It may be located on Frazier Mountain near the Kern county line."

"We know nothing of a gold mine here," C. C. Thoms, deputy State mining supervisor at Santa Paula, said. "It must be located back in the hills."

The State Bureau of Mines at Los Angeles, called over long distance, was unable to throw any light upon the location or owners of the gold vein.

"We do not know where it is, and if we did we would not be able to inform you, since information of this kind is confidential where there is only one mine in a county," an official said.

"Thar's gold in them thar hills" not far from here, it must be true, since the Department of Commerce has data upon its output. Just where no one this side of Washington seems to know.

MEALY BUG ENEMY ARRIVES

Leppomastix, Brought from Africa by H. Compere of Citrus Experiment Station, Survives Trip

RIVERSIDE, July 8.—Returning today from his latest expedition to the far corners of the earth in connection with an unrelenting warfare against destructive insects, Harold Compere of the entomology department of the University of California Citrus Experiment Station here brought back from Abyssinia a beneficial parasite whose savings annually to growers in one county are expected to more than offset the entire cost of the expedition, which lasted six months.

The leppomastix, sole survivor of the collection of insects garnered by Compere, is the dread enemy of the pseudococcus citri or mealy bug, which is a minor pest in the State, operating principally in San Diego county, and if the expectations of scientists are realized, citrus growers o fthat county will benefit yearly through operations of this parasitic insect.

Compere's work in the African land was crowned with success so far as obtaining specimens and knowledge of black scale was concerned, but with the exception of the mealy bug enemy, all of his specimens died before he had reached Suez on the return trip. Sixteen of the parasites which he had collected and packed so painstakingly were of the beneficial types in that they thrive on the injurious insects. Six of these were new species for black scale control. Specimens of the parasites which succumbed to the equatorial heat will be brought to this country later through arrangements with foreign scientists and officials who will collect and ship them by the most rapid means, making use of the Imperial Airways mail planes and fastest steamers to Croydon, Eng. From the English airport they will be rushed to fast ocean liners equipped with airplanes which will save several days. Arriving in New York the specimens will be transported across country by air mail.

SEARCH FOR SAN DIEGO GIRL SHIFTS

Genevieve Naud, Missing Since Thursday, Reported Seen Below Border

SAN DIEGO, July 8.—Search for Genevieve Naud, 17-year-old former State College co-ed mysteriously missing from her home here since Thursday, shifted to below the border today, following the report that she was seen Sunday in Tecate, police said.

Although they were not positive that the missing girl was in the border city, they ordered a search below the line. Meanwhile Los Angeles police are aiding local authorities in the search for the young woman at the request of police here.

She mailed a letter to her mother from Long Beach Friday but disappeared again after posting the letter. The missive has been the only tangible clew to the girl's whereabouts.

Sting of Bee Plays Part in Traffic Mixup

BURBANK, July 8.—A bee sting on the nose indirectly caused the wrecking of an automobile sedan and an ornamental light standard on San Fernando Road near Cypress avenue. The bee lighted on the nose of Mrs. Dorothy Bennett of 10756 Foothill Boulevard as she was motoring on the highway. In an effort to dislodge the bee she made a severe swipe, turning the automobile from its course and into the light standard. Mrs. Bennett was not injured beyond the results of the sudden assault of the insect.

THREE AT LANCASTER SEEK JUSTICE OFFICE

LANCASTER, July 8. — There is to be a three-cornered race for the office of justice of the peace in Antelope Valley, to be settled at the August election. Candidates are John F. McNeil, incumbent; Samuel J. Finn, insurance man, and R. C. Saunders, realty broker. Judge McNeil is a ranchman. He was recently appointed to the office to succeed Judge Bulkley, who was appointed a bailiff in the Los Angeles Federal Court, after years of service as a justice of the peace in this section.

REDLANDS FOLKS STUDIOUS

Gain of 100 Per Cent Shown in Circulation of Books at A. K. Smiley Library, Report Shows

REDLANDS, July 8.—The people of this city are a studious lot, the annual meeting of the A. K. Smiley library board today developed, for during the year 240,253 books were circulated from the library, a gain of 22,370 over last year. It is a 100 per cent gain. There are now 9878 card holders or 70 per cent of the population holds cards, Miss Mabel Inness, librarian, reported.

There are 55,235 volumes in the library and some of them are almost invaluable. The beautiful building and all the contents are gifts, the taxes of the people have been used to maintain and operate the library only.

More than 29,000 pictures and 500 pamphlets were circulated and there was an average of 400 people at the library each day to sit a few minutes and read some magazine or other publication.

During the year the staff sent out 6000 reserve notices and 7000 overdue notices. This is a job in itself. Also $2438 was collected at the desk for fines, for 5-cent pay books and for books that were lost or damaged. There were 9000 books repaired at the library during the year, which is just about thirty per day.

Miss Inness believes that a large part of the increase in circulation was due to the fact that there was more money this year with which to purchase new books, gifts that were made to the endowment, and also direct gifts for new books.

The reference room was filled with students all during the school months, the high school and university students, the Community Players' Music Association and the civic committees all using it freely. Sixty books were borrowed from other libraries for the patrons of this library.

The catalogue department cataloged a total of 4506 books during the year. There were 1242 books withdrawn, making the net gain in number of books during the year 3264. The children's department of the library showed a most remarkable amount of business. There were 67,378 juvenile books circulated and another 23,000 at deposit stations, making a total of 90,000 books circulated to the children. They had a vacation reading tour during the summer, a journey to all countries by books, and sixty-four completed the tour with passports vised at all countries.

The library now has 55,235 volumes and 30,191 pamphlets and is receiving 273 pamphlets. There were ninety-two fortnightly club papers catalogued during the year.

Deposit stations were maintained at four schools and the circulation from them was 23,214, a gain of 3000 over last year. They are open eight months in each year for just two hours each week.

GLENDALE WILL PRESENT FETE

First Annual Prosperity Pageant Announced

Pessimism and Inactivity Will be Routed

September 6-15 Dates for Display of Optimism

GLENDALE, July 8.—Glendale today announces her first annual Prosperity Pageant to be held here September 6-15, for the general purpose of trade exploitation and acquainting the housewives with the many products that are manufactured and distributed in this vicinity.

The management frankly hopes by this means to dispel, as much as possible, an existing feeling of pessimism, due to lack of action from the buyers' angle, and every effort will be made to create a better understanding between the manufacturer, retailer and ultimate consumer.

Committees have been appointed and are already at work to make the pageant a success.

The Chamber of Commerce, with L. H. Myers as secretary-manager, is co-operating with the pageant officials, and the leaders of Glendale's business district, have signified a willingness to take an active part in making this venture an annual event.

The advance sale of space is reported as good. More than half the exhibition booths are already sold, with prospects that the building will have to be enlarged, to take care of those who desire to exhibit their merchandise.

The amusement angle of the pageant is being developed along with other features and many new attractions are promised.

FALL FROM TREE FATAL TO CHILD

Barbara Harriett Phelps, With Brea Picnic Party at Camp Baldy, Succumbs

BREA, July 8.—Death yesterday played the role of an uninvited guest in a party of gay Brea folk camping at Camp Baldy, and today the body of Barbara Harriett Phelps, 11-year-old daughter of Robert Phelps of this city, is awaiting the result of an inquest to be held at Pomona.

The little girl suffered a fractured skull when she fell twenty feet from a tree to a creek bed, striking her head on a rock. Following the mishap, the girl was hurried to a hospital at Pomona, where death ensued.

The body is to be removed today to the McAulay & Suters funeral parlors, Fullerton, whence last rites are to be announced. She leaves her parents and two brothers.

Council Repeals City Ordinance on Oil Drilling

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 8.—When petitions which had been filed last Thursday with the City Clerk were presented officially to the City Council last night asking them to repeal an ordinance or call a special election, the Council members decided to repeal the ordinance recently adopted regulating oil drilling within the city.

Mayor S. R. Bowen stated that since the petition carried the signatures of 375 registered voters it was advisable to repeal the ordinance, and Councilman Conrad proposed that an election be called in September placing the matter before the voters. City Attorney Blodgett was instructed to draft papers calling for the special election in September, at which time the voters will have the privilege of voting intelligently on the proposition.

There are four matters involved in the ordinance, and they will be voted upon proposition by proposition. It calls for steel derricks within 125 feet of another derrick, building or street; a provision requires all oil companies to post a $5000 bond to guarantee the cleaning up of the property when the oil well is finally abandoned; that all oil operators are required to file a financial statement with the city before a permit can be granted, and all oil companies must file papers showing that they have provided adequate means for the disposal of waste water and rotary mud.

Baby Burned by Lime Can She Found on Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 8.—The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark of Los Angeles was seriously burned yesterday when she was playing on the beach two miles south of this city. She found a can of lime that was left on the beach and received severe body, arm and leg burns. Rushing her to the Emergency Hospital here, Dr. Ralph E. Hawes dressed the wounds.

Deputy Sheriff A. L. Steward made an investigation and turned the matter over to the county health authorities, who will open an investigation. It is believed that a beach club formerly occupying the grounds left the lime and a complaint will be filed against them.

EVEN CROQUET A HAZARD NOW

Mallet Collides With Head of Woman; Stitches Taken in Wound at Hospital

ONTARIO, July 8.—Now the meek little game of croquet takes its place among the hazardous pastimes of daily life.

While enjoying a game at a South Euclid avenue health resort, Mrs. Minnie Gordon, Los Angeles, failed to catch a mallet tossed to her by a companion.

Her head stopped the mallet, and Mrs. Gordon was rushed to San Antonio Community Hospital to have the wound stitched.

MRS. HIGDON UNCERTAIN ABOUT BABY

When Asked to Submit to Blood Test, Woman Held as Kidnaper Wavers

SAN BERNARDINO, July 8.—Apparently suffering from confinement, Mrs. Allen Higdon of Bloomington, today admitted that the baby she asserted to her husband was their own, was given to her by a sister, Mrs. Gladys Hatfield of San Francisco, and, an hour later, denied her own words.

Mrs. Higdon, arrested at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Higdon, in Bloomington, last Saturday, became hysterical when asked if she would submit to having a blood test of herself and the 8-weeks-old baby birl, claimed by Mrs. Ruth Smith of San Francisco, to determine its parentage.

"I'll submit to nothing," Mrs. Higdon shouted. "My sister gave me this baby and she will have to take her back. She will have to straighten this up for me."

Asked if she meant Gladys Hatfield, she nodded assent.

Then an hour later, Mrs. Higdon denied that she made the statement. The jail matron, Mrs. Anna Johnson, told officers, however, that Mrs. Higdon had accused the sister of "getting the baby for her."

Mrs. Higdon is accused of kidnaping the child from the home of her sister, where its mother, Mrs. Smith, left it for adoption. Mrs. Smith now wants the baby back again.

On Sunday Mrs. Higdon faced her husband in the County Jail and reiterated her statement that the baby is theirs.

"You know it is ours, Allen," she said.

Mrs. Higdon has been in a highly nervous state all day, probably brought on by a slight illness of the baby, Leta Joyce Higdon—or Smith, whichever the case may be.

San Francisco officers, reported en route to this city, had not arrived today.

Pasadena Sure of Title Now to Arroyo Lands

PASADENA, July 8.—Assurance that this city soon will have title to all Arroyo Seco land north of the south city limits was given today when purchase by the local water department of 420 acres of the Will D. Gould estate for $150,000 was consummated. Immediate payment of $15,000 of the purchase price was authorized by the Board of City Directors.

Purchase of the land was deemed essential to protection of the city's water supply against pollution from homes which subdividers proposed to erect along the banks of the Arroyo Seco stream.

LUNCH STAND MAN FACES GRAVE CHARGE

SANTA ANA, July 8.—Claude Groover, La Habra lunch-stand owner, is in the County Jail in default of $3000 bail, with his preliminary hearing set for the 15th inst., by Justice K. E. Morrison on a charge of attempting to attack a 17-year-old Yorba Linda girl whom he had employed in his stand.

Groover is said to have threatened the girl with a gun to enforce his demands, but she fought him off.

Deputy Sheriffs Hunter Leach and Joe Thornhill arrested Groover last night after a complaint had been filed.

SHORT PEACH CROP SHAR

Decision Reached on Division of Harvest at M
of Southland Canners at Ontario

ONTARIO, July 8.—Following a meeting here of repre
practically every canning company in Southern Califor
Winkler of Los Angeles, secretary of the Southern Calif
Association, announced today a plan by which all canners the short peach crop this season. The association members rate the short crop in order to give all canners part of the that operations may be carried on as extensively as possible.

The crop, Winkler estimated, will be approximately 12,000 tons, compared with the normal crop total of 25,000 tons. Northern canners will be asked to co-operate with the Southland canners in diverting some of the unusually heavy northern crop into Southern California canneries. The Canners' League of California will be asked to supervise this plan. The peach crop will not be ready for the canneries until early in August, according to Winkler's estimate.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—The Abraham Rydberg, formerly the Star of Greenland, which arrived at Dublin on May 30 from San Francisco, averaged 133 nautical miles a day for the 16,514-mile voyage. This was learned here today when her log arrived at the hydrographic office.

The shortest day's run was on April 21 when the Rydberg made but twenty-two miles. On March 15, while she was approaching Cape Horn, the vessel covered 277 miles.

She is being converted into a training ship for the Swedish navy.

Raw silk valued at $3,250,000 will be brought into San Francisco in the holds of the Japanese liner Tatsuta Maru, which will arrive here Thursday from Hongkong.

PORTLAND, July 8.—Robert E. Hickson, assistant engineer in charge of Columbia River channel operations, announced today overdepth dredging will begin in the river next week.

While the dredging will be done with funds already at hand, it will be done in such a manner it will fit into the new Federal project of a 35-foot channel, 500 feet wide, from Portland to the sea.

Seattle, July 8.—Transportation of iron ore from newly discovered deposits on Texada Island, off the coast of British Columbia, to a proposed $23,000,000 steel plant near Vancouver, B. C., will be handled by the Coastwise Steamship and Barge Company, Ltd., of Seattle and Vancouver, Capt. James Griffiths, president, said here today.

Following the announcement in news dispatches that Toronto and Detroit capitalists were planning development in British Columbia, Capt. Griffiths said his Company has been associated with the new organization. He added twenty-three ships, barges and scows also will continue to be used in transporting ore to the Tacoma smelter.

The announcement in Toronto of the reorganization of the Coast Range Steel Company, Ltd., with William B. Mayor, Ford Motor Company chief engineer, as president, stated that 200,000 tons of ore will be shipped annually to Japan from the proposed steel plant.

The battleships New Mexico, Maryland, and Nevada dropped anchor at Port Angeles last night.

TACOMA, July 8.—Two large foreign carriers, the Royal Mail liner Nebraska and the O.S.K. liner Manila Maru, were among the arrivals. Both vessels will load lumber, plywood and canned goods for Europe and Japan, respectively.

The intercoastal carrier Nevadan, of the American Hawaiian Line, arrived today to load lumber for the East Coast and the Pacific Hemlock departed with similar cargo for Baltimore.

Women Loses Gem Fortune

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) July 8. (AP)—Jewels worth $690,000, according to the police, were stolen last night from the suite of Miss Clara Hyman of Chicago, in the Imperial Hotel here. A $290,000 pearl necklace was among the articles taken.

The stolen articles, the police reported, aside from the rope of 190 large pearls, comprises platinum and gold rings with diamond settings.

Hill and Wife to Drop Suits

LIVINGSTON (Mont.) July 8. (AP) Dismissal of a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Mildred Hill against Walter Hill, son of the late James J. Hill, railroad builder, was sought in an action filed in District Court here today by counsel for the couple.

The petition asked cancellation of cross-complaints filed by Hill. It contained no details of any agreement reached, but it was learned that the Hills will establish a new home at Seattle.

CANDIDATE QUITS IN WEST VIRGINIA

HUNTINGTON (W. Va.) July 8. (AP)—Former Senator M. M. Neely of Fairmont was left unopposed for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator at the August primary today by the withdrawal of George S. Wallace, Huntington, as a candidate. In withdrawing, Wallace said Neely "is entitled to this nomination without a fight." He added that a number of Democrats are "falling over themselves in an effort to attract the wet vote to the Democratic party," and said John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, is one of a group of men who are not Democrats, but who simply desire to use the party as an instrumentality for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

BERLIN BEGGARS RUN EXCHANGE

Alms Seekers Buy Charity Food at Hangout

Price of Bread Varies With Weather Conditions

Pauper Livery Also Rented Blind and Crippled

BERLIN, July 8. (AP)—To what extent the underworld is organised in the German metropolis may be judged from the beggars' bourse and kindred institutions for the brotherhood of alms seekers in the city's slums and elsewhere.

The bourse is known only to the initiated and accessible through a small and dingy public house which is the nightly rendezvous for the poorer elements—workingmen and unemployed, with a plentiful sprinkling of shady characters—all drinking beer and talking at once but always suspiciously sizing up every newcomer.

SANDWICHES SOLD

Ever and anow a beggar arrives and with eel-like agility squirms through the motley crowd to a trapdoor leading to the "sandwich bourse." Here mendicants representing every conceivable type of suffering sell to the hungry unemployed the bread and sandwiches doled out to them during the day by kind-hearted housewives.

Quotations vary with the season, the colder weather seeing a boom in the proverbial crust of bread. Dry bread is quoted at an average of 2 pfennigs. A slice of bread with jam at 4 pfennigs, with liver sausage at 6 pfennigs, with Swiss cheese at 12 pfennigs and with ordinary sausage only at 8 pfennings.

LIVERY RENTED

In the slums of the city's northern section there is also a beggars' livery, doing a thriving business, especially in the early morning hours, the rush becoming so great by 9 a.m. that newcomers have to await their turn in a queue.

Here mendicants for a daily fee or a monthly subscription are speedily equipped with all the appurtenances for their calling, ranging from hand organs and lead-dogs for the blind to soleless shoes and crutches.

In an obscure street of the fashionable West End, on the other hand, is located the weel-organized beggars' information bureau, which limping specimens of human misery enter to lay aside their crutches, in which the blind suddenly are able to see and the deaf and dumb start swearing. Here the beginners in the fraternity purchase orderly kept lists of addresses of residents considered easy marks.

WAY CLEAR FOR VOTE ON MAYOR RECALL

DETROIT, July 8. (AP)—The remaining legal obstacle to an election on the recall of Mayor Charles Bowles was removed today by Circuit Judge Toms, who dissolved a restraining order he had issued against the City Clerk yesterday on petition of the Mayor.

Whether the Mayor would carry the case to the Supreme Court, as did his advisers with an earlier suit brought in the name of "taxpayers," designed to prevent the recall election, was not immediately announced.

THREE INJURED BY COLLAPSE OF PIER

PENNS GROVE (N. J.) July 8. (AP) Three persons were injured when the Wilson Line pier here collapsed late today. Fewer than twenty persons were on the pier at the time and only three were thrown into the river. They were quickly rescued. A Negro whose leg was crushed was the most seriously hurt.

VICTORY OF TARDIEU NOT TOO AMPLE

French Premier Weathers Two Parliamentary Gales by Narrow Margin

PARIS, July 8. (AP)—Twice during the same day and once in each house of Parliament, the government of Andre Tardieu, Premier of France, withstood energetic assaults of its opponents and came out victorious.

Its margin was narrowest in the Senate, where it prevailed by only five votes.

The clash in the Senate was provoked when the opposition raised the question of secularizing schools in the Department of Gers. Religious instruction has for a long time been banished from the schools, but the religious issue is often raised for political purposes.

When news arrived in the Chamber of Deputies that the government was in difficulty in the Senate groups of the opposition became active. Opposition leaders proposed a resolution demanding the government accord special furloughs to all farmers' sons in the army. Tardieu proposed the question of confidence and won by a majority of fifty-three.

Take Long Walks Fat Men Are Told

How can you walk off your fat if you haven't the energy to do it?

You can take off fat with Kruschen Salts, a new kind just over from Europe, if you will take one half teaspoon in hot water every morning before breakfast.

There are 6 different salts in Kruschen—real vitalizing mineral salts that Nature says your blood, nerves, glands and body organs must have if you are to enjoy good health.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in vigor, energy, vitality and power of endurance.

That means that soon you will be able to walk many miles without fatigue and enjoy every step you walk.

Druggists all over America sell Kruschen Salts and a jar that will last 30 days costs but 85 cents—it's a real blessing to fat people.—[Advertisement.

KING DEPLORES STRIFE IN INDIA

British Ruler Makes Plea for Better Understanding

Hope of Closer Ties With Empire Expressed

Address at Opening of New Building Broadcast

LONDON, July 8. (AP)—A new India House was opened in London by King George today with an expression of hope for the emergence of India from her present troublous era into days of peace and contentment.

The restoration of a true understanding of unity of the greater commonwealth of which India is a part, King George said, would aid in solving India's destiny.

The building, a beautiful new governmental structure in the heart of London, will house various trade and commercial interests of India, as Australia House on the Strand long has those of the Australian commonwealth.

"At this critical period in India's history, when the thoughts of all who love that country are centered upon constructive effort and upon laying well and truly the foundation of India of the future," King George said, "I regard it as a happy augury to be able to open a building which marks the end of one period of advancement and the beginning of a new.

"But India House stands for more than that. As I look around me I see the emblems of the religions, the provinces and the states of India. This building which contains them surely testifies to the unity of India in herself. The position of India House among those of the sister nations here in the center of my capital further symbolizes the unity of the great commonwealth of which she is a part. For a deeper realization of that two-fold unity I most earnestly pray.

"During recent months I watched with anxious heart the troublous passage of events. Trusting in the divine guidance, I hopefully await the day that shall restore the gift of true understanding and thus unite every race and creed in one desire to bring peace and contentment to my Indian people.

"On the successful issue of your plans, I congratulate you, Sir Atul Chandra, and all those who have been associated with you. Foremost amongst these was Sir Herbert Baker, who has impressed his genius upon so many continents. As the architect of more than one of the great buildings in the imperial capital at Delhi, it is most appropriate that he should also be the designer of this India House in London.

"I have now much pleasure in declaring India House open, and I trust that it may not only serve the material progress of that country, but by spreading sound knowledge may it foster between the peoples of India and Great Britain that wider sympathy for which I have pleaded many years and plead again today."

The speech replied to an address of Sir Atul Chandra Chutterjee, High Commissioner of India.

The address of the King lasted just six minutes. It was broadcast and arrangements had been made with the National Broadcasting Company in America for its rebroadcast.

GREEKS SNATCH PENS TO FIGHT SKYSCRAPER

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—Over in Athens, Greece, it seems, there's much ado over plans by some Americans to erect a skyscraper amidst the classic ruins of the ancient capital.

Folks are writing pieces in protest to the Athenian papers, and John Vassos, New York architect who designed the structure, has been receiving letters from prominent residents of the Greek capital declaring it a violation of Greek tradition.

Pointing out that the structure is to be only sixteen stories high, he said the backers plan to go through with the project in the belief that the Athenians will change their minds when they see the completed building.

The cost of the skyscraper, which will be nearly $1,000,000, is being defrayed by Americans of Greek origin. The site was contributed by the Greek government.

LIMIT PLACED ON PEACH PACK

Control Committee States Agreement Reached

Thirteen Million Cases Set as Packers' Maximum

Price of $20 Per Ton for Clings Arrived At

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—The cling peace control committee announced today the signing of an agreement by canners and growers representing 96 per cent of the pack north of the Tehachapi to reduce the pack in the State to not more than 13,000,000 cases "to prevent a catastrophe in the industry."

The control plan, which the committee said became effective today, provides all No. 1 cling peaches not under contract will be purchased on a basis of $20 a ton delivered to the receiving point.

"A fund of $1,750,000 is being contributed by canners and growers to purchase the surplus," the committee announcement said, "the crop this year is estimated at 485,000 tons or sufficient to pack 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 cases—a quantity impossible to market. Southern California growers and packers are assisting in the plan."

VICTIM FORGETS OWN WEDDING

Amnesia Sufferer Recovers and Sends Reassurance to Bride-elect

OMAHA, July 8. (AP)—One of the first things Virgil C. Goetha, of Jacksonville, Ill., remembered today when he recovered from a week-end case of Amnesia, was that he had missed his own wedding, set for last Saturday.

He wired reassurances to his prospective bride after explaining he had lost his memory as a result of an automobile accident in St. Louis and wandered to Omaha, by way of Kansas City.

OPTIMISTS NOMINATE BADGER PRESIDENT

ERIE (Pa.) July 8. (AP)—Officers were nominated for the year at the convention of Optimists' International here today. Robert Sutherland, Madison, Wis., was named for president. Holmes A. Sperb, Los Angeles; Kenneth A. Barker, Louisville; Joshua Potts, Chicago, and Milton Schaffer, Erie, were nominated for the four vice-presidencies.

CONGRESS TOLD OF FIRE PERILS

Englebright Urges Fund for Forest Protection

Timber Being Destroyed at Fast Rate, He Warns

Situation Blamed Directly on Lack of Money

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—Responsibility for fire consumption of timber and lumber at a rate four times that of annual growth was placed upon Congress today by Representative Englebright, Republican, California.

Emphasizing the need for extended fire-prevention work, the Californian said the policy of Congress has been "to expend $2 to put out a fire and only $1 to prevent a fire from starting."

In an extension of remarks in the Congressional Record, Englebright urged enactment of his bill to establish a definite financial fire-prevention program authorizing appropriations for the construction and maintenance of protection improvements.

SUPPLY DWINDLING

Combined public and private forests, he said, contain only 2,200,000,000,000 board feet.

"We are drawing upon this supply through fire and use at the rate of 60,000,000,000 board feet per year," he continued. "Eliminating the factor of increase by natural growth, the 2,200,000,000,000 feet at the present rate of consumption is sufficient only to last thirty-six years."

The supply in private ownership, he contended, is sufficient to last only twenty-one years at the same rate of consumption. He added Europe is increasing its capital stock of wood.

FIRE LOSS HEAVY

"That our forests are disappearing at a rate that involves a most serious danger to the future prosperity of our country is not because we use or cut too much timber," Englebright said, "but because we permit too much timber to be destroyed by fire and other causes and grow too little."

Englebright placed the annual fire loss of the country at $28,619,693.

He directed attention to recommendations by President Coolidge and President Hoover for adequate protection against forest fires.

"For a number of years," he continued, "the Federal government has been expending, and at the present time is expending an average of $19,905,855 per year for the administration and development of our national forests. In other words we are expending $19,905,855 per year to develop and build up our forests, and at the same time we are losing in value $28,619,693 per year through destruction by fire.

POLICY UNSOUND

"Surely, this at least is not a sound business policy. To permit a property valued at more than $1,000,000,000 to go year after year inadequately insured against loss by fire is not in keeping with American business standards.

"No criticism for the conditions that prevail can be placed upon the United States Forest Service. The responsibility rests squarely upon the shoulders of Congress in not having appropriated sufficient amounts for adequate fire protection work and activities."

Jamaica Ginger Poison Believed to Be Identified

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 8. (AP)—Oklahoma City chemists today said they had identified tentatively as treocysyl phosphate compound, a slow-acting poison contained in Jamaica ginger which caused a strange paralysis malady, crippling approximately 600 persons here.

The drug, the chemists said, is used in photography. Several chickens died after injections of the phosphate. All but one of six living have paralysis of the legs, a characteristic of the malady in human beings.

"Record" Case in High Court

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—Publishers of the Los Angeles Record today asked the State Supreme Court here to prevent Superior Judge Collier of Los Angeles from trying them for contempt of court until "the question as to his qualifications is ascertained."

Publisher H. B. R. Briggs and his two associates, Gilbert Brown and Rodney Brink, were cited on thirteen counts for criticism of the prosecution in the Julian oil case after being charged with contempt by the Los Angeles Bar Association.

The case was taken under submission.

GRASSHOPPER ATTACK IN NEVADA REPULSED

RENO, July 8. (AP)—The first 1930 grasshopper attack upon Nevada crops has been repulsed with only small loss to the farmer, Extension Agent J. C. Genasci of the Humboldt - Pershing - Northern Lander district reported today to the agricultural extension service here. The insects infested 500 acres of wild hay on the Tobin Brothers ranch near Winnemucca, but were killed with poisoned bait made of wheat bran, Paris green, molasses, chopped lemons and water, the report said.

MAYOR ROLPH HONOR GUEST IN SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, July 8. (AP)—More than 400 persons attended a luncheon given here today in honor of Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. The Mayor was enthusiastically received.

Mayor Rolph arrived here from a motor speaking tour of the Mother Lode country. He went to Auburn and Nevada City later today and will pass the night at Grass Valley.

THE VALUE of SOUND DESIGN

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy

THE GOOD PERFORMANCE of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression. The spark thus flashes quickly through the whole fuel charge, resulting in quieter and more effective engine performance.

Other factors are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves of larger diameter, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, simplicity of the electrical, cooling, lubrication, and fuel systems and accuracy in manufacturing.

CLASH IN EGYPT TAKES SIX LIVES

Forty-nine Wounded in Riot at Mansourah

Supporters of Nahas Pasha Battle With Troops

Wafd Leader's Auto Halted by Fixed Bayonets

CAIRO, July 8. (AP)—Egypt's internal political dissensions today assumed a threatening and war-like aspect.

Six persons were killed and forty-nine wounded at Mansourah, in a violent clash between supporters of Nahas Pasha, Wafd leader who recently resigned the Premiership, and troops and police.

The town tonight still was in a state of ferment, but was officially stated to be well under the control of the authorities.

BAYONETS HALT CAR

Rioting started after the automobile of Nahas Pasha, with twenty or thirty Nationalist students clinging to it, burst through a police cordon barring the way. It was brought to a dead stop by a line of Egyptian soldiers with fixed bayonets.

Mansourah is a hot bed of Nationalist sentiment and a Wafd stronghold and the action of the troops quickly brought on the riot.

A volley of stones and bottles filled with sand was hurled into their ranks by the Nationalist crowd. Hand-to-hand fighting raged in front of Shinnawi Bey's house, where Nahas Pasha had lunched and when it had continued for some time police opened fire.

GOVERNMENT WORST LOSER

During the struggle three police and soldiers and three rioters were killed. In injured, the government side got much the worst of it, having thirty-seven hurt against twelve for the Nationalists.

Trouble has been threatening in the Egyptian political world since the resignation last month of Nahas Pasha and the subsequent proroguing of Parliament by King Fuad.

Ismail Sidky Pasha, the new Premier, recently announced the government would use strong measures to repress speech-making activities of the Wafd, which he said threatened the public peace.

ONCE RICH MAN FACES TERM IN JAIL FOR DEBT

UNIONTOWN (Pa.) July 8. (AP)—Once worth more than $75,000,000, J. V. Thompson, former Fayette county banker and coal operator, must raise $300,000 by July 31, or serve an indeterminate jail sentence for contempt of court.

The money is needed to meet notes Thompson gave while trustee of two estates here, one that of John Niccolls, father of the Princess of Thurn and Taxis. The case was brought into court by the Princess, who is Thompson's niece.

Arraigned in court here yesterday, Thompson, once an aspirant for the Governorship of Pennsylvania, confessed inability to meet the obligations and was about to be sentenced to jail when his attorneys sought and obtained a twenty-four-day stay.

Thompson, they said, is working on a $20,000,000 coal deal, from the negotiation of which he hopes to realize enough to pay his obligations. Details of the deal were not revealed.

Once the owner of vast acreages of coal properties throughout Western Pennsylvania and sections of West Virginia, Thompson failed for $75,000,000 fifteen years ago.

THEFT CHARGE DISMISSED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—Charges against Sam de Cristo and Frank De Mare of grand theft from the Bank of Italy of $30,000 in bonds were dismissed in Superior Court today on a directed verdict.

EX-SHERIFF AND ORMSBY GUILTY

Pair Convicted of Accepting Lottery Bribes

OAKLAND, July 8. (Exclusive)—Burton F. Becker, ousted Alameda county Sheriff, and Cromwell L. Ormsby, Los Angeles attorney, were adjudged guilty by a jury in Superior Judge Wood's court today, of protecting Chinese lotteries for a price. J. L. Davis, former deputy Sheriff, and codefendant in the case, was acquitted.

Neither of the convicted men indicated whether an appeal will be taken. If they decide to take the case to a higher court, it is expected they will launch their initial steps next Friday, when they are scheduled to appear for sentence.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

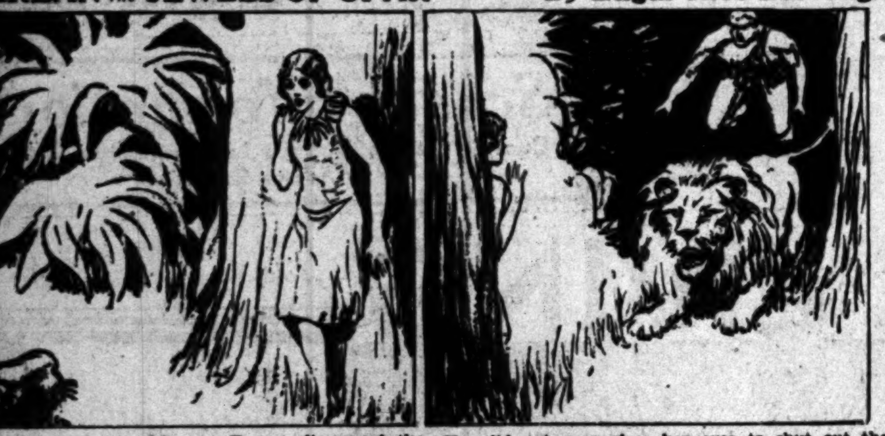
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



The lion was crouching as Tarzan discovered the tragic tableau. Numa was almost beneath the branch upon which the ape-man stood, unarmed! There was not even a moment's hesitation upon the part of the latter. So hopeless had seemed the situation to her that Jane Clayton but stood in lethargic apathy awaiting the impact of the huge body that would hurl her to the ground. What use to attempt escape? As well face the hideous end as to be dragged down in futile flight.

She did not even close her eyes to shut out the frightful aspect of that snarling face. And so it was that as she saw the lion preparing to charge; she saw, too, a bronzed and mighty figure leap from an overhanging tree at the instant that Numa rose in his spring. Wide went her eyes in wonder and incredulity, as she beheld this seeming apparition risen from the dead. The lion was forgotten—her own peril—everything save the wonderous miracle of this strange recrudescence.

REX MAXON

With parted lips, with palms tight pressed against her heaving bosom, the young woman leaned forward large-eyed, enthralled by the vision of her dead mate. She saw the sinewy form leap to the back of the lion, hurtling against the leaping lion like a huge, animate battering-ram. She saw the carnivore brushed aside as he was almost upon her, and in that instant she realized that no wraith could thus turn the charge of a maddened lion with brute force greater than the brute's. Tarzan, her Tarzan lived!

A cry of unspeakable gladness broke from her lips, only to die in terror as she saw the utter defenselessness of her mate, and realized that the lion had recovered himself and was turning upon Tarzan in mad lust for vengeance. But Tarzan's quick glance had seen at his feet the discarded rifle of an Abyssinian, and as the lion reared to seize this rash manthing who had dared interpose its punty strength between Numa and his prey, the heavy stock whirled through the air and splintered upon the broad forehead of the lion.

BLUE DIAMOND UNITS COMBINE

Pacific Group Links Four Companies in Deal

Holding Concern Formed for Merged Organizations

Capitalization Disclosed in Corporation Permit

Acquisition of the entire assets of the W. C. Hay Corporation, the Blue Diamond Company, the Blue Diamond Cement Company and the Blue Diamond Company of Nevada by the newly formed Blue Diamond Corporation, Ltd., through a deal handled by the Pacific Group Company was announced yesterday.

This official announcement followed the issuance of a permit to the Blue Diamond Corporation, Ltd., by F. G. Athearn, Commissioner of Corporations, in which officers were listed as Lee A. Phillips, Lind C. Rollins, George I. Cochran, Howard S. Dudley, Ford J. Twaits, B. F. Nysewander, Jr.; W. C. Hay, W. P. Jeffries, Fred B. Ortman, Dana Latham, Francis Baer, Preston Hotchkis, Garrettson Dulin, Robert B. Henderson, C. C. Merrill and Asa V. Call.

CAPITAL LISTED

Capital of the new corporation, according to the permit, consists of 120,000 convertible preferred shares and 480,000 common shares of no par value. The corporation was permitted to issue 50,015 shares of preferred and 300,030 shares of common.

Permanent officers have not yet been selected, it was announced. W. C. Hay, who has heretofore had the general management of the various properties taken over by the new corporation, is retiring from active management, but otherwise the personnel of the units will remain the same, it is understood. Mr. Hay retains his membership on the board of directors.

BUSINESS OUTLINED

Blue Diamond Company was incorporated in December, 1923, as the successor to Blue Diamond Materials Company, incorporated in 1918. The company manufactures and distributes a wide range of basic fireproof building materials and wholesales and retails lathing material, cement, etc. It owns twenty-three and a half acres at Sixteenth and Alameda streets, Los Angeles, on which are located a plaster mill for the manufacture of hardwall plaster and other plaster products; plants for the manufacture of gypsum block, mixed mortar and cement; a reinforcing steel fabricating plant, a warehouse and other facilities for carrying on a general building material distribution business. The company controls the Blue Diamond Company of Nevada.

In Nevada is located a large deposit of high-grade gypsum, connected with the main line of the Union Pacific by a corporation-owned twenty-five-mile railroad. Other assets comprise a lime property and gypsum deposit in the Imperial Valley, and sand, rock and gravel deposits in both the San Gabriel and San Fernando valleys, together with the necessary manufacturing plants, bunkers and equipment to prepare and distribute the wide variety of material.

Sales of the Blue Diamond Company in 1929 totaled $4,413,693. Net profits were given at $277,180, or $13.52 a share on 20,500 shares of capital stock. Total assets as of December 31, last, were listed at $4,906,954. Current assets were $1,069,752 and current liabilities $315,984, leaving working capital of $753,768. Bonded debt of the company at the end of 1929 stood at $910,000. The authorized capital stock amounted to $5,000,000 of $100 par shares, of which $2,050,000 was outstanding, all owned by W. C. Hay, president of the company.

Bond Issues on Financing Slate Today

Public offering of a new issue of $4,000,000 Continental Roll and Steel Foundry Company first mortgage convertible 6 per cent sinking fund bonds, Series A, due June 1, 1940, and a new issue of $2,500,000 City of Seattle municipal light and power 4 3-4 per cent gold bonds, Series "Lt.-I," of 1930, will be made today.

The foundry company bonds, which are being marketed by a syndicate headed by Continental Illinois Company and including H. M. Byllesby and Company, Foreman-State Corporation and Union Cleveland Corporation, are priced at 98½ and interest to yield over 6.20 per cent. The bonds are listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange. Organised to acquire the assets of three eastern foundry companies, the concern is the largest producer of steel, steel alloy and iron rolls as well as miscellaneous steel castings in the United States.

The Seattle bond issue is being tendered by a syndicate including Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, B. J. Van Ingen & Co., Eldredge & Co., Seattle Company, George H. Burr, Conrad & Broom, Inc., Marine National Company, Dean Witter & Co., and Ferris & Hardgrove, at prices to yield 4.85 per cent with maturities from 1941 to 1960. The proceeds of this issue will be used for the construction and acquisition of certain substations and of a steam generating station and for extensions and betterments of the existing system.

PRICE WAR HITS PROFITS

Union Oil Report Indicates Sharp Drop in Industry's Second Quarter Net

BY K. W. SMITH

Holders of oil shares may get an idea of the extent of the heavy inroads into the second-quarter earnings of oil companies caused principally by the lower gasoline prices through an analysis of the half-year statement issued Monday by the Union Oil Company. Invariably first among the major companies to issue its earnings reports, the company has long been regarded by oil stock followers as a dependable guide as to the trend of the industry on the Pacific Coast.

With the first half of the year showing net profits of approximately $5,150,000, the net profits for the second quarter are indicated as $2,550,000, the company having reported net profits of $2,600,000 for the first quarter of this year. In the second quarter of 1929, net profits totaled $4,400,000, so that the 1930 second-quarter profits show a decrease of $1,850,000, or 42 per cent.

In the first quarters of both the current year and last year, the net profits were given at approximately $2,600,000 for each period. Operating profits before depreciation, depletion and drilling expenditures for the first three months of the two years were $6,100,000 in 1930 and $6,050,000 in 1929, provisions for depreciation, depletion and drilling expenditures being $3,500,000 in 1930 and $3,450,000 in 1929.

CHARGES LOWER

In the second quarter of 1929, operating profits before depreciation, depletion and drilling expenditures were $8,150,000, while for the similar period this year, they were $5,300,000. Provisions for depreciation, depletion and drilling expenses for this period totaled $3,750,000 in 1929 and $2,750,000 this year.

The company in its latest earnings report attributed the decrease in profits not only to the lower gasoline prices prevailing this year on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards, but also to the increased cost of crude oil purchased and to the fact that the company as a result of the curtailment program in California has not benefited to the same extent as last year from flush production in the Santa Fe Springs field.

SALES INCREASE

Sales for the first half of this year were ahead of last year, first-quarter sales totaling $22,750,000, against $19,700,000 in the same period last year and second-quarter sales amounting to $21,750,000, against $23,300,000, a total of $44,500,000, against $43,000,000.

Belief that a more stabilized condition throughout the industry is gradually developing was expressed in the report. An early termination of the present price wars would place the oil companies in a position to offset their first half-year decreases in profits by gains in earnings during the remainder of the year. Union Oil last year, which was a record year for the company, had its best half-year in the last six months.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

BEST & CO.

Best & Co. operates a large retail specialty store in New York City. Fashionable wearing apparel and quick-selling novelties account for a large portion of sales. A branch store is maintained at Palm Beach and suburban stores are located at Garden City, Long Island; Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Southampton, Long Island, with plans laid to open another in East Orange, N. J., before the end of the current year.

An aggressive management and a high-class customer clientele whose buying power is little affected by general business conditions suggest the conclusion that the earnings for 1930 may exceed even those for 1929. The company has shown a steadily upward trend of net income since 1923. In 1929 $4.20 per share was reported on the shares outstanding, after the two-for-one split. On a comparable basis $3.26 per share was earned in 1928. Sales in 1929 were up 9.5 per cent, and inventory turnover for the year was 11.6—a very commendable showing for the management. The current ratio is somewhat better than 4 to 1.

|---|---|
| Mortgage payable | $950,000 |
| 6% cum. pfd. stock ($100 par.) shares | 2,261 |
| Common stock (no par.) shares | 300,000 |

Current data: During April of the current year sales were up more than 20 per cent from 1929 figures, and for May an increase of 11.5 per cent was reported.

Loan Reported Arranged for Richfield Oil

NEW YORK, July 8.—James A. Talbot, chairman of the board of the Richfield Oil Company, concluded arrangements today with a banking group for a loan to the company.

C. M. Fuller, president of Richfield Oil Company of California, stated yesterday that he had no comment to make on a report from New York that James A. Talbot, now in New York City, had completed financing arrangements. If such is the case, he said, the loan would be for the purpose of financing current indebtedness.

It is understood that Mr. Talbot has charge of financing arrangements. Opinion in the street is that a loan at this time would be beneficial to the company and a jump of 2 points in the stock supported this contention. Rumors that Cities Service Company was negotiating for a merger were denied by Mr. Fuller.

Group of Rails Put in Missouri Pacific Control

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—A qualified permission was extended to the Missouri Pacific Railroad today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to take over under lease and operate as a part of its own structure the properties of some twenty subsidiary lines it now controls, but which have more or less separate organizations.

Before the central road can complete its plan for extensive unification proposals, however, it must, by the terms of the decision, arrange to acquire ownership on a reasonable basis of a number of unnamed short lines, now independent, which connect with its system at various points in the Southwest.

Commissioner Eastman and Chairman McManamy dissented from the decision.

While several of the corporations affiliated with Missouri Pacific, which will virtually pass out of existence under the arrangement, approved, are merely paper organizations, others have a semi-independent operating status.

Childs Reports Cafe Earnings

NEW YORK, July 8.—Net profits of Childs Company, restaurant chain, for six months ended June 30, were equivalent after taxes and preferred dividend charges to approximately $1.35 a share on 362,320 common shares, the company announced today. This is an increase of about 100 per cent over earnings of 68 cents a share for the same period last year.

June sales amounted to $2,102,793 against $2,221,616 in June, 1929, a decrease of 5.3 per cent. Sales for the six months aggregated $13,581,158 against $13,625,921 last year, a decrease of .3 per cent.

YOUNGSTOWN PLANTS OF REPUBLIC BUSIEST

YOUNGSTOWN, July 8.—Youngstown plants of Republic Steel Corporation are working at a better rate than other mills of the organization and no further reductions in number of employees is contemplated. B. F. Fairless, executive vice-president, stated today. Youngstown plants are working at approximately 65 per cent capacity. Two additional open-hearth furnaces have been started.

INVESTMENT PAYS REGULAR DIVIDEND

Directors of the Los Angeles Investment Company declared yesterday the regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share on the common stock payable August 15 to stockholders of record the 15th inst. On old $1 par stock of the company not yet turned in for exchange with the new $10 par stock, the dividend amounts to 3 cents a share.

RECEIPTS OF SHEEP INCREASE

Half Year Figures From Union Stock Yards Show 70,922 Head Over 1929

Receipts of sheep at the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards in June broke all records since the yards were opened eight years ago and brought the total figures for the half-year, 70,922 head above the sheep receipts for the same period last year, J. A. McNaughton, vice-president and general manager, announced yesterday.

The lamb situation is the outstanding feature of the yards today, according to Mr. McNaughton, who stated that they are selling at a discount of from 30 to 60 per cent below last year's prices due largely to oversupply, the peak of production having been reached some two years ago.

There were 38,623 more lambs and sheep slaughtered at the yards during the six months' period than in the first half of last year, the total accounting for 23 per cent of the slaughter of all live stock as against 7 per cent a year ago.

Contending that Los Angeles is more than holding her own in the matter of meat consumption, Mr. McNaughton pointed out that receipts of cattle for the period increased 4461 head, and calves, 1442 head, and that the slaughter of cattle increased 9382 head, and the slaughter of hogs by 8116 head. A decrease of 5942 hog receipts, he said is splendid evidence of stability, showing a substantial increase with values of the live animals remaining about as they were a year ago.

New Financing Permits Asked of Rail Board

WASHINGTON, July 8. — Louisville and Nashville Railroad asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today for authority to procure authentication and delivery of $17,311,000 of its 4 1-2 per cent first and refunding mortgage C bonds. The securities will be dated August 1, 1921 and mature April 1, 2003, and will capitalize heretofore uncapitalized expenditures.

Boston Terminal Company asked the commission for authority to issue and sell $1,500,000 of its first mortgage twenty-five-year 4 per cent bonds. Entire issue will be sold to Lee Higginson & Co., and First National Old Colony Corporation of Boston at 99.09 and accrued interest.

Portland Terminal Company and Maine Central Railroad asked authority in a joint application for the former to issue and the latter to guarantee $1,000,000 of 5 per cent one-year notes to finance additions and betterments.

Gross revenues of the constituent companies aggregated $7,970,465.57, as against $6,963,203.56, an increase of $1,007,262.01, or 14.46 per cent. Gross corporate income before bond interest totaled $3,776,973.92, an increase of $409,495.06, or 12.16 per cent.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—An early decline in cotton in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and a fairly favorable view of the weather map today was increased by some local selling immediately after the publication of the government's acreage report.

This sent the price of July off to 12.85, or 33 points net lower, while the new October sold down to 12.56, making a net loss of 23 points, but the official acreage figures were not far out of line with the average of recent private reports and the selling soon tapered off.

Trading later was quiet, with prices steadier on covering. July was selling around 13.00, or 18 points net lower, at 2 o'clock, while the new October at 12.73 showed a net loss of 6 points.

BANK UNION IDEA SPREADS

Mellon and Hillman Groups Active in Forestalling Plans of New York Interests in West Pennsylvania

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 8.—The bank-merger movement has descended upon Western Pennsylvania, centering in Pittsburgh. The two big banking groups in Pittsburgh—the Mellon and the Hillman—are busy buying into various key banks through that section.

The Mellon group is working through the Mellbank Corporation, which was incorporated six months ago "for the purpose of purchasing, acquiring, subscribing for, underwriting, investing in, owning, holding, selling, exchanging, mortgaging, pledging and dealing in stocks, debentures, notes, warrants, trust certificates, mortgages, leases, contracts and cognate securities, obligations and investments."

That's broad enough to include almost everything. Its active head is S. R. Denton, a Mellon associate, with headquarters in the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh.

The Hillman interests, working through the Peoples-Pittsburgh Trust Company and the Pennsylvania Bankshares and Securities Corporation, is headed by J. H. Hillman, Jr., of the First National Bank of Pittsburgh.

Before the year is over, seventy-five to 100 banks in Western Pennsylvania will be associated in stock ownership with one or the other of these large groups.

A New York banking house, Pomeroy & Salmon, with the backing of August Belmont & Co., has organized the Western Pennsylvania Bancorporation, to purchase banks through Pennsylvania, but their inability to secure a downtown Pittsburgh bank has held up their plans for expansion into other cities and towns.

The larger banks throughout the United States have become very much alive in protecting their own local interests and are checkmating any movement looking to the purchase of local banking institutions by outside interests—especially by those centering in New York.

"What can Kansas wheat farmers raise if they cut down on wheat?" asks Gov. Reed of Kansas, in reply to the Farm Board's wheat acreage curtailment campaign. "Kansas is a broad, flat prairie country, never used for anything else."

"Cutting a wheat surplus by adding to the production of other crops is about like helping a team of horses up a steep hill by taking a part of the load from one end of the wagon and piling on the other end," comments the Wall Street Journal. "The plan seems too crude to be seriously considered as a means of helping agriculture."

"Segregate the wheat surplus," suggests Gov. Theodore Christianson of Minnesota, head of another great wheat-growing State, who sees the failure of wheat-acreage curtailment.

"Europe cannot buy her wheat abroad if she cannot sell her industrial products abroad. The necessity of meeting reparations and debt payments has also contributed to make her situation serious," says the Governor.

So the reparation and war-debt payments are tied into the farmers' problem, too.

Up to date this western Governor believes the Farm Board's efforts have been fruitless, so he suggests that another effort be made "to devise some way to segregate the surplus. Various methods have been proposed, and surely from these segregations, it should be possible to develop a workable plan.

And so the export debenture plan or some similar one, which will "segregate the surplus," comes to the front again—before the new tariff law has gotten "cold" on the statute books.

The striking thing about the June 30 statement of the Chase National Bank is not so much that its resources of $2,646,000,000 lead its nearest competitor—the National City—by over $500,000,000, but that its deposits are $149,000,000 higher than were the deposits of the three banks, the Chase National, the Equitable Trust Company, and the Interstate Trust, on June 2, last, when the merger took place.

But it is the capital, surplus and undivided profits of the Chase that bulks large—$359,318,000, as compared with $142,851,000 a year ago—an increase of $216,467,000.

Albert H. Wiggin, John McHugh, Charles S. McCain, Robert L. Clarkson and Winthrop W. Aldrich are the "big five" Chase executives in, what is now, the largest bank in the world.

Among the bank's board of eighty-three directors are: Vincent Astor, Newcomb Carlton, Clarence Dillon, Frederick H. Ecker, Edward H. R. Green, the son of the famous Hetty Green; Ralph C. Holmes, Clarence Hayden, James N. Hill, the son of James J. Hill; Otto H. Kahn, Jeremiah Milbank, Charles M. Schwab, Alfred P. Sloan, and Cornelius Vanderbilt.

DIVIDEND DECLARED BY INVESTOR TRUST

BOSTON, July 8. How and When Will It Be Distributed?

DURING 1929, Standard Oil (23 leading companies at right) added approximately $150,000,000 to its already huge surplus, bringing the total up to a new high of $1,736,000,000.

To maintain financial impregnability, Standard Oil has always followed the policy of "plowing back" a large share of its earnings into surplus, which is periodically distributed in the form of huge stock dividends. In 1922, for example, 14 of these companies paid stock dividends with a market value of over $1,700,000,000.

You can share in all future stock dividends, cash dividends, rights and market appreciation of the 23 leading Standard Oils, through the ownership of Trustee Standard Oilshares Series "B." Present attractive price reflects low prices prevailing for underlying stocks.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—Money seeking investment flowed into the listed bond market at a moderate rate today to facilitate the advancement of high grade issues toward new high prices for the year. While the sales volume dropped appreciably from Monday, the technical position of the market is so strong the demand for high grade bonds was sufficient to carry a wide list of railroad issues into higher ground, some of them closing at new highs.

A few utilities followed the leadership of the railroad list, and despite light trading several United States governments established the highest prices of the year. Some soft spots developed in the foreign list but an unusually strong demeand aided prices.

The market for legal issues was rather quiet and several bonds eased fractionally at the close but higher prices were the rule among carrier issues and several new highs for the year were established.

New highs were established by Baltimore & Ohio 6s, Buffalo Rochester and Pittsburgh 4½s, New Orleans Terminal 4s, New York Central 4s, Pennsylvania General 4½s, and several issues notably Atchison General 4s, and Canadian National Railway 5s equalled the best figure of the year on the day's movement.

Buyers displayed interest in several utility issues. American Telephone Debenture 5 sold at its high price of the year and the 5 of 1946 established a new top price. Consolidated Gas 5½s reached new high for the year.

Movement of foregin bonds was mixed with gains exceeding losses. A feature was the demand for Australia 4½s which gained 1¾ points.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

METAL MARKET TONE UNSTEADY

Prices Weak and Unchanged at Old Levels

Turn for Better Forecast in Zinc and Lead

Foreign Demand for Copper Holds Up Well

By CHARLES F. WILLIS,
Editor Mining Journal, Phoenix

Continued weakness has prevailed in the metal market along with practically all other commodities. Copper has again been offered at 11½ cents by custom smelters and 12 cents by producers, lead at 5.25 f.o.b. New York and zinc can be bought in small quantities for 4.15 but the prevailing quotation is 4.20 f.o.b. St Louis.

The putting down of the lead price to attract business has worked out successfully, as it stimulated orders and some of the buyers have come into the market in a large way to buy, covering their requirements through August. The present lead price is lower than that required to balance up with the London conditions and it is felt that this metal has hit bottom unless industrial conditions get far worse than the present indicates.

World production of lead in May showed that some further curtailment and the low prices will probably be reflected into the June production figures. World production of pig lead amounted to 155,233 tons in May, as compared with 153,265 tons in April, and 168,631 tons in May, 1929. Of this total, the United States produced 53,656 tons, as against 51,765 tons the previous month. The May output was at the rate of 5007 eons per diem, as compared with a daily rate of 5109 in April.

NEAR TURNING POINT

The opinion is expressed that the zinc market is nearing a crucial point and that, despite the large stocks and heavy production, there will be a turn for the better. It is very certain that the June figures will show another increase in stocks but it is also stated that some producers who are shutting down over the holiday period will not resume until conditions are better.

An effort is to be made to revive the zinc cartel at a meeting to be held in Brussels during the latter part of July. Some of the leading American interests who have lead and zinc mining properties in Mexico have signified their intention to attend these conferences and are hopeful that something can be worked out which will improve conditions. The zinc prices have reached such a low level since the dissolution of the cartel that it is believed that former members will be more disposed to co-operate.

FOREIGN BUYING GOOD

In general copper buying on domestic account is quiet, but the foreign buying has been maintaining well. Foreign purchasers are more inclined to buy to cover future requirements that are the American manufacturers. The fluctuating custom smelter offerings are having no effect on the export price, which remains at 12.30 c.i.f. Hamburg Havre or London.

The exports of copper from the United States in May, totaling 34,090 tons, were the highest since last October and showed an increase of nearly 14,000 tons over April. Despite this gain, however, the total movement for the year to foreign markets up to June 1 totaled but 113,648 tons, a decrease of approximately 78,000 tons.

The outlook abroad is stated to be improving and that the heavy decrease in copper consumption for the first half the year will be made up during the last half. The trend is toward improved power distribution, cheaper power and electrification of industry and all of this takes more copper.

The appearance of a good demand among European buyers was held by producers that reports of a boycott on American copper as a protest against the new American tariff were unfounded. Aside from African mines, which are not expected to be fully developed for several years, the mines owned by American companies are the only source of supply for European copper consumers, the producers assert. Reports of a boycott on American copper and of cancellation of orders placed with American companies by European customers are therefore generally discredited.

PRODUCERS PRICE 12 CENTS

In spite of the concessions made by certain custom smelters to dispose of their accumulated stocks at under 12 cents, the larger producers and dealers are not inclined to participate in that market. They know that there are but limited quantities available at the low price and that, if they were to go after this business, custom smelters would continue to go down until they found the level at which they could dispose of their product.

The present copper prices are being offered with delivery specified at any time and some of the business placed has been for delivery in the last quarter of 1930, although the bulk has been for July, August and September delivery. The low prices are attracting some buyers to provide for their own future and the evidence is that copper is being bought because it is cheap rather than because it is necessary for manufacturing requirements.

About the first of July it was estimated that American producers had orders on their books calling for delivery of 100,000 tons during the month of July, 55,000 tons for August and 40,000 tons for September, so that it will be seen that there was considerable copper yet to be bought for those months.

No material change is expected in the copper market until some indications come as to what may be expected in the fall. Consumers are covered well ahead and do not seem to fear any price advance, producers know that there is nothing to be gained by crowding the market. Copper, as well as other commodities, must await an improvement in general business.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—Richfield went up, while Transamerica was shoved down by selling on the stock exchange here today. Outside of activity in these issues, trading was light. Sales totaled 33,134 shares, the market value aggregating $1,148,264.

Merger rumors connected Cities Service with Richfield. Buyers quickly took 3100 shares, leaving the price up 2 points at the close, which was near the top. The preferred netted a point on the day.

Transamerica had to absorb sales of more than 11,000 shares, and in doing so slumped to a new low at 27¼. Selling was laid to liquidation by those who have been holding on for the 3 per cent stock dividend, closing at 27½. The Bank Holding Corporation was off ⅞.

Utilities were irregular, the chief feature of the group being Great Western Power 7s, down 1½.

Paraffine was again under pressure and lost 1¼. The industrials held close to yesterday's quotations.

Oils continued to give a better account in the stock market than in gasoline trade, generally holding close to even. Union Associates was up more than a point on renewed merger rumors.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, July 8. (AP)—The wool market is very slow. Inquiries are being received by several houses on 64s and finer and 48s-50s grade, but few sales are being closed. Quotations remain firm.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Richfield Surprises Traders With 2-Point Advance; Oil Stocks Show Improvement

Richfield Oil Company featured an irregular trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday with a mysterious spurt of 2 points to a top price at 18¼. The move originated on the New York Stock Exchange where the stock reached 18½ and coincided with a report that James A. Talbot, chairman of the company, had concluded some financing arrangements with eastern bankers. The stock closed at 18⅛, up 1⅞ net.

The action of the Richfield stock also revived rumors that Sinclair or Cities Service had acquired the company. None of these received official confirmation.

Other oil stocks recorded a general fractional improvement as sentiment prevailed in the street that the gasoline war was speedily coming to an end. Union advanced 3-4 to 40 3-4, a new top for the current move, and Union Associates firmed up ½ to 40½. Standard of California added 5-8 to cross 60 and end at 60 1-4. Pacific Western improved a similar amount to 15 5-8 and Macmillan advanced a full point to 16.

Bearish operations were again concentrated on Transamerica with a severe selling wave which resulted in transactions of 6500 shares, more than double the trading in Richfield, which was the next most active issue. The stock tumbled a point to hit a new bottom for this market at 27½. Union Bank and Trust Company, which has consistently held at 325, dropped 5 points. Security-First National eased fractionally to 102½.

Southern California Edison held within narrow limits and dipped 3-8 to 55 3-8. Pacific Public Service reacted 3-8 to 25 5-8. Claude Neon fell off 3-4 to 30 1-8.

Sales totaled 18,446 shares valued at $616,440; previous day, 10,707 shares valued at $450,489.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Few changes of consequence took place on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday with only approximately a half-dozen issues in the major group being called in the dealings. Price movements were held to fractions and were mixed.

Hancock Oil and Universal Oil showed improvement. The former gained 1-4 to 12 and the latter ½ to 8½. Cities Service sold down 3-4 to 25 1-4 and Fokker with Fox Theaters lost 1-4 to end at 18 and 8, respectively.

Bandini Petroleum continued to hold the interest of traders in the penny group. This issue, which last week took a sudden spurt, to a new high for the year at 5.25 again reacted and lost another 60 cents to end at 3.15. United Vanadium broke 50 cents to 1.00.

Sales totaled 20,500 shares valued at $42,656; previous day, 12,548 shares valued at $39,577.

Protecting Your Children's Future

...through systematic investment

Through modern investment methods you can make definite financial plans for the future of your children.

A comparatively small investment today will provide, in 10 to 15 years, a fund sufficient for a college education, to help toward the purchase of a home or to provide a "Start in life." Many shareholders of Massachusetts Investors Trust are following systematic investment programs with these ends in view.

MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST

The shares of this Trust give you the greatest possible accumulation consistent with security. They provide double growth of your capital, through appreciation of common stock holdings, plus reinvestment of dividends (if desired.)

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, July 8. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Independent sheet mills in the valley district have increased operations 10 points to 40 per cent of capacity this week.

This gain has been made despite a falling off in automotive demand, due largely to an increased volume of orders coming from diversified sources. Steel ingot operations have been resumed this week on a slightly lower basis than prior to the holiday, but on the whole are regarded as fairly satisfactory.

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—Copper weak; electrolytic, spot and future, 11½.

Iron steady; unchanged.

Tin easier; spot and near by, 29.75; future, 30.12.

Lead quiet; New York, spot, 5.35; East St. Louis, 5.15.

Zinc, East St. Louis, spot and futures, 4.10@4.15.

OIL POLICY CONTINUED

Directors of the Wilcox Oil and Gas Company at the regular meeting held yesterday decided to continue the policy of expansion of the company by reinvesting the income in filling stations and refineries instead of going back to a dividend basis.

Black Rust in France Brings Rally in Wheat

CHICAGO, July 8. (AP)—Black rust menacing United States wheat and curtailing wheat yields in France did a good deal to bring about higher prices here today for wheat. The rise in wheat values, however, was preceded by a new smashing of low-price records, cutting down materially the 10 cents a bushel difference that until today has separated recent bottom levels from the lowest reached seventeen years ago. Breaks in stock exchange quotations were largely blamed for today's fresh downward swing of wheat prices, but enlarged export buying of wheat was afterward a factor in turning the wheat market upward.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm at nearly the top point reached, ⅝@1¼c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed at ¾@1½c advance, oats ⅛@¼c up and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5c.

Adding to anxiety about black rust both in domestic wheat and foreign were advices that five days of high temperatures and insufficient moisture had wilted crops over many sections from Nebraska north to the Canadian line. There were also reports of damage by a storm in Canada that extended 500 miles. A special further stimulus to buyers of wheat was found in assertions export business of much larger volume than acknowledged has been in progress, with estimates current that European purchases today and yesterday aggregated upward of 2,000,000 bushels.

Cables from France told of persistent complaints of crop deterioration caused by rust and other factors, with signs indicating France is bidding for North American wheat and the French import duty on wheat may be removed. There was talk heard the peak of the harvest movement of wheat has been passed in the country south and west of Hutchinson, Kan.

Corn advanced more readily than wheat, with corn traders putting stress on reports the next few weeks will either make or break the new corn crop. Primary receipts of corn were much smaller than a year ago. Oats steadied with corn after having joined corn and wheat in reaching new low-price records.

Provisions were firm as a result of buying credit to eastern account.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Light fresh receipts and a very moderate holdover were moved in good season at prices little changed from Monday's trade. Bulk of fresh offerings was fed steers, from midwestern points with a load of steers from a near-by feedlot. Desirable quality she stock was scarce.

Three loads of 1074@1192 pound fed Nebraska steers made 11.25 with a load of 1052-pound weights at 11.20. A part load of 868-pound Colorado steers brought 10.00 with a load of 985-pound kinds from a near-by feedlot at the same price. A few odd lots of steers turned at 8.25@8.50 with a load of 934-pound Holsteins from Utah at 7.00.

A package of 614-pound Colorado fed heifers brought 9.25 with a few grassers at 7.00@7.15 and some very common kinds at 5.50. One cow in the Colorado shipment brought 7.75 with bulk of common to low medium Californias and dairy type she stock at 5.50@7.00. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 2.50 to 5.25 with some down to 2.00. A few bulls cashed at 5.00 to 6.50 with one 1530-pound animal at 6.85.

CALVES—Calves and vealers were rather scarce and sold fully steady. A few head sold at 13.00 and above with bulk of medium to good kind at 10.00@12.25. Plain light vealers and heavy calves sold down to 8.00 and below.

HOGS—Less than 100 local fed butchers were available and sold early at prices around 25c higher. Eastern butchers are quoted to 10.75 with a possibility that more money would be paid. Some 192 to 203-pound local fed butchers brought 10.25@10.50 with packing sows at 8.50. A package of 120-pound feeder pigs brought 10.35.

SHEEP—Four decks of fresh lambs and a deck of holdovers sold fairly early at about steady rates. Four decks of 79-pound medium to good quality lambs brought 9.00 with 100 head out at 6.75. A deck of 66-pound Imperials made 8.75 with twenty-five head out at 7.00. Good to choice lambs, 75 pounds down, are quoted up to 9.50. Late Monday a deck of 81-pound lambs turned at 8.00, sorted 15 per cent at 6.00 and seven decks of similar weight brought 7.50 straight.

Continental Roll & Steel Foundry Company

First Mortgage Convertible 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Series A

Dated June 1, 1930 Due June 1, 1940

CONVERSION PRIVILEGE—Each First Mortgage Bond, Series A, is convertible at face value to and including June 1, 1935, at the option of the holder, into Common Capital Stock of the Company at the following prices per share for the stock with adjustments for interest and dividends: $40 to and including June 1, 1932; $50 thereafter to and including June 1, 1934; $60 thereafter to and including June 1, 1935. In the event any Series A Bonds are called for redemption the conversion privilege of those so called will expire on the tenth day prior to the redemption date. Bearer stock scrip will be issued for fractional shares. The Mortgage contains provisions designed to protect the conversion privilege against dilution in certain contingencies.

Total authorized issue, $10,000,000. Outstanding, Series A, $4,000,000. Semi-annual interest, June 1 and December 1, and principal payable at Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company, Chicago, Illinois, or at Bankers Trust Company, New York City. Interest payable without deduction for normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2%. Redeemable at the option of the Company, in whole or in part, at any time upon 30 days' prior notice at the following prices and accrued interest: 105% if redeemed on or prior to June 1, 1932; 104% thereafter and on or prior to June 1, 1934; 103% thereafter and on or prior to June 1, 1936; 102% thereafter and on or prior to June 1, 1938; 101% thereafter and on or prior to June 1, 1939 and 100% thereafter to maturity. Coupon Bonds in interchangeable denominations of $1,000 and $500, registerable as to principal only.

The Company has agreed to reimburse to the owners resident in the following States, upon application in the manner specified in the Mortgage, the following annual taxes paid in respect to each $1.00 of principal amount or assessed value of these Bonds: the Minnesota tax not in excess of three mills; the Pennsylvania, California or Connecticut tax not in excess of four mills; the Maryland tax not in excess of four and one-half mills; the Iowa tax not in excess of six mills; the West Virginia, Kansas, Kentucky or Michigan tax not in excess of five mills and on like terms has agreed to reimburse to such owners resident in Massachusetts any Massachusetts income tax not exceeding 6% of the interest on said Bonds in any year.

CONTINENTAL ILLINOIS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY, CHICAGO, CORPORATE TRUSTEE

The following is summarized by Mr. J. T. Osler, President, from his letter dated July 3, 1930, describing this issue and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES—Continental Roll & Steel Foundry Company was recently organized to acquire assets and business of the following companies all of which had been in successful operation over a long period of years:

HUBBARD STEEL FOUNDRY COMPANY,
East Chicago, Indiana,
DUQUESNE STEEL FOUNDRY COMPANY,
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and WHEELING MOLD & FOUNDRY COMPANY,
Wheeling, West Virginia.

The plants are strategically located in relation to the Chicago and Pittsburgh zone markets for steel and iron rolls and steel castings. The Company is the only concern in the United States producing and selling rolls in both of these major steel centers. Among the users of the Company's rolls and castings are United States Steel Corporation, New York Central Railroad Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation, Pennsylvania Railroad Company and Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company.

The Company is the largest producer of steel, steel alloy and iron rolls as well as the largest producer of miscellaneous steel castings in the United States.

SECURITY—These Bonds, constituting the Company's only funded debt, are secured, in the opinion of Counsel, by a first mortgage on all the fixed assets of the Company. The Balance Sheet as of December 31, 1929, after giving effect to this financing, shows net tangible assets available for these Bonds of $11,108,620 or more than $2,700 for each $1,000 Bond. Fixed assets amount to more than $2,200 per $1,000 Bond. Current assets of $3,409,436 were more than 3½ times current liabilities of $969,554.

The Mortgage securing this issue contains, among other protective provisions, appropriate restrictions as to the issuance of additional bonds up to the total authorized amount of $10,000,000.

EARNINGS—Combined net earnings of the three predecessor Companies, after depreciation as established by independent engineers, and adjusted to eliminate non-recurring charges averaging $153,476 annually, but before Federal Taxes, were as follows:

| Years Ended December 31, | Net Earnings | Times Annual Interest On This Issue |
| 1925 | $ 802,070 | 3.3 |
| 1926 | 843,503 | 3.5 |
| 1927 | 752,468 | 3.1 |
| 1928 | 1,284,160 | 5.3 |
| 1929 | 1,764,272 | 7.3 |
| Annual Average | 1,089,294 | 4.5 |

It is the opinion of the management that earnings for the first six months of 1930 will compare favorably with earnings for the same period of 1929.

After all prior charges, net earnings for the above five year period averaged $2.49 per share on 216,000 shares of Common Stock now outstanding; for the last three calendar years such average earnings were $3.21 per share and for 1929 such earnings were $5.24 per share.

PURPOSE—These Series A Bonds, together with $3,000,000 of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 216,000 shares of no par value Common Stock, were issued in connection with the acquisition of assets and business of the three predecessor Companies, for working capital and for other corporate purposes.

SINKING FUND—The Mortgage provides for a Sinking Fund, beginning April 1, 1931, sufficient to retire 60% of this Series prior to maturity, the minimum annual retirement being $200,000 principal amount.

MANAGEMENT—The management is in the hands of the principal executives who have been responsible for the success of the predecessor Companies and who are considered leaders in this industry. They own a substantial majority of the Common Stock of the Company.

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Meyer zone in the Santa Fe prings field continues to be the ost attractive sand since the rapid epletion of the lower zones slowed own the frenzied drilling campaign in that area.

Among the operators to plug ack to the Meyer zone is the Unn Oil Company and George F. Getty, Inc. Union has several projts that will be completed in the ld sand within a few weeks. The ordstrom sand, a little lower down, kewise is the goal of a number f operators who have decided to rill no more wells into the Clarke ands.

Getty's No. 15, formerly a lower Clarke sand producer, has plugged ack and is to be brought in from he Meyer zone. It is drilling bew 4142 feet. Operators are pluging back because it costs a great al less to do so and they can t small, but steady production t the shallower depth.

The George F. Getty Petroleum orporation, subsidiary of George . Getty, Inc., completed its first roducer in the Hobbs district of ea county, New Mexico, recently hen its McKinley No. 1, located n Sec. 30, 18-38, came in for 11,barrels of 36 deg. gravity oil day, along with 14,000,000 cubic et of gas per day from a depth 4200 feet.

Getty Petroleum's first producer the Hobbs field is on a 160-acre ase due north of the Bowers o. 1 discovery well brought in veral months ago, and which now flowing at the rate of 7500 barls daily. Most of the acreage surounding Getty's first venture is sed to Shell, Amarada, Ohio and umble oil companies.

No facilities are located on Getty etroleum's lease to handle the w of oil and indications are that hen its potential is established e well will be shut in to conm to the curtailment program.

s Reiest

Appearance of water with the w of oil from the Ring Oil Comy's No. 5-A in the Los Cerritos ld, necessitated the killing of the oject to recement for a water ut-off with bottom of the hole 6060 feet. Originally completed veral weeks ago for 1500 barrels f oil a day, it was beaned back 900 barrels daily.

Tembler

The Ring Oil Company's More . 1 near Goleta continues to ake progress with the drill in e Temblor zone. Bottom of the le is below 4385 feet and is ught to be nearing the Vaqueros rmation. Cuts of oil sand are oking good, and gas indicates that ithin a few days interesting deopments may be expected.

The fact that showings of oil d have been encountered above e Vaqueros leads operators to lieve that Ring's project has an ellent chance of finding producn, as it is asserted that in the t projects that failed to find owings above the Vaqueros usualy were wet.

eaming Down

With 151 feet of oil formation red, the Richfield Oil Company's ffin No. 1 in the Potrero town lot s now is reaming preparatory to nning another string of casing th bottom at 6258 feet. This is e deepest test for the that district ce abandonment of the St. Pacia Oil Company's Connolley No. southeast of the town lot produc-.

ay Resume Soon

Loss of nearly 200 feet of drill e in the Belridge Oil Company's . 15 in the North Belridge disict has delayed plans to resume illing, with bottom of the hole at feet. This undertaking presly had been on production and wing thirty-five barrels of highavity oil a day along with 3,800,cubic feet of gas, but it sanded and the crew since has been aning out to bottom to deepen at st 300 feet. In that vicinity the Richfield Oil Company's No. 1 is tting a string of stove pipe with ttom at 665 feet.

ecompletes One

Possibility of obtaining excellent production higher on the structure s indicated by results yesterday in e Shell Oil Company's Wilbur No. located near the intersection of herry and Hill streets, near the iddle of the Signal Hill field.

Shell's Wilbur No. 5, originally mpleted at a depth of 6375 feet r 300 barrels of oil, was plugged ck to 5200 feet and the casing erforated. While preparing to inall a pump on the project to deermine what it was good for, it me in and early estimates were hat it was flowing at the rate of 00 barrels of 28-deg. gravity oil a ay. The recompleted well is just rth of Tom Cannon's Hall & Webber No. 1, brought in several onths ago for 2000 barrels of oil a ay at a depth of 7000 feet.

alls for Offset

In the event the Chanslor Caneld-Midway Oil Company's Hobson -2 two miles southeast of Seacliff hould come in as a producer, it eans that the Continental Oil ompany would start activity on its ghty-acre lease due south of it. Chanslor Canfield's Hobson A-2

The Meyer zone in the Santa Fe [illegible] field continues to be the [illegible] attractive sand since the rapid [illegible] of the lower zones slowed [illegible] the frenzied drilling campaign in that area.

[illegible] the operators to plug [illegible] to the Meyer zone is the Union Oil Company and George F. Getty, Inc. Union has several projects that will be completed in the [illegible] within a few weeks. The [illegible] sand, a little lower down, [illegible] is the goal of a number of operators who have decided to [illegible] more wells into the Clarke [illegible].

Getty's No. 15, formerly a lower [illegible] sand producer, has plugged [illegible] and is to be brought in from the Meyer zone. It is drilling below [illegible] feet. Operators are plugging back because it costs a great [illegible] to do so and they can [illegible] small, but steady production [illegible] the shallower depth.

Chanslor Canfield's Hobson A-2 yesterday continued to swab with bottom of the hole at 7479 feet and pressure on the casing was 1000 pounds. Operators watching results there assert that the Seacliff field will undoubtedly be extended and that greater activity will result. The Continental Oil Company also controls 1100 acres in the same general vicinity, while Chanslor Canfield, discoverer of the Seacliff field, holds most of the surrounding acreage. The General Petroleum Corporation, besides its tideland properties, where its Ferguson No. 2 was completed, controls other acreage near the Seacliff field.

Outlook Improves

The amount of water produced along with the oil from Gardner No. 1 of the Terra Bella Oil Company near Terra Bella is reported to be decreasing. A new sump is being dug to handle the output, which is estimated to be approximately thirty-five barrels per day. Several tanks are nearly filled.

Due north of Terra Bella's producer the Bradford Company has completed its derrick. Due east of the producer Miller & Wilkie of San Francisco have material and supplies on a new location. A short distance west of it another well is to be drilled. Field reports state that still another well will be drilled on a ten-acre lease adjoining the Orange Belt Highway, due north of the Terra Bella town site.

Venice Permits Granted

The City Council yesterday approved twenty-five applications for oil drilling permits in Venice. Two of them, for H. H. Pearsons and R. J. C. Judge, were opposed by Councilmen Cooke, Lewis and Williams, because they are on the beach side of the Speedway. This minority was not sufficient to defeat them.

The permits are for M. C. E. Stainback, Nellie Felter, two permits; G. M. Jones, the Nevada Investment Company, J. W. Briscoe, M. C. Wiley, A. C. Rowell, Marie Boyd, L. C. Hahn, W. H. McMullin, F. P. Thrasher, Albert Stanley, five permits; Rose Lieber, three permits, and Florence Dodge, two permits.

New Completions Due

With the completion of at least three new wells in the Elwood field, the production there may increase at least 6000 barrels of oil a day. The Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination, Bankline Oil Company and the Pacific Western Oil Company each have projects that are expected to be on steady production by the 15th inst.

Class Work Schedule

Supplementing classroom work with practical excursions into the field, members of the class in advanced petroleum geology of the summer session of the University of Southern California are making weekly trips into the oil fields of Southern California, under the direction of Dr. Jesse P. Rowe, visiting professor of geology from the State University of Montana.

Logs are taken of each well in the fields visited, from which are constructed underground contour peg models which reveal the variation of the position of the oil sands in that field. The Inglewood field is scheduled to be visited by the Trojan geologists on their trip Friday.

Lloyd Picture Shown in Court to Prove Point

"Grandma's Boy" made his appearance yesterday in the court of United States Judge Cosgrave in the trial of the case of Mrs. H. C. Witwer, widow of the author, against Harold Lloyd, motion-picture comedian.

Mrs. Witwer is suing Lloyd, the Harold Lloyd Corporation and others for infringement of copyright of a story which it is asserted was used as the basis for the Lloyd picture, "The Freshman."

The picture "Grandma's Boy" was exhibited to show that Lloyd had the same underlying thought in all of his pictures.

Testimony was completed yesterday and arguments of counsel will begin this morning. It is expected the case will be submitted for decision today.

Indigent With Saving Genius Regarded Queer

Mrs. Eulalie Hebert, who saved $2300 from funds donated through charity for her support, was ordered in charge of a psychopathic parole officer when she appeared before Superior Judge Stephens yesterday, in a hearing asked by Superintendent Harriman of the Los Angeles County Poor Farm, where Mrs. Hebert was an inmate.

Owen E. Rogers and Mrs. Annie E. Rogers had asked to be appointed guardians of the aged woman, when they heard Poor Farm attaches had found $2300 sewed up in her garments. Deputy County Counsel Vobayda, however, demanded that the aged woman pay for her board and support at the Poor Farm, and she was kept in charge of county officers.

RONALD COLMAN HOME FROM EUROPEAN TOUR

After a three months' vacation in England, France and Holland, Ronald Colman, film actor, returned aboard the Chief last night. Colman brought with him the ending of his next screen production, an original by Frederick Lonsdale, which was written in London. The first half of the story was brought over by Evelyn Laye who arrived ten days ago. After the completion of "Raffles" in April, Colman was given an extended vacation, the first in several years. He left for England in company with Ernest Torrence and his wife. William Powell left several weeks later and the quartet toured Europe together.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Alhambra, Hill nr. 8th.—"The Return of Fu Manchu." Hocus-pocus in quantities by Warner Oland and cast.

Bard's Eighth between Broadway & Hill. "The Texan." Gary Cooper out in the wilds again and you may like him.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Double Cross-roads." Regeneration and romance blended to a novel twist by Robert Ames.

California, Main near Eighth—"Hot Curves." A lot of florid fun supplied mostly by Benny Rubin.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"So This is London." Will Rogers goes abroad again and finds London as funny as Paris.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Big House." An exciting and realistic drama of prison life featuring Wallace Beery and Chester Morris.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Hurrah, I'm Alive." A peculiar and clever farce about a Dutchman. Filmed in Holland.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Song of the Flame." Russia done to music with costumes and trimmings with Bernice Claire and Alexander Grey.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Unholy Three." Lon Chaney makes his debut in fine voice, in a remake of a successful silent.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Devil's Holiday." An unusual film of varying worth presenting Nancy Carroll at her best.

Pantages, Hollyw'd at Vine.—"The Divorcee." An up-to-the-minute conflict of love with grand work by Norma Shearer and others.

Paramount, Hill at 6th.—"The Man from Wyoming." Back to the battlefields for absolutely no reason at all. Gary Cooper.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea.—"Arizona Kid."

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"What a Man." Reginald Denny in nothing outstanding, but something amusing.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Shooting Straight." A two-fisted melodrama of gangsters in disguise played with spirit by Richard Dix.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"The Man from Blankley's." John Barrymore forgets his profile and is very funny.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th.—"Anybody's War." Opens today.

Uptown, Wilshire at Tenth—"Born Reckless." The story of Louis Beretti, the gangster, told too episodically. Edmund Lowe.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Bright Lights." Another back-stage melodrama, with music, color and Dorothy Mackaill.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"Nancy from Naples." An artificial musicale with a lot of scenery and such. Irene Delroy.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado—"Lady of Scandal." A quiet but effective love story conflicting with English nobility. Ruth Chatterton.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Eleventh—"Caprice." A comedy wherein manners and morals are mingled with delightful indiscretion by Fay Bainter and Reginald Owen.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland "Nancy's Private Affair." A smart and amusing comedy, which stars Minna Gombell.

Mason, Broadway near First—"Subway Express." An entertaining and thrilling murder mystery of New York. With Leo Pierson.

Mayan, Hill at Eleventh—"Molly Magdalene." Melodrama and climax with every act which might appeal to some. With Crane Wilbur.

VARIETIES

Follies, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

Man Saved in Pool Mishap Asks Damages

TULSA (Okla.) July 8. (AP)—Tulsa City Commissioners are studying the case of Albert Guy.

Guy, according to the records of the municipal swimming pool, was saved from drowning last week by a life guard.

Today Guy's attorney presented a bill for $30. The claim lists $15 as due from the city because he was permitted to be almost drowned.

The other $15 is claimed as a result of a bruise Guy claims to have received on his head when the life guard dropped him after dragging him from the pool. The commissioners are investigating.

Six Shiploads of Lumber from Russia Admitted

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—Assistant Secretary Lowman ruled today that six shiploads of Russian lumber imported by the A. C. Dutton Lumber Company, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., should be admitted, as it had not been proved it was produced by convict labor.

Two shiploads of the lumber arrived at Poughkeepsie and Providence, R. I., last week and were denied entrance by customs officials under the Tariff Act which provides articles produced wholly or in part in any foreign country by convict labor shall not be entitled to entry.

Four Lives Lost as Motor Boat Sinks in Lake

GREEN BAY (Wis.) July 8. (AP)—Four lives were lost tonight when a motorboat carrying twelve children and adults celebrating a birthday party foundered and sank off Point Comfort, eighteen miles north of here in Lake Michigan.

The victims were Ray Raxmaker, 38 years of age; Juliana Zellner, 12; Alice Worder, 10, and Edwin Haase, 9.

Six children and two adults were rescued by boats. The lake was calm.

GRAF ON NEW FLIGHT

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) July 8. (AP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin at midnight left here for a three-day flight to the North Cape and to Spitzbergen. Dr. Hugo Eckener was in command.

DAUGHTERS OF BRITISH GROUP QUIT

Queen Victoria Chapter of Santa Monica Secedes in Row Over Rest Home

Secession of Queen Victoria Chapter of Santa Monica from the Daughters of the British Empire, and the withdrawal of some seventy individual members from the organization over conflicting opinions on the erection of a new home for aged people of Great Britain at Santa Monica, were announced yesterday.

Announcement of the climax of the dissension that has been apparent among the membership for some time over the plans, specifications and cost of the projected home, came when the formation of the British-American Service League was announced.

Dr. Dorothy C. Smyley of Santa Monica and New York, chief proponent of the proposed home, is announced as the president pro tem of the new organization, with Mrs. John C. Austin of Pasadena, vice-president. The new organization formed of seceding members of the Daughters of the British Empire, will devote itself to philanthropic and social affairs, and a number of American women will become active in the league.

Lack of Funds May Close Police Printing Bureau

Prospects that the police printing bureau, supposed to have been created a separate unit by the City Council recently, may have to close down because it is operating without authority and because of lack of funds to pay the printers, was drawn to the attention of the Police Commission yesterday by Chief of Police Steckel.

Steckel said Chief Accountant Hoye had informed him the ordinance making the bureau a separate unit and providing for a revolving fund to pay its members has been held up in a Council committee. He urged that a committee of the commission make an effort to get favorable action.

REST CURE TAKEN BY LILA LEE

Actress Seeks Recovery of Health in Prescott Sanatorium

Seeking to recover her health after the strenuous work of appearing before the camera during the filming of a series of talking pictures, Lila Lee, motion-picture actress, was reported yesterday to be under a rest cure in a sanatorium near Prescott, Ariz. Miss Lee withdrew from the cost of a picture being filmed at the First National studios the 2nd inst. and was then ordered by her physician to take an extended rest.

Although she was reported to be suffering from tuberculosis and under treatment in the Arizona sanatorium, this was denied by several of her friends in Hollywood last night. Miss Margaret Ettinger, a close friend and her press agent, said: "Miss Lee is simply worn out with hard work and she has been ordered to take a rest. At first she thought she would go to Laguna Beach, but her physician told her to go further away where she could be quiet."

Miss Lee is the wife of James Kirkwood, motion-picture actor, but a divorce complaint filed by the actor on May 24, last, is now pending. The couple have a 5-year-old son, who is with the father.

Mystic Shrine Will Initiate Nobles Friday

Friday night's ceremonial session called by Potentate Wadley of Al Malaikah Temple is expected to initiate about 200 new Nobles into the secrets of the Mystic Shrine. The announcement that the ceremonial would dispense with the hot sands feature of the ritual brought in many applications to Recorder Ramsey.

This will be the first ceremonial of the kind in the Shrine Civic Auditorium and is through special permission.

In addition to the ceremony an entertainment program has been prepared for the Shriners. The doors will open at 7 p.m. Potentate Wadley announces that applications for initiation can be filed as late as 6 p.m. Friday.

Dehring Faces Two Counts of Manslaughter

Charles H. Dehring of 434 West Tenth street, Azusa, must face trial by Superior Court on two counts of manslaughter, Municipal Judge Turney ordered yesterday at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing. His bail was fixed at $2500.

Witnesses called by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman declared that on May 30, last, Dehring's automobile collided head-on with one occupied by Pauline Eaton of 6062 Carlos street, and Hume W. McFarlane of 6806 Santa Monica Boulevard, as he attempted to pass another car at high speed on Foothill Boulevard near Monrovia. Miss Eaton was killed instantly in the collision and McFarlane died later in a hospital. Deputy sheriffs who arrested Dehring declared he had been drinking.

Civil Service Hearing Set on Rodgers Case

Following a preliminary report by Commissioner Ellis into the charges by George Leigh Rodgers that his resignation as building manager of the City Hall was obtained by the Board of Public Works by "fraud, trickery and device," the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission yesterday set next Tuesday morning for a public heading on his appeal. He asks restoration to the position.

Rodgers asserts that when he agreed to resign he was informed the job was to be abolished. When he learned that the budget provided for its continuance he sought to withdraw his resignation, but instead it was accepted.

Pioneer Woman of Los Angeles Passes at Home

Mrs. Margaret M. Vogt, pioneer resident of Los Angeles, died yesterday at her home, 2021 Toberman street, after a two weeks' illness. She was 72 years of age.

Mrs. Vogt leaves two daughters, Miss Gladys Clara Vogt of Los Angeles and Mrs. Katherine Margaret Karlen of Monroe, Wis.; one sister, Mrs. Emma Ingold, and three nephews, R. F. Ingold, vice-president of the Los Angeles Investment Company; Harold E. and Walter H. Ingold, all of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the J. H. Reideman mortuary, 1611 South Main street. Interment will be in Rosedale Cemetery.

Missionary Will Be Buried Today

Miss Cynthia E. Wilson, a Presbyterian missionary in India for forty-one years and known for her translations of the Bible and other books into the Hindustani and Punjabi languages, will be laid to rest today in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. She died Saturday at the Pasadena Hospital, where she had been confined since a fall she sustained ten months ago. Funeral services will be conducted at the United Presbyterian Church in Pasadena.

Miss Wilson went to India as a missionary in 1876 and remained there until 1917, when she came to Southern California. Death came at 80 years of age. She leaves a sister, Miss Rozant Wilson, and a brother, William G. Wilson.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Ruega a Dios la Duquesa que su Próximo Hijo Sea Varón

LONDRES, Julio 8.—En los actuales momentos es la duquesa de York objeto de muy especial interés por parte de sus reales parientes. Todos anhelan que sea varón la criatura que espera para muy pronto la duquesa, y ésta también lo desea así.

Si se realizaren las esperanzas de la familia real, habrá heredero del trono en línea recta. Pero la duquesa desea un niño por otras y más humanas razones.

Ha sido una de sus penas, desde el nacimiento de su hija, el no haber tenido mano libre en la educación de la chiquilla, pues las circunstancias casi se lo prohiben. La princesa Isabel, hija de la duquesa, era, y sigue siendo, heredera del trono en línea recta, y, por lo tanto, al rey le compete por tradición, por costumbre y por ley vigilar la crianza y educación de la niña, y la reina María es quien ha decidido sin apelación todas las cuestiones relativas al cuidado y educación de la princesita.

Pero si la duquesa tuviese un hijo, perdería la princesa Isabel su importancia capital en la familia reinante, y tomaría su lugar el varoncito. Para la duquesa de York significaría esto la recuperación de sus derechos de madre, y podría satisfacer sus instintos de tal guiando y educando a su hija en la forma que mejor le satisficiese.

Los Griegos se Oponen a los Rascacielos

NUEVA YORK, Julio 8.—Parece ser que se ha levantado gran polvareda en Atenas con motivo del proyecto que tiene un yanqui de levantar un rascacielos en medio de las ruinas clásicas de la antigua capital.

La gente está dirigiendo remitidos de protesta a los periódicos atenienses, y el arquitecto de Nueva York, John Vassos, que proyectó el edificio en cuestión, ha estado recibiendo cartas de significados residentes de la capital de Grecia, en las que éstos declaran que llevar a cabo tal idea sería una violación de la tradición griega.

El arquitecto hace observar que el edificio no va a tener más que dieciseis pisos, y que los que costean su construcción van a llevar adelante el proyecto en la creencia de que los atenienses cambiarán de parecer cuando vean terminado el inmueble.

El coste del rascacielo, que se eleva a casi $1,000,000, va a ser sufragado por norteamericanos de origen griego. El solar lo proporcionó el gobierno griego.

Archimillonario en un Tiempo, No Puede Hoy Saldar sus Cuentas

UNIONTOWN (Pensylvania), Julio 8.—Poseedor en otra época de $75,000,000, J. V. Thompson, exbanquero y negociante en carbón del condado de Fayette, tiene que allegar para el 31 de Julio la suma de $300,000, o verse sentenciado a prisión indefinida por rebeldía.

Urge esa suma para hacer frente a pagarés extendidos por Thompson cuando era fideicomisario de dos testamentarías radicadas aquí; una de ellas, la de John Nicolls, padre de la princesa de Thurn y Taxis. La acción fue interpuesta ante el juzgado por la princesa, que es sobrina de Thompson.

Emplazado ayer por el juzgado, Thompson, que optó en otro tiempo al gobierno de Pensilvania, se confesó incapaz de hacer frente a sus obligaciones, e iba a ser condenado a prisión, cuando sus defensores pidieron y consiguieron una espera de veinticuatro días.

Thompson, aseguran ellos, está gestionando una operación de carbón que importa $20,000,000, del arreglo de la cual espera sacar lo necesario para pagar sus compromisos. No fueron revelados los pormenores de ese negocio.

Dueño en otro tiempo de vastas propiedades hulleras en todo el oeste de Pensilvania y en algunas regiones de Virginia Occidental, Thompson quebró en setenta y cinco millones de dólares hace quince años.

NOTAS LOCALES

Hállanse Aquí Numerosos Tejanos de Excursión

Han llegado ayer a Los Angeles varios cientos de personas procedentes de Luisiana, Tejas y otros puntos del sur del país. Llegaron unos 250 a las 6 a.m. en un tren especial compuesto de quince coches dormitorios. Otros llegaron a las 12:30 p.m. en tren ordinario.

Viajan nuestros visitantes con billetes especiales de excursión vendidos por el ferrocarril de Santa Fe y valederos por veintiún días. El tren especial se formó el sábado próximo pasado, y transportó viajeros de Houston y Galveston. Han llegado también excursionistas de Temple, Fort Worth, Dallas, Lubbock y Amarillo, poblaciones, todas, de Tejas.

Se Casan un Carcelero Ayudante y Una Taquígrafa

J. J. Moran, carcelero ayudante de la cárcel del codado desde hace dos años, telefoneó ayer a sus amigos del Palacio de Justicia que se había casado este último sabado en Monterrey con la señorita Mae Crocker, taquígrafa del Banco de California. Dice que él y su novia se van en automóvil rumbo al sur, en viaje de bodas, y que pronto volverán a ésta, donde tienen su casa.

Da Fin una Larga Vida Conyugal

Para Alice y William H. Hellinger ha terminado ayer una vida conyugal de 31 años, pues el juez superior Collier le ha concedido el divorcio a la esposa. Se querelló ésta contra su marido, porque éste no proveía a los gastos del hogar. Tienen los Hellingers tres hijos, de 27, de 25, y de 22 años, respectivamente.

COUNCIL FINDS MONEY FOR SIGNAL DIVISION

To plug up the gap created when the budget-makers forgot to finance the traffic signal division, the City Council, on recommendation of the Finance Committee, yesterday appropriated $15,083 from the street traffic fund to pay the salaries of forty-three men and to buy equipment during the present month for the division. The Council must find the money somewhere to support this division for the other eleven months of the year.

MOUNTAIN HIDES FATE OF YOUTH

Searchers Fail to Find Trace of Howard Lamel Lost on Mt. Whitney

A three-day search on the east slope of Mt. Whitney up to last night had failed to locate Howard Lamel, 18-year-old youth who became separated from a mountain-climbing party last Saturday.

HOWARD LAMEL

Young Lamel, accompanied his father, Edward G. Lamel, a brother, Arthur, and others on a holiday ascent of the highest peak of the United States, which was to be completed in three days.

Saturday morning, when the party reached the 12,000-foot level, Howard decided to try the treacherous east slope for the remainder of the ascent. The father, brother, and others took the more easy ascent of the west slope. They were to be met by Howard at the 13,500-foot level.

When the climbers reached the higher point they waited for the intrepid youth for some hours. He failed to make his appearance and the father and son kept up their vigil all Saturday night. Sunday morning they appealed for help.

Searching parties from Lone Pine and Independence have been combing the east slope of the mountain since that time, and no word of success has been received at 1025 South Mansfield avenue, the family home here. The father sent word last night that he and the other son will remain with the searchers until the missing boy is found.

Light Shower Moistens City

Los Angeles was treated to a light shower late last night. The moisture, however, was hardly enough to start motorists' windshield cleaners and lasted only long enough to dampen the streets with a few large drops.

The wayward raindrops drifted in from the ocean and, according to unofficial weather observers, probably will be followed by clear weather today.

FUNERAL FOR TEACHER TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon for Miss Ella G. Webster at Pierce Brothers' chapel at 3 o'clock. Interment will be at Inglewood Cemetery. Miss Webster was a teacher of English and dramatics at Jefferson High School for eight years. She had been in ill health for the past year. She resided at 1120 West Fiftieth street. She leaves her mother, Mrs. Lucy A. Webster.

CHAMBER HOPES TO END GAS WAR

Director Group Meets Today to Plan Intervention

Governor Asked to Enter in Price-Cutting Row

Independent Refineries Face Early Extermination

Yesterday's developments in the gasoline price war which has raged intermittenly on the Pacific Coast for three months, included a move for a settlement of the price situation by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce when a special meeting of its directors was called for this morning with the independent refiners; rumors of a Federal investigation; an appeal by San Francisco service-station operators to Gov. Young for intervention and reports from Tacoma that gasoline is selling there for the record low price of 8 cents per gallon.

R. S. Macmillan, president of the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation, yesterday announced that three additional independent refining companies have joined forces with his company for a restoration of the 19½-cent price. These companies are the United States Refining Company, the St. Helens Refining Company, the Hercules Gasoline Company, the Western Gasoline Company and the Edington Refineries. The latter made the announcement last night too late for notification to its 400 dealers, but executives said the 19½-cent price will be effective this morning.

REFINERIES CLOSED

"Two of the small refineries already have been forced to shut down," Mr. Macmillan said yesterday, "and with a continuance of the present price-cutting tactics the entire independent gasoline industry of California is threatened with extinction.

"Most of the major companies have reserves large enough to stand the present losses for a year at least, but that is not the case with the small refiners and unless something is done quickly, they will all be forced to close. This section of the petroleum industry represents an investment of $100,000,000 and that is why the Chamber of Commerce has called its meeting and also why many of the independents have increased their prices and are asking the public to pay a fair rate rather than bring disaster to an important part of the commercial life of the State."

CALL ON GOV. YOUNG

In San Francisco, Joseph Devencenzi, president of the Retail Service Station Dealers' Association, sent a telegram to Gov. Young asking his intervention to end the price-cutting war and save the dealers from "utter ruin."

Devencenzi said in his telegram that unless some action is taken within a week the membership of his organization will sell gasoline at cost. He also asked that the oil companies be declared public utilities and placed under the control of the State Railroad Commission.

SOUTHLAND COMPANY WINS SUIT

Judgment of More Than $600,000 Given Against San Francisco Concern

In a decision handed down yesterday by United States District Judge Cosgrave, the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company, defendant, won a judgment of about $500,000 and other benefits, including interest amounting to about $100,000. The decision came following the trial of a case in which the Pacific Dock and Terminal Company, a San Francisco concern, petitioned the court to construe the import and meaning of an agreement between that company and the Los Angeles company.

It was ordered that the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank of Long Beach, acting as trustees, sell portions of seventy-five acres of land involved in the litigation in order to satisfy the judgment.

The suit was based on the assertion that the Pacific Dock and Terminal Company had agreed to erect a 500-ton blast furnace on the property in question, which, it was asserted, would greatly increase the value of the property. It was charged that the blast furnace was not built.

COUNTY JOBLESS TOTALED

Census Figures Show 73,619 Unemployed or 3.3 Persons Per Each 100 of Population

The last of locally released United States census figures came out yesterday and showed that on April 1 there were 73,619 unemployed persons in Los Angeles county. The figure shows 3.3 unemployed persons in each 100 of the county's 2,199,657 total population under the 1930 census.

Previous announcement showed that 44,787 unemployed, or 3.6 per 100, were among Los Angeles city's 1,231,830 population under the new census. This with yesterday's announcement shows that the unemployed in the county outside of the city numbered 28,832, or 2.9 per 100 of the outside-the-city 967,827 population.

The only unemployment figure for another community so far announced is Cleveland's ratio of 4.5 unemployed per 100 of population. This gave local interests considerable satisfaction especially in view of the claim that Los Angeles has not suffered as much from depression as eastern cities. Just why the census headquarters in Washington ordered Los Angeles and Cleveland to announce their unemployment figures while no others have been announced, so far as is known here, is a mystery in Los Angeles.

Yesterday's figures disclosed that Long Beach had 5326 unemployed, or 3.7 per 100, among its 141,650 population. Similar figures for Pasadena, the other large city in the county, were announced some time ago. They showed 2137 unemployed, or 2.8 per 100, among that city's 75,990 population.

An unemployed person is defined as one out of work, able to work and looking for a job.

The new figures became available

ONE MIGHT ASK, "WHERE'S THE CIRCUS?"

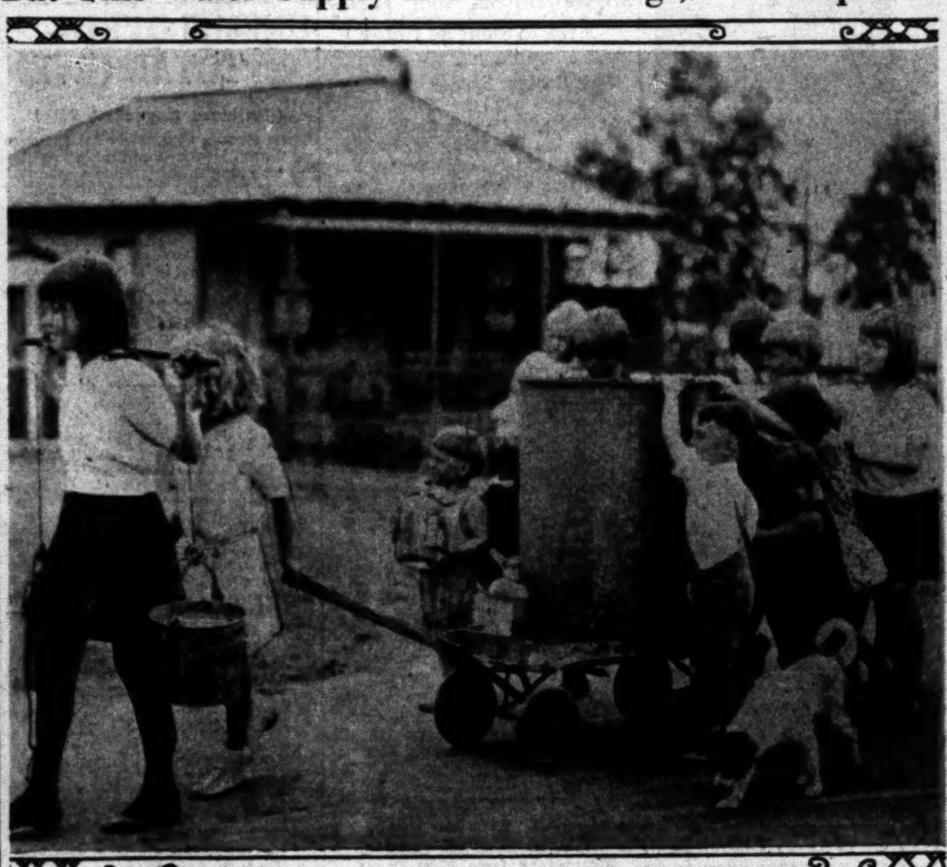
But This Water Supply Is For Washings, Not Elephants



Rosie McVale Leading Her Brigade

Rosie McVale is only 11 years of age, but she has learned to be of service. She had to, because Rosie lives in that arid area just outside the city limits between Western and Normandie avenues and One Hundred and Twentieth and One Hundred and Twenty-eighth streets where residents must haul their own water.

The dwellers there have just filed a petition with the Board of Supervisors complaining of the burden and asking the establishment of a water district. But Rosie, who is sunny and sweet and has a loyal heart, is not waiting for officialdom to act.

With the magic of a Pied Piper, she has enlisted the aid of a group of children in the arid zone, and with Rose wearing one of those two-bucket yokes familiar among the peasantry in foreign lands they all fare forth daily to do their stuff as carriers of water.

What for? Well, perhaps that ought to have been mentioned first, because it is an important part of the story.

Rosie's mother, Mrs. George McVale of 1644 West One Hundred and Twenty-first street, takes in washing for a living. In addition to Rosie there are two other McVale children and they like to eat and need clothes.

It is to provide the water needed for the washing that Rosie goes forth daily. Accompanied by the willing youngsters of the neighborhood she sometimes has to go two miles to a hydrant, but she and her helpers go with elaborate equipment.

They have a large tank on a coaster cart, bottles, pails and various other containers. Mother McVale always has an adequate supply for her washings.

HERTZ ACCLAIMED AT BOWL

Vast Throng of Music Lovers Attend Opening of Symphony Under the Stars

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

By popular approbation of a large audience Alfred Hertz was a rechosen idol of Hollywood Bowl music last evening. For the first time in three seasons the man who played a significant part in the founding of the summer outdoor concerts was again at the conductor's stand.

And that he was welcomed with bravos and prolonged hand-clappings goes without saying for those who know the spirit of the symphonic amphitheater of the hills.

Another bowl season has been duly inaugurated. It is the ninth. And it promises to be a period of consequential improvements in the handling of traffic, and other matters pertaining to the accessibility of the renowned and beautiful programs. Needless to say, too, it gives every indication of being coequal with other seasons in artistic allure.

Those who know Hollywood Bowl can look back to the days when it was far less famous than it is now and far more primitive. The extent to which it has been built up into a significant musical center can scarcely be realized. So much of what exists today is taken for granted, and as if it always had been so.

STARS NOT IN EVIDENCE

"Symphonies Under the Stars" was a bit of a fiction last evening. There were a few "lights of heaven" peeping through the lazily drifting clouds. But if I mistake not, there was a drop or two of rain. However, even the weather man would scarcely confirm this report on

AIR POLICE PLANS WAIT FOR FUNDS

Equipment for Planes of Aerial Division Raises Question of Money

Approval by the Police Commission of equipment plans for the aerial division recently authorized by the board was deferred one week yesterday after Col. R. B. Barnitz, director of Los Angeles airports, who has been chosen to command the unit, had offered recommendations.

These included that the name be known as Aeronautics Division of the Police Department; that equipment consisting of six flares of the parachute type, six life preservers, twelve message parachutes and two signal pistols with cartridges be provided and cached at the airports in Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley.

A replica of the police badge will be stenciled on fuselage or wings of the planes and the squadron will be used only in case of major disaster for police duty.

RUTH ELDER'S EX-MATE TELLS MARRIAGE PLANS

Ella Bisset

Through a deep tan, Lyle Womack, former husband of Ruth Elder, blushed ruddily yesterday as he told about his plan to become a bridegroom again. The event will take place during the first week in August, he said, following the arrival from her home in Minneapolis of the bride-to-be, whose name is Ella Bisset.

LYLE WOMACK

Womack, whose life has been almost as adventurous, though not so well publicized as that of his former wife, has settled down, he said, and intends to continue to live in El Monte, where he has been residing for about a year as a worker on the Gay Lion Farm. He has risen to the position of manager of the establishment and is in charge of it now during the absence of its owner in Europe.

Previously he had been successively professional pugilist, referee, meat and live-stock salesman and Florida land boomer. Just before settling in El Monte he had been a member of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition and spent several months in

ACTRESS MAY DROP CHARGES

Vivian Duncan Undecided About Prosecuting Lease on Battery Accusation

Whether or not Vivian Duncan, stage and screen actress, will go through with prosecution of Rex Lease, actor in pictures, on a charge of battery as a result of an asserted punch in the eye following a party at the exclusive Malibu motion-picture colony, will be definitely determined today.

Reached yesterday at the Hollywood Hospital through her secretary, Miss Duncan said a decision has not been made but that she will know today. From various sources there were reports that Miss Duncan may drop the battery charges.

Lease, at liberty under $500 bail, is scheduled to face Miss Duncan tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the court of Justice of the Peace Webster of Malibu. He will face accusations by her that he beat her when she repulsed his advances at the home of John Farrow, writer for films. Miss Duncan charges Lease beat her and kicked her when she fought off his attempts to make love to her.

At the hospital yesterday it was said Miss Duncan spent a restful day and that it is improbable she will have to undergo an operation on her nose. An injury to her knee which, she asserts, was kicked by Lease, is the most serious of her injuries.

Nils Asther, to whom Miss Duncan is engaged to be married, spent most of the day at her bedside yesterday. He had no comment to make concerning Lease's asserted attack, which occurred last Sunday night.

PARKING BAN OPPOSED

The Central Business District Association yesterday asked the City Council not to prohibit parking in Second street, in accordance with a proposed ordinance. The petition was referred to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

JURY WILL HEAR DAM ENGINEERS

San Gabriel Canyon Charges Sifted Further

Men Who Surveyed Dirt to Testify Today

Eaton Lays Accusations to Use of Old Map

Engineers employed by the contracting company that worked on the San Gabriel flood-control dam will appear before the grand jury today to throw what light they can upon published reports that there was fraud in connection with the payment for excavation work on the dam.

The reports were based on a survey made by James H. Payne, licensed surveyor, who estimated that not more than 500,000 cubic yards of material were excavated. The county paid for 773,646 yards at $2.95 per yard.

Evidence will be offered the grand jury today, it was reported, to the effect that Payne's estimate is based on an obsolete topographic map used by the county flood-control district and attached to the original contract specifications for the dam. Among those scheduled to be called before the jury today are M. Harvey Slocum, and Chad Calhoun, of the contractors' engineering staff; Sam Fisher and former Chief Flood-Control Engineer Reagan.

JURY HEARS PAYNE

The jury heard Payne's testimony yesterday in which he related how he and his men surveyed the excavation on the east and west banks of the stream bed and arrived at a conclusion that only 500,000 yards had been taken out.

E. C. Eaton, chief flood-control engineer for the county, also gave his testimony. As he waited in the anteroom under subpoena to appear before the jury, Eaton denied any irregularities in the estimates and exhibited copie of reports made to him by engineers under him showing the results of surveys made at his orders to determine how much excavating had been done at the now-abandoned dam site.

Eaton explained that when the matter of settlement with the contractors came up, after it was decided to do no further work on the dam, he gave his engineers orders to make a survey to determine the amount of yardage removed. There were two bases upon which such a survey could be made: First, the amount removed up to what was known as the "stake line," an arbitrary line set by Eaton as to how far the excavation should be carried; and, second, the total excavation, which naturally went beyond the stake line; that is, in carrying on such a large excavation it was natural that a lot of material would slide in from beyond the stake line, thus increasing the boundary of the excavation beyond what was really ordered.

MEN WHO MADE SURVEY

Eaton told his men to conduct the survey on both bases, he said.

The actual survey on the mountainside was conducted by surveyors for the district, who turned their field notes in to office engineers for computation. The office engineers included W. H. Dunham and E. C. Kenyon as one team; C. B. Gibbons and J. W. Hall. The survey was made first by W. H. Stevens and A. A. Henderson, both of whom formerly were with the Edison company; and later by Henderson and R. E. Davis.

The results procured on the stake-line survey were as follows: Dunham and Kenyon 704,421 cubic yards; Gibbs, 708,308 cubic yards, and Hall, 708,149 yards. The discrepancy between the first figure and the last two was explained by Eaton as having been due to the first one taking in the territory above what was known as the high line road.

On the total excavation, about which there could be no misunderstanding as to limits, the results by the same groups in the above order were as follows: 773,646 cubic yards, 774,286 and 774,108 yards.

The three totals were submitted to the Board of Supervisors, and were the basis for the final negotiations between the board and the contractor as to a final settlement. It was ultimately agreed to settle on the basis of the lowest of the three totals, or 773,646, Eaton said, and he had nothing to do with that settlement.

SOLUTION OFFERED

The engineers who made the computations from the field notes said that they were sent into the work with the plain instructions to find out how much material had

MAYOR'S CHOICE SURPRISES

Gerald FitzGerald Nomination to Harbor Board Unexpected in Port Political Circles

The name of Gerald C. FitzGerald as a member of the Harbor Commission to succeed Emerson Spear, term expired, was submitted to the City Council for confirmation yesterday by Mayor Porter, along with those of Charles L. Lindner to be Planning Commissioner, vice W. J. Miller, term expired, and K. R. Bradley to the Building and Safety Commission, vice Ralph E. Homann, term expired. All three were referred to appropriate committees for consideration.

The nomination of FitzGerald to succeed Spear came as a surprise at the harbor, as it was understood Mayor Porter had urged Spear to remain.

"Mr. Spear seemed disinclined to remain on the board," said Mayor Porter yesterday. "It is my recollection that he said he had been on the board quite a while and wished to be relieved of his duties."

FitzGerald is a hydraulic engineer and was a captain of engineers during the war. He is a graduate of the engineering schools of both the University of Alabama and Stanford University. He was formerly connected with Leeds & Barnard, now heads the FitzGerald Engineering and Construction Company, and has had considerable experience about the harbor.

Lindner lives at 414 South Rimpau Boulevard. He was formerly a manufacturer in Chicago and Grand Rapids. Miller, whom the nominee is to succeed, was one of the two Planning Commissioners who opposed granting the Bell cement plant permit, afterward approved by

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

Just at first it seems bewildering that a young gentleman should wish to poke his fist into the gleaming orb of the beauteous Miss Vivian Duncan.

But when you learn that she was out on an errand to buy a lot from somebody, it takes on a different phase. If I met somebody who wanted to buy a lot I should be seized with such a frenzy that I should probably bite her. There are some situations that you just can't face with calmness and sanity.

DR. CONAN DOYLE

Dr. Conan Doyle, vehement advocate of the theory that the spirits come back to earth, knows the truth by now. Nobody on this plane does.

Perhaps no one now living has made a study so careful and thorough as Hamlin Garland, the novelist, who lives part of his time in Los Angeles. As one of the big shots of the Society for Psychical Research he has made an exhaustive research for many years into all sorts of spirit phenomena. Especially has he investigated "mediums."

DO THE DEAD RETURN?

The conclusion at which he arrived was this: There are a few people in the world who can hook onto a strange power that we do not even dimly understand. There are strange forces of life not to be seen with the human eye. But Mr. Garland said that he has never found anything to convince him that the operations of this force have any relation to persons who had been living and are now dead.

NOTHING TO PUT IN IT

One of the honor guests at the recent Wampas dinner was De Forest, the inventor and father of the radio. He is an interesting, elderly man, who spoke with the simple, modest frankness of great genius. Now that he has invented the physical apparatus, I hope he will invent something to come over the thing by way of program adaptable to the intellects of those who have passed the age of 6 years.

BROTHER OF MILLIONS

Another guest was Ivy Lee, the publicity man of the millionaires — the Rockefellers, the Pennsylvania Railroad, Bethlehem Steel. He told some interesting stories.

At the time of the wedding of Miss Abby Rockefeller, the problem was batted out to him to keep the tabloids from being too sensational. He knew it was useless to ask them. He adopted the device of giving them so many facts that it took up all their space. As, for instance, the list of 1500 guests and the long list of those who had sent posies.

MR. SCHWAB'S SPEECH

He told another story about the showmanship qualities of Charles Schwab. Mr. Lee wrote a speech for him to deliver at a banquet in Baltimore.

Schwab got up and told the banqueters that Lee had written him a speech. "But," he said, "I could no more deliver that speech than I could sing the song this opera singer has just sung for you. Here among my friends I must speak just what is in my heart."

Whereupon he proceeded to deliver the speech that Mr. Lee had written.

DUPED MEN AID IN BANK HOLD-UP

Bandit Uses Quintet to Simulate Gang

Supposed Pals Decoyed by Ranch Job Offer

Artesia Robbery Ruse Nets More Than $750

Recruiting five men who were seeking employment as his unsuspecting assistants, a bandit yesterday noon robbed the First National Bank of Artesia of between $750 and $1000 and escaped.

Accompanied by the five men, whom he had met at the State Employment Bureau in Los Angeles earlier in the day, the robber entered the bank and presented A. T. Frampton, vice-president, with a note demanding cash and securities. Meanwhile, the five men were unwittingly aiding the robber by standing about at a distance waiting for an employer they had been told would give them work on a ranch, they told Capt. Stensland of the Sheriff's robbery and burglary detail.

The bandit's note read:

"I have a gun on you, five men with me and three outside. Act natural and we will. Pretend I am a safe or vault inspector and take me where the cash is and what Liberty bonds are handy and not registered, we want. My men will stay here for about one-half an hour after I leave. Continue business as usual. If you want to shoot it out make a false move and we will. If you don't want to fight you take the pillow case and help me fill it back in the vault."

Frampton reported to Deputy Sheriffs Hart and Claxton that the bandit handed him a pillow case in which was placed the stolen money, consisting of currency. After obtaining the money he unobtrusively made his exit through the lobby in which there were a score or more of customers and his five supposed accomplices and drove away in a large sedan.

About fifteen minutes later, according to a Sheriff's report, the bank management summoned officers from the Norwalk substation, who took the five men into custody. The men, who stated they did not know a hold-up had taken place, gave their names as Alex J. Cracium, 34 years of age, 230 West Eighty-second street; Frank A. Fell, 28, and Donald Byerly, 25, 2232 1-2 Addison Way; Virgil L. King, 23, 637 Millwood avenue, Venice, and Tony Garcia, 3747 East Fifth street.

They told the officers the robber, who is described as a Mexican or Italian, between 35 and 40, and wearing dark clothes, requested them to come into the bank with him while he obtained money for the pay roll of the ranch on which they were to be employed. After being questioned, they were ordered released by Capt. Stensland.

The City Council and Mayor Porter. The other commissioner who opposed Bell, Donald Baker, recently filed his resignation.

Two of Mayor Porter's recent nominations to city commissions were confirmed by the City Council yesterday. They are H. L. Herberts to the Social Service Commission and Ben Hershfield to the Humane Commission.

Herbert succeeds Rev. E. E. Haring, term expired. Herberts is executive secretary of the United Church Brotherhood, a veteran and a Yale graduate. Hershfield fills the vacancy created by the death of Mrs. H. C. Terrell. He is active in veteran affairs.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION FILED

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday in United States District Court against the Empire Refining Company, an oil concern. The petitioners and claims are First National Bank of Hynes, $4366; K. P. H. Royalties Company, $2880; Venago Oil Corporation, Ltd., $8247.

been moved. It would have been impossible, without a great amount of detailed work requiring plenty of time, for the field notes to have been altered or "faked," they said. They took the field notes turned in each day. Further, they expressed the opinion that nothing like an accurate survey to determine the excavation total could be made in the brief time reported to have been devoted to it.

Eaton offered a solution to the apparent discrepancy by suggesting that the surveyor who computed the 500,000 yards may have used an old contour map of the dam site attached to the contract specifications. Eaton and his engineers said this map was entirely inaccurate and was supposed to give only a very general idea of the terrain. The final contour map used and agreed upon by contractor and county was gotten out by Stevens and Henderson. Eaton said it was checked by the contractor's engineers.

The contractor was paid each month for the excavating he had done, less 10 per cent, held back by the county. He was paid up to the stake line only, except on one occasion, Eaton said, when he learned that E. B. Davey, resident engineer on the job for the county, was computing total excavation. Eaton said he ordered Davey to estimate only to stake line, thereafter. It was openly known that there was constant friction between Davey and Eaton. Eaton said he let Davey out when the job was settled up. Davey is reported to be working in Canada at present.

Up to the time work on the dam was ordered halted the county had paid the contractor $1,831,312, and later paid an additional $830,000. The contract was for $11,250,040, for which the excavation was only a part.

Summer School Increase Shown in Enrollment

Figures on the first day's enrollment in the vacation schools throughout the city show an increase over matriculation figures of last year, according to announcement yesterday from the office of Superintendent of Schools Bouelle. In the elementary schools 18,172 pupils enrolled Monday, as compared with 18,055 in 1929. In the senior and junior high schools 12,490 signed up for summer sessions on the opening day, where last year the enrollment was 10,573.

Midsummer examinations for teachers, doctors, nurses and dentists connected with the public schools were completed yesterday with 762 applicants participating.

JACK NOONAN AGAIN ON TRIAL

Brother of Actresses Pleads Not Guilty to Burglarly

Ignorance of Legal Rights Basis of New Actions

Misses O'Neill and O'Day Not Present in Court

Jack Noonan, brother of two motion-picture actresses, Sally O'Neill and Molly O'Day, yesterday went to trial on a charge of burglary, before Superior Judge L. W. Fulkerth and a jury of seven women and five men. Noonan's sisters were not present to give him comfort this time, being in New York.

Noonan is being tried in connection with the burglary of $10,000 worth of furs and clothing from the apartment of Ted Lewis, high-hat king of jazz, in the summer of 1929. The youth was allowed at a previous trial to plead guilty to the lesser charge of receiving stolen goods. Superior Judge Schauer at that time sentenced him to serve seven years in Folsom prison.

Judge Schauer yesterday set this sentence aside upon Noonan's representation, through Attorneys Richard Cantillon and Donald MacKay, that he had pleaded guilty to the receiving of stolen goods charge without full knowledge of his legal rights. In setting aside sentence, Judge Schauer stipulated that Noonan go to trial on the burglary charge as well as the charge of receiving.

When he was placed on trial before Judge Fulkerth yesterday, Noonan pleaded not guilty and not guilty because of insanity. Dep. Dist.-Atty. V. L. Ferguson is prosecuting the case. Mrs. Isabelle Howard, a sister, embraced Noonan in court yesterday following the forenoon session.

THE LANCER

sale of the California novel, "Adios," has been in New England. It has also had a snappy sale in Czecho-Slovakia.

It was written at first by Mr. Bartlett as a scenario; and didn't get to first base with the movies to whom it was offered. Written over again as a novel the same movies grabbed it up at about six times the price they could have bought it for in the first place.

TOUGH FOR ACTORS

Hollywood free-lance actors have fallen on evil days; this because talking pictures are made so quickly. I known an actor who waited weeks to get a part from which he expected about two months' engagement. The engagement lasted half a day.

On the other hand, the talkies are finding the going very tough. The reaction from the novelty of the thing has come—as should have been expected.

Even the producers themselves admit that the trouble lies in the fact that they just aren't interesting enough. To my mind the only failure in America is the amusement world. About every phase of life in a place like California is entertaining except the entertainments.

Why is it that no creative brain has thus far been able to give us the serene enjoyment of—say, an old mission? The little grave of the Spanish girl who was "The Rose of the Rancho" in the dim shadows of San Juan Bautista has more of romance and interest and melancholy dreams than has the play of which she was made the heroine.

CONTRACT BRIDGE'S POPULARITY ATTESTED

The playing of contract bridge has taken a tremendous hold upon the people of Southern California, according to Spencer S. Kapp, auction and contract bridge authority. "Enthusiasm for contract bridge is as active here as anywhere in America," said Mr. Kapp. "This is largely due to the tremendous activity at beach clubs and summer homes throughout Southern California during the summer months. Mr. Kapp, former pupil of R. F. Foster, is recognized as one of the leading authorities on contract and auction bridge on the Pacific Coast. He is to conduct a summer series of bridge lectures in Barker Brothers' auditorium every Saturday during July at 10:30 a.m. These lectures are open to the public.

AIRLINE HAS ANNIVERSARY

T.A.T.-Maddux Celebrates Year of Operation With Ceremony at Glendale Terminal

The first anniversary of the establishment of transcontinental air transport service over the T.A.T.-Maddux Air Lines was observed yesterday at the terminal of the lines at the Grand Central Air Terminal in Glendale with ceremonies in which the participants included civic officials, passengers on the first regularly scheduled transcontinental trip and passengers on the first trip of a regular air transport line out of Los Angeles, which was to San Diego.

It was on September 22, 1927, that the first plane of the newly established Maddux Air Lines flew between this city and San Diego, with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as pilot. This plane, a Ford all-metal, trimotored monoplane, is also the first eleven-passenger plane to have been regularly scheduled in the United States, and is now known as "Old No. 1."

The ceremonies at the T.A.T.-Maddux terminal yesterday, besides marking the first birthday of the transcontinental service, also marked the formal retirement of "Old No. 1" from active service. Soon it is to be flown on its last journey, which will be to New York City, where it will be installed in the Pennsylvania Railroad station as a permanent historical exhibit.

The veteran plane has a record of 2050 hours in passenger service, in which it covered 204,500 miles, carrying a total of 5445 passengers without an accident of any sort. In addition to Col. Lindbergh, other famous pilots who have handled its controls are Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, Edward A. Bellande and Larry Fritz, and it is credited with having carried more celebrities than any aircraft ever built.

Among those who participated in yesterday's ceremonies are Mayor Porter of this city; Mayor Clark of San Diego; George L. Eastman, ex-president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; Howard Worth, president of the San Diego chamber; Judge Bledsoe, Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, Norman Chandler, Charles Lathrop and George Browning.

INDIAN AFFAIRS EXPOSED

Defense Association Secretary Charges Two New Commissioners With Obstructionist Tactics

Charges of deliberate obstruction of the plans of President Hoover and Secretary of Interior Wilbur to reform the Indian Bureau were brought against Charles J. Rhoads and J. Henry Scattergood, new Commissioners of Indian Affairs, by John Collier, secretary of the American Indian Defense Association, in a speech before the Harvard University alumni at the University Club yesterday.

"The first desertion of the Hoover-Wilbur program took place last November," Secretary Collier said. "Secretary Wilbur had announced a complete reorganization of the Indian Bureau's irrigation and reclamation system would be sought. Commissioners Rhoads and Scattergood testified before the House Appropriations Committee they had no intention of reorganizing the system, and obtained large sums for renewed construction of a number of bankrupt or defunct irrigation projects, for which the Indians will have to pay.

"President Hoover had asked for emergency funds to feed and clothe the 21,000 Indian children in government boarding schools. At the demand of Representative Cramton of the House Appropriations Committee the new commissioners actually begged the Senate not to restore in the appropriation bill the money requested by President Hoover.

"Commissioner Rhoads, under pressure from within the Indian Bureau, revoked the order forbidding the flogging of Indian children by brutal school officials."

UNEMPLOYED TOTAL GIVEN

when Census Supervisor De Coudres of Long Beach announced figures for the remaining twelve townships in his district. They follow: Long Beach, 5326 unemployed out of 141,650 total population; San Antonio, 3899 out of 107,883; Montebello, 1485 out of 38,632; Compton, 1177 out of 31,024; Downey, 437 out of 18,135; Gardena, 569 out of 15,969; Norwalk, 294 out of 11,230; Dominguez, 80 out of 4267; Signal Hill, 147 out of 2932; Catalina, 18 out of 1987; Bixby, 10 out of 776; Alamitos, 10 out of 212.

Previously announced figures for Belvedere township show 1491 unemployed out of 32,842 and Venice township 116 out of 8816.

The figures are preliminary and the final official figures to be announced in Washington, D. C., some time later may vary slightly because of adjustments made by the supervisors in last days of preparing final returns.

The unemployment figures picture a situation existing more than three months ago, it is pointed out by local census officials, who understand that conditions have considerably improved since April 1, the date as of which all such census data was compiled.

Council Orders Reduced Budget Plans Prepared

In a resolution adopted yesterday by the City Council, all department heads were instructed to submit by August 1 their retrenchment plan in accordance with the reduced budget.

Each department chief is permitted to go about cutting expenses in his own manner by dropping employees, giving them leaves of absence or putting them on half-time. The total cut necessary in salaries will be about $640,000.

This is the first move toward actually trimming the city's expenditures to meet the depleted exchequer.

RAILWAY ABANDONS BELLEVUE SERVICE

The request of the Los Angeles Railway for permission to discontinue operation and to remove its tracks on Bellevue avenue from the northeasterly line of Sunset Boulevard to Edgeware Road for the reason that patronage is extremely light and service is adequately given on Temple street and Edgeware Road, was approved by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation yesterday. A contract has been let for paving Bellevue avenue within the limits of the proposed abandonment.

BOYS TO GET BEACH LIFE

Thirty-eight boys from the Lark Ellen Home will begin their vacation at the Redondo Beach Salvation Army camp Saturday. They will be supervised by three army workers. The vacation will be inaugurated by the raising of a new flag, donated by Charles S. Hutson, chairman fo the advisory board of the Salvation Army.

why ICE-Freshened Air Keeps Foods Best...

ICE-FRESHENED circulating air in the modern approved* ICE Refrigerator preserves foods best for these three reasons:

1. Food Kept Impurity-free — Stored foods pass off impurities in the form of gases, unpleasant in odor, which are absorbed by other foods.

The circulating air stream in the modern ICE Refrigeraror "picks up" these impurities, carries them to the melting film of ice where they are eliminated through the drainpipe. ICE actually washes and purifies the air that circulates through your refrigerator, every 60 seconds.

2. Maintains Correct Temperatures Under 50° — Certain foods spoil quickly — become unsafe to eat — if not kept at constant temperatures under 50°. The circulating air stream in the modern ICE Refrigerator provides the varying degrees of cold needed for safe preservation of different foods — 42° for milk — slightly higher temperatures for foods less perishable.

3. Prevents "Drying Out" or "Mouldiness" of foods — The circulating air stream in the modern ICE Refrigerator provides the right atmospheric balance of "cold" and "dry" air to keep food at its best. The natural flavors, juices and vitamins are preserved.

Gunman's Return Delayed Until After 15th Inst.

[illegible] Denies Being in Chicago on Lingle Murder Date

[illegible] of Frankie Foster, gunman [illegible], to Chicago, where he [illegible] in connection with the [illegible] of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, [illegible] man, will be delayed until after the 15th inst.

[illegible] on a habeas corpus writ, [illegible] in behalf of Foster, arrested [illegible] a week ago with four [illegible] in a raid on their quar[illegible] an exclusive apartment- [illegible] was yesterday continued until [illegible] next, by Superior Judge [illegible].

The continuance was ordered [illegible] Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney, [illegible] on behalf of Sheriff Trae[illegible] Investigators Dudley and [illegible] of Chicago, announced [illegible] additional time will be required [illegible] evidence on the whereabouts of Foster on June 9, last, [illegible] of the Lingle slaying.

ALIBI SET UP

In the application for Foster's [illegible] filed by Attorneys John [illegible] and Newton Kendall, it is [illegible] that the prisoner was not in Chicago on that date and therefore cannot be returned under extradition papers or held as a fugitive from justice. It is further asserted that Foster was under arrest [illegible] New Mexico on June 12.

According to information in the [illegible] of the Chicago investigators, [illegible] did not leave Chicago until [illegible] 11, and one hour after the [illegible] of Lingle was attending a [illegible] of a Chicago theater. Cer[illegible] documentary evidence in the [illegible] of State's Attorney Swanson [illegible] Chicago will be necessary in the [illegible] here, and the week's delay [illegible] permit its arrival, they said.

Foster was arraigned before Mu[illegible] Judge Ballard yesterday aft[illegible] on a fugitive warrant issued [illegible] prior to his indictment by the [illegible] county (Illinois) grand jury. [illegible] hearing on this charge was set [illegible] the 19th inst., at 2 p.m., and [illegible] who swore that his true [illegible] is Frank Foreman, was or[illegible] held without bail.

DAVIS BEING HELD

In the meantime George Davis, [illegible] gunman bodyguard of Foster, is held in the City Jail awaiting Detroit police who are expected [illegible] him on a warrant charg[illegible] attempted murder. Davis, it [illegible] indicated yesterday, also is [illegible] to face Federal charges. U. S. [illegible] McNabb here received a re[illegible] from U.S. Atty. Watkins of [illegible] to hold him under the name [illegible] Harry Kirschenbaum as a sus[illegible] in connection with violation [illegible] the Harrison Narcotic Act. Wat[illegible] recommended bail be fixed at [illegible]. Pending receipt of a tele[illegible] warrant, however, McNabb [illegible] no formal charge against the [illegible]. The warrant is expected [illegible].

In addition, Davis and Frankie [illegible] are detained on suspicion [illegible] attempted escape. Fisher is an[illegible] asserted member of the Foster gang. The pair, it is charged, [illegible] exchanged booking slips [illegible] hats at the jail last week, Davis [illegible] making his way to the [illegible] before being rearrested.

No action will be taken by the [illegible] here on the escape [illegible], it was announced. They [illegible] ordered, according to police, as [illegible] extra precaution to prevent the [illegible] of Davis pending the arrival [illegible] the Detroit officers. Mrs. Foster, [illegible] of the gangster leader, is held [illegible] technical custody awaiting com[illegible] of the hearings and inquiry.

ANGELES WOMAN
LINGLE INQUIRY

BY JOHN F. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 8. (Exclusive)—[illegible] arrest of a mysterious Los An[illegible] woman, swathed in a big [illegible] coat, her face partly con[illegible] by large brown goggles, [illegible] excitement today among the [illegible] investigating the mur[illegible] of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Chi[illegible] Tribune reporter.

The woman, who is about 45 years [illegible] blond and stout, was taken [illegible] custody by a detective bureau [illegible] on the navy pier as she pre[illegible] to take a boat for Grand [illegible], Mich., on orders from Chief [illegible] Detectives John Norton's office. [illegible] arrived in Chicago this morn[illegible] it was said, from the west coast.

When taken to the office of Spe[illegible] Assistant State's Attorney [illegible] F. Rathbun she gave the [illegible] of Peggy Evans, but later said [illegible] name was Margaret (Peggy) [illegible], and that she lived in Los [illegible].

While the woman was not held it [illegible] understood she will appear at [illegible] office tomorrow for fur[illegible] questioning.

Meanwhile after learning that [illegible] Foster had made an unex[illegible] move to resist return to Chi[illegible] and won a delay at least until [illegible] 15, State's Attorney Swanson [illegible] dispatched an assist[illegible] to Los Angeles to try to hasten [illegible] return of Foster.

[illegible] WOMAN MAY
[illegible] LOCAL IDENTITY

The woman detained in Chicago [illegible] connection with the inquiry into [illegible] killing of Alfred Lingle may [illegible] a Los Angeles identity, accord[illegible] to local detectives. From Chi[illegible] dispatches it was stated she [illegible] lived at 942 West Sixth [illegible]. Detective Lieutenants Malina [illegible] Wodman learned from Mrs. [illegible] F. Stout, who owns the [illegible]-house at that address, that "Peggy Paulson" lived in a room [illegible] for a week about six weeks [illegible].

The description of the woman de[illegible] by the police in Chicago fits [illegible] of the woman who lived in the [illegible]-house, the detectives [illegible].

"Yes, she was blond, had blue [illegible] and was about 35 years of [illegible]," Mrs. Stout told the detectives. "[illegible] was nothing mysterious [illegible] her movements and she [illegible] anxious to find a job as a [illegible]. She put ads in sev[illegible] papers and received several [illegible] calls about them. She had [illegible] woman friend who stayed here [illegible] nights, and who payed me [illegible] the privilege. The woman friend, [illegible] me, said she had only $5 [illegible] her and starvation.

"Peggy Paulson, however, paid me [illegible] and moved out. She had very [illegible] baggage."

Baby Coos as Parents Await Divorce Judge

Harold Fishman

Four courtroom chairs were formed into a cradle yesterday where baby Harold Fishman cooed from morning to evening adjournment while his father and mother waited calling of their divorce trial. The parents had to wait in Superior Judge Bowron's court until their case could be assigned from the master calendar to a trial judge.

Baby Harold, 6 months of age, was left in adjoining Department 45, which was empty during the day. George Monroe, the clerk, entertained the baby by tapping with the gavel, eliciting gurgles of glee. From time to time, Stella Fishman, a sister, 14, refilled Harold's bottle from a vacuum bottle, and the baby's day in court passed happily.

Jacob Fishman is suing for a divorce from the baby's mother, Mrs. Fay Fishman. They were ordered to return today when a judge will be designated to hear their differences.

EDITOR TO ADDRESS LUNCHEON

Merle Thorpe Will Speak Today at Gathering of Commerce Chamber

MERLE THORPE

Nations move as individuals. They are subject to periods of panic lasting for varying periods, but eventually face again toward the sun. The American public is panicky today but without reason. It should loosen up its belt, buy, sell, spend money and live a comfortable, normal existence.

This, in brief, is the philosophy of Merle Thorpe, editor of the United States Chamber of Commerce official magazine, Nation's Business, and noted authority on business subjects, who will speak today at a luncheon at the Biltmore arranged by the Chamber of Commerce.

"The complete recovery from our present recession is merely a question of restored self-confidence on the part of that composite individual, the American citizen," said Mr. Thorpe yesterday. "We have no cause for alarm and a few years from now will laugh at our present fears.

"One striking evidence of the soundness of our business structure is the $16,000,000,000 valuation of our insurance policies. The rate of increase of these policies has been greater within the past six months than ever before in our history."

LYLE WOMACK TO WED AGAIN

Little America. When he was included in a group of men sent back to New Zealand to await the return of the expedition there, life in the Antipodes palled on him and he resigned from the expedition, but he received a letter from its commander praising him for his services, and it is one of his prized possessions now.

He was reluctant yesterday to talk about his first matrimonial venture, but he recalled the fact that his first wife was a nice, plain small-town girl when he met her while she was on a vacation trip to Panama, where he lived. They were very happy, he added, in their brief married life before she was thrust out into the full, white glare of world-wide publicity. After that, he confessed, the married state did not seem an especially happy one to him.

But it is obvious, he pointed out, that he was not permanently embittered, for he is eager to try matrimony again. He met Miss Bisset, he said, a year ago at Mt. Lowe while she was in Southern California on a vacation trip. Although she is not precisely a small-town girl, he added, she is essentially the home-loving type, with plain and simple tastes, and he is certain that she will be content to settle down in El Monte and make a home for him.

"And," he insisted when the interviewer tactfully endeavored to continue the comparison with his famous ex-wife, "she is unusually pretty, too."

Today's Bible Text

Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children. And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour.—Eph. v, 1-2.

SAVE YOUR DAYLIGHT

Looks as if the daylight-saving proposition would be on the ballot at the next State election. In this connection it might be mentioned that our daylight is well worth saving although there is quite a lot of it.

NO BREWERY

Did the Chicago gangsters imagine that they could put up a big brewery in Los Angeles? They would have a hard time in getting a building permit. They would have as hard a time operating without one. Ask Buron Fitts.

MANY INDIANS

According to best advices America is not running out of Indians. There are still said to be the representatives of 178 tribes present and accounted for. They range from the Utes and Otos to the Kaiyubkhotennes and Koyukhotennes. Rub that in your hair.

HISTORY ASSURES IT

Admiral Byrd, in radio speech, announces that the Antarctic continent "holds vast mineral wealth." And he proved by the success of his own expedition the possibility of its commercial conquest. But the best way to start things is for some daring prospector to discover gold.

SAVING AND SPENDING

The first fiscal year of the Hoover administration was marked by a reduction of the national debt to the extent of $746,000,000 and the accumulation of a surplus of $184,000,000. The President is a prudent saver and a judicious spender. If only Congress would leave it to Hoover.

MESSENGERS

One girl ousts five messenger boys in the local office of the Western Union. The company is installing machines by which telegrams are wired into business offices direct. Will Congress, that objected to using dial phones, take kindly to this new invention; or will the lawmakers object to doing the work of regular messenger boys?

THE CHAIN-BEARER

It is mentioned that the chain-store idea in this country is more than seventy years old. Back in 1859 the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company opened a circuit of stores. Now the same company has 17,000 of 'em. There are nearly 4000 different chains and there are probably more than 200,000 stores. America is, indeed, in chains, but the nation appears to wear them easily.

THE DIAL

Congress started something in refusing to use the dial phone. However, it was mostly talk, as usual; for they are being installed daily. Already more than 5,000,000 of them are operated out of 20,000,000 phones in use. It is prophesied that in fifteen years the little finger-twisters will be universal. In 1929 alone there were 867,127 substitutions. The idea was conceived back in 1892.

The lawmakers objected to doing the "work of telephone girls." Some of the Congressional constituency feel that these wise men may have had difficulty manipulating the little contraptions. Others think that by doing so, they are the most usefully employed.

Life is becoming one dial after another. Once we were slaves of the button. Whatever we wanted, we punched a button. We punched a button for light, for heat, for entrance, for the elevator, for the office boy and for chewing gum.

Now we do it by dial. We twist the wrist for jazz, for opera, for travel, for prize fights, for baseball, for news, for the time, for setting-up exercise, for sermons, for education, for Amos 'n Andy and for the President. And now we have stuck the thing onto the telephone.

We may appraise our time as too valuable to do the work of the telephone girl; but 500,000 shareholders in the stock are ardent propagandists. The telephone exchange is rapidly becoming a vast robot. The human element is vanishing and mechanical accuracy is taking its place.

MOONEY PARDON DENIED

By a painfully circuitous route beset with political bogy men of obviously terrifying aspect, Gov. Young has finally and hesitantly arrived at the same conclusion with regard to Thomas J. Mooney as did his much more forthright and much less timid predecessor in office, Friend W. Richardson.

Buttressed and fortified by the opinions of the State Supreme Court and the Advisory Pardon Board, which he obtained and made public in advance of his own pronouncement on the subject, the Governor has formally, if reluctantly, denied executive pardon to the convicted principal in the San Francisco Preparedness Day bomb murders.

Notwithstanding that the case has been before Gov. Young during practically the whole of his four years in office and that in that time he has had in his possession substantially everything in the way of argument, evidence and pro and con opinion in any way relevant to the case, the Governor's final decision has little of the aspect of one independently and courageously reached as a result of personal investigation. Rather is it a sort of feeble "Me, too!" echo of the findings of the Supreme Court and the Advisory Pardon Board.

Through years of temporizing and evasion, the Young administration permitted, perhaps encouraged, the Mooney case to become a full-fledged campaign issue, the denouement of which apparently was timed to come shortly before the primaries, in which Young hopes to be renominated to succeed himself. The coincidence leaves scant room for doubt that the situation was created as a campaign maneuver calculated to turn an embarrassing political liability into a vote-getting asset.

It was clear to the Young political strategists that any decision in the Mooney case would cut both ways. A pardon for Mooney on the Governor's own responsibility and in the face of the record would, it was feared, lose him at least as many votes as it would gain. A flat refusal to pardon, also as the Governor's individual and independent act, would have the same effect. To take no action at all, after so long delay and so many tentative promises, would be worse yet. If, however, some other responsible agency, such as the State Supreme Court, would assume the onus of a decision, one way or the other, the Governor would be able to point thereto in justification of his own subsequent and corresponding action. He would be relieved of responsibility to the disappointed faction and would, at the same time, be in a position to claim credit and support from the other side.

By an extraordinary coincidence, therefore, we find Warren K. Billings, Mooney's convicted accomplice, applying to the Supreme Court for a pardon recommendation in November, 1929, more than twelve years after his conviction and at a time when it was becoming increasingly apparent that the case would be an important factor in Young's race for re-election. If further evidence were needed of the connection between the two, it was supplied by Gov. Young himself in a statement he issued immediately after the Billings application was filed. In this statement the Governor declared, in effect, that the Supreme Court ruling on the Billings application would likewise determine the fate of Mooney, the cases against both being essentially identical. The inference is inescapable that the Governor expected to predicate his own action in the Mooney case upon the Supreme Court's findings in that of Billings. He says as much in his statement yesterday, declaring that he "must accept the conclusions of the Supreme Court . . . and deny a pardon to Mooney."

In view of which the concluding paragraph of the same statement is at least remarkable. Says His Excellency:

"That this 'final decision' has been made at the present time rather than six months ago is due to my feeling that, out of deference to the Supreme Court, I could not properly act upon the case of Mooney until the members of the court, in accordance with the constitution, had acted on the parallel case of Billings. I am announcing my decision at the earliest possible moment after receiving the communication from the court."

Which means, if it means anything, that the Governor was prepared to make his decision in the Mooney case six months ago and that only deference to the Supreme Court prevented his doing so at almost exactly the time he formally and publicly declared that the court's decision on Billings would decide Mooney's fate. Apparently His Excellency desires credit for having arrived at an independent decision long before the Supreme Court made its findings, though it will be noted that he refrains with some care from saying what that decision was.

In the light of this obvious contradiction, it would be interesting to know what Mr. Young would have done if the Supreme Court had recommended a pardon for Billings.

In spite of the thought and effort which apparently went into the long and complicated maneuver, Gov. Young has hardly helped himself politically by it. He has earned the thanks of neither the Mooney nor the anti-Mooney faction and the vaguely indecisive and self-contradictory character of his final outgiving has robbed him of the credit which the large body of neutral observers would have accorded to a sturdy, independent decision, in either direction, based upon the long and careful personal investigation of the merits of the Mooney case which the Governor says he has made.

As to the final outcome of that case, for which the credit as well as the responsibility rests with the Supreme Court rather than with Young or his advisory board, it is sufficient to say that it coincides with the conclusions of the large majority of those who have made independent, unbiased and thorough investigation of all the facts. Stripping away all the falsities on both sides, however, there still remains a mass of evidence against both Mooney and Billings which, in the language of the court's well-considered decision, leads to the "almost irresistible conclusion" that, if they were not themselves the immediate authors of the Preparedness Day horror, "he (Billings) and his intimate associate and co-defendant, Mooney, know and always have known who did prepare and plant that bomb."

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

NOW that the Los Angeles Realty Board has launched an own-your-own-home educational campaign, we would like to stand up and testify.

We had heard so many people say, "It's cheaper to rent than to own," and we'd heard so many others yowling about special assessments and all the griefs of repairs and upkeep which continually fall on a property owner, that we often congratulated ourself on being a renter. But that's just because we didn't know nothin' yet.

We've also heard people say that children are a fearful responsibility, a source of endless worry, an awful expense. But when they get older about the only real pleasure they can get out of life comes from borrowing someone else's children.

Rented houses are just as soul-satisfying as borrowed children.

Bloodshed, But Some Result

We never were a handy man about the house and we can't afford to have handy men do all the fixing up of the yard and all that. And we're just downright glad we can't, for we'd miss a lot of fun if we couldn't get out in the yard and try to do things for ourself. We get up early every morning, and our helpspend simply has to come out at 7 o'clock to drag us in to dress for breakfast. We get home early every evening we can and slip into overalls—and usually keep supper waiting at least half an hour while we're promising to come in "just a minute." We are building crude retaining walls with rocks and our hands are so bruised that it's hard to find the spot on them which isn't sore. We have so many splinters in our hands as a result of rebuilding a fence that we can hardly use the typewriter. As a result of repainting that fence, we have paint in our finger nails, hair, the small of our back and under our arches. Don't ask how it got there. It's one of our gifts.

But we also got a little on the fence, so we are happy.

No Time For Vacation

We don't get any vacation. This column has to run 365 days a year. But this summer we don't mind. The first little spears of grass are growing like green down over the front yard, and even if the boss should come in and order us to take a trip to Hawaii with expenses paid, which is a Scotchman's idea of a perfect vacation, we just couldn't tear ourself away right now. We feel as anxious about that grass as a young father does about his infant. We feel the same about the young trees. It isn't much of a house and we know we never can have a yard as lovely and satisfying as those many of our friends have achieved. But with all its faults, the place is ours and we love it still.

Work at Play—Play at Work

We have never indulged a passion for hard work. We have seen that passion get such a grasp of a man that it formed habits which spoiled his whole life. Believing that moderation is the spice of life, we have especially tried to be moderate in the matter of labor. We never have been one of those who couldn't learn how to play. But all the play worth playing is real work—golf, tennis, baseball, polo, swimming, hiking, all sorts of competitions. And digging in your garden is real play. It is the same old mud-pie game you used to delight in so as a child. And an irrigation system is the same old game of making rivers run where you wanted them to. When we moved into our house Harold Carew gave us the book, "The Home-Owner's Manual," and when we got it out and read how to make concrete and mixed up some cement and sand and gravel—with our right hand, while we held the book of instructions in our left—we felt bigger and better than at any time since we used to build mud forts beside the creek, with the aid of which we conquered mighty armies just about as fast as we could imagine them.

The Joy of Possession

It made us think of our friend, Fatty Lewis, who, after many years of apartment-house dwelling, bought five acres in the suburbs and decided to farm it himself. He wrote the State College of Agriculture, the Agricultural Department in Washington and every other place he could think of for literature on how to farm—and, being a business man, he read it after getting it. He learned it was just the season—it was midwinter then—when he should prune his orchard. He never had pruned a tree. In fact, he hardly knew which side of a saw to cut with. But he climbed into a tree and began to damage the branches, yearning for some one to come along and ask what he was doing. Soon a man came and leaned over the fence and asked—and it was, of course, the most shiftless and curious of his new neighbors. "Hey, whatcha doin' that for?" asked the newcomer. "None of your darn business!" yelled Fatty, joyously. "These are my trees!"

Southern California's Greatest Pastime

Now, it undoubtedly makes better citizens of people to own their homes. It gives them stability, it deeply interests them in everything which affects their city and it gives them, if they are fortunate enough not to be too rich, a field of daily exercise and recreation which keeps them young and entertains them better than any game which cannot result in real achievement. The joy of creation, the joy of competence and the joy of looking at a beautiful result, at last, and saying, "By Jove! I have made it and it is mine!" are the daily blessings of the home owner who rolls his own, or at least effectively directs the rolling.

That is why Southern California is exceptionally a land of happiness. Every year thousands of people of education and refinement come here to live, some after retiring from business elsewhere, some because they are writers or artists who can work as well here as elsewhere and are choosing the pleasantest climate. Here those people, especially the retired people, find a new interest in life in creating beautiful gardens.

MASSACHUSETTS TERCENTENARY

Aided by the rest of New England, Massachusetts has begun the greatest celebration in its history. In a general way the whole nation also will join with it in commemorating the three hundredth anniversary of the establishment of Massachusetts as a self-governing commonwealth, led by that famous statesman, Gov. John Winthrop, in 1630. It was in Salem in that year that the Massachusetts Bay Colony was founded under the royal charter of King Charles.

In a recent message Gov. Frank G. Allen said: "In this observance all the people of the commonwealth should join. No more important event has occurred in our history than the foundation of free civil government on this continent." The celebration will be at its height on the 15th inst. The main program will be carried out on an enormous outdoor stage that has been built along the entire front of the State House, on Beacon street in Boston. President Hoover will address the assembly, as will other speakers. Music will be provided by famous instrumentalists and singers. The whole program will be broadcast to the far ends of the earth.

Boston Harbor will be thronged by one of the greatest assemblages of warships of all nations ever seen. Moccasined Indians will saunter down the streets of Boston or ride on their ponies. Ox teams will move through the city at the stately pace of two miles an hour, colonial dames and their lords will journey through on horseback and there will be an old-time military parade.

What if the Puritans who came over in the Mayflower could see those great warships, the splendid city of Boston and the crowds and automobiles! Doubtless they would not approve of this lavish display. Their plans of life in America were not based on the idea of wealth and luxury. But they provided the bedrock character upon which New England was founded and which is still strongly in evidence after 300 years of American progress.

EUPHEMISTIC SLAPS

If the body is composed of atoms and the electrons are diffused like raindrops, it may become the custom to refer to a man as having "electrons on the brain."

WORKING IN AMERICA

A former head of the Russian cheka or soviet secret service now admits that the Russian Commune is spending huge sums of money in America in spreading Socialist propaganda. Their hopes for world expansion are settled on America and they dream and hope of getting their greasy fins upon the wealth of this country. They have strong organizations in some of the big cities and are spreading their insidious gospel as extensively as possible.

THE ETERNAL CONFLICT

By James J. Montague

The rhino soon will wade no more
  The riffles of the Niger;
Along the Ganges' shaded shore
  Will rove no greedy tiger,
For years the savage brutes have fled
  Reluctantly before us,
And presently will be as dead
  As is the dinosaurus.

The lion slinks through lonely trails,
  Beneath the bending banyans;
In wild affright the wildcat wails
  Along the western canyons,
For many years the grizzly bear
  Has never soundly slumbered,
But lives a prey to dread despair;
  He knows his days are numbered.

But bug and slug and flea and fly
  Go on their way rejoicing;
The locust hurtles through the sky
  His bold defiance voicing;
All unperturbed the cutworm roams
  Along the garden lattice,
Mosquitoes beard us in our homes
  And gnash their molars at us.

Where once the prowling beasts of prey
  Maintained their habitations
There spread from sea to sea today
  Important, prospering nations.
We follow, stepping proud and high
  The pathway that is set us,
But, notwithstand, by and by,
  Those bugs are bound to get us.

Peace-Time Machine Guns

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Cannot something be done to abate the intolerable nuisance of motorcycles, side cars and trucks which, with no mufflers or open cutouts, make day and night hideous along our principal thoroughfares?

Every few minutes, especially late at night and early, very early, in the morning, these vehicles tear up Wilshire with a discharge like a machine gun awakening people, sick and well, and adding another discordant nerve wrecker to the already too audible volume of sound, partly necessary, but mostly unnecessary, with which our great cities are cursed. SUBSCRIBER.

Make It Two Hours

HUENEME (Cal.) July 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Western Growers' Protective Association is a "branch" of the farming industry. Please remember that this great organization is a "branch" of the farming industry, trying to carry the idea to the voters that it is the farmers themselves that want daylight saving and have indorsed and are working to have that law passed.

All of the farmers that I have talked with are very much opposed to any change in our present system of keeping the time of day or the mode of doing their daily farm work.

"We, the Western Growers' Protective Association, take this stand because its adoption will mean better prices for the farmer." What foolish talk! Let's turn it ahead two hours and get still better prices! W. E. M.

Likes Big Green Cars

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We have been granted the privilege of trying out the remodeled green cars of the Los Angeles Railway on the "W" line.

We desire to add our praise for the comfort and pleasure we enjoy in riding in these cars. We are hopeful the time will soon come when they will be in daily use in sufficient number to take care of all traffic. We are also grateful for the use of a number of the larger and better-equipped cars.

Will Some Movie Fan Answer?

BAKERSFIELD, July 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Is Clara Bow "news"? Did she ever bite a dog? Or if not, why is she accorded so much valuable space in your paper?

Of course, we know by the best authority that she went across the continent at about three jumps and at every landing gave an interview which she promptly denied at the next landing. Again we inquire, is Clara Bow "news"? If so, whose dog did she bite and why?

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Blue Print?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

To meet the needs of the recently inaugurated large building program the Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, will give a free course in blue-print reading. The class will meet on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 7 to 9 p.m., on the third floor of the Art Building, just around the corner of the main building, on the corner of Flower and Twentieth streets.

This is a plain, practical course in architectural blue-print reading. Drawing to scale will be taught and the interpretation of architects' directions on a blue print. Home owners who contemplate small additions to their houses will find what they need in this class, to get a clear idea of their work and to receive the free advice of an experienced architect in planning convenience in details and beauty of proportions.

JUST FUN

Many are the comments on the new form of outdoor entertainment which has taken the city by storm—the miniature golf courses which are attracting old, young, middle aged, golf experts and rank amateurs alike. An educator fears that night schools and serious reading will suffer from this craze. A motion-picture producer tries to think up counter-attractions that will pull his audiences back to artistic entertainment. A librarian fears the summer book circulation will drop below par if evenings are spent chasing tiny balls around tiny garden spots. A city planner delights in the beautifying of empty lots. The children think the grown-ups have staged these toy play places for their benefit. The golfers fear the new game will spoil their real game, but cannot resist trying out all the new hazards and billiard shots. But it takes grandmother, who has seen sixty years of games, to sum up the situation. "Like miniature golf? I should say I do. I play every day. For fifty years I've been hankering after a good croquet ground and now there blossoms out on every vacant lot a glorified golf-disguised croquet game. The world is getting sensible at last. There is no better game. I made two holes in par!"

HANDY ANDY

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

What has become of the old-time versatile man-of-all-work—Handy Andy, wasn't he called?—who used to be available on hire to do odd jobs of repair around the house?

The other day I wanted a section of back fence repaired. It was no contract for a journeyman; it wasn't worth that cost. Anyone who could wield a hammer or saw a board was capable of doing it expertly. Yet I had to call in a carpenter from off his regular task and pay accordingly. A water faucet was leaking and needed a washer and that required a plumber and a dent in the pocketbook all out of proportion to the ten minutes necessary for the operation. My lawn mower wants resetting and sharpening—a specialist again. I wish some vines trimmed back and some flowers moved and replanted and the expense of a professional gardener makes it prohibitive. A couple of window shades are flapping dolorously, some stucco is crumbling, a door screen has rusted through, a few bricks need replacing—just the usual little annoyances that everyone finds about his domicile from time to time and that he'd be glad to see remedied. But must I hire an expert artisan to do each stint? The outlay doesn't justify it, in any one case; if I might have one man do them all it would be well worth his while, and mine.

There used to be all-around chaps who would gladly come for an hourly stipend and do all these things, cleverly and well, and the bank account wouldn't be greatly depleted thereby. They'd slip into a neighborhood and fix it up completely; one householder would pass them on to another; every small job in the vicinity would be attended to and the financial return to such a worker would be ample, though not discouraging to any separate home owner. Where are such workers, keen, thorough in many crafts, accommodating and trustworthy—where are they now? Wouldn't a lot of those who complain of being "out of work" find this a fertile field if they'd cultivate it?

Yes, I know the old adage about "Jack of all trades; master of none." I'm aware that the itinerant is not considered a good workman these times; he must have a regular trade, a shop, a wage scale and pay for time to and from his base. But how many little tasks go undone, or are tinkered at by paterfamilias inexpertly, just because of all this? And how many men would be making a living happily, if they'd seize this opportunity?

Handy Andy filled a real place in the economy of home owning, in his era. He saved the head of the house many a smashed finger or blistered hand, as well as many a hard-earned dollar. He made good money himself and his expenses were at a minimum—a horse and wagon, or an antique car, a few tools, such odds and ends of materials as we are prone to call junk today, and the knowledge of how to do effectually many things—these were his stock in trade. He fitted admirably into the structure of communal life; he filled a niche no one else ever has.

Has he, in fact, been wholly eliminated? And if so, why? Who is filling his place? If he still exists, where may he be found? I'm one who has a flock of odd jobs for such a Handy Andy, and I'll wager there are thousands more like me, eager to make his acquaintance.

Speak up, Andy, if you're still handy; there is work for you to do—and plenty.

FILOSOFISMS

By The Foothill Philosopher

He is a free man who abides by the laws of nature and of his country and who maintains his integrity through the government of his emotions and desires.

He is a foolish man who sees about him evidences of life, love and beauty and yet who refuses to believe that, in spite of all that is apparently unbeautiful, the heart of things is good.

He is a wise man who can see the vices of his friends and the virtues of his foes. He is a great man if to this wisdom he adds goodness, helping his friends to overcome their faults and making friends of his foes by recognizing their virtues.

He is a fortunate man who occasionally is inspired by a dream of beauty and harmony. He is an eternally happy man who is master of his thoughts, maker of his dreams, weaver of his own visions. Such a man is not dependent for his joy upon external influences nor upon the will or whim of any being excepting himself.

He is a progressive man who has learned that all temptation is from within, who fears naught save his own folly, who does not complain at punishment that follows his mistakes and who is capable of forgiving himself and of determining to live more nobly today than yesterday.

MINORS' SCREEN CONTRACTS APPROVED

"Little Angel of Sing Sing" Among Aspirants in Court

JOAN LAWES, 9-year-old daughter of Warden Lawes of Sing Sing prison, and eight other youthful screen-actress asprants appeared yesterday to have their contracts approved by Superior Judge McComb.

Born within the walls of the grim, historic prison on the Hudson, Joan is to appear in a Fox production titled "Up the River." When she faced the camera yesterday the little girl carried herself with perfect poise. To the convicts under the charge of her penologist father Joan is known as "the little angel of Sing Sing."

The other minors who had their contracts approved by the judge are Dorothy Jacobson, Frances McCoy, Gladys Schneider, Lillian Kelley, Rachel E. Hudson, Helen Keating, Elizabeth Keating and Althea Heinly.

NEW FIRE LAW SOUGHT

The Fire Commission yesterday asked the City Council to amend the fire ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles in grass-covered mountain areas.

PARK NAME CHANGE ASKED

In accordance with the plea of residents, the park department yesterday proposed to the City Council that the name of Monte Vista Park be changed to Sunland Park.

MILLER RITES ARRANGED

Funeral Services for Women's Christian Temperance Union Leader Will be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Hester Griffith Miller, leader in Women's Christian Temperance Union work throughout the State for the past forty-three years, who died Monday night at her home, 1600 North Alexandria avenue, following an acute illness of about six weeks, will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a.m. from the W. A. Brown funeral parlors, 1815 South Flower street, with cremation to follow at Rosedale Crematory.

Although Mrs. Miller, who was 76 years of age, had been in failing health for the past two or three years, she was still actively engaged in W.C.T.U. work until six weeks ago, when she was stricken with influenza. Complications developed which caused her death.

Mrs. Miller was a native of Minneapolis and had been a resident of Los Angeles since 1887. She had been associated with the Women's Christian Temperance Union since its inception, always playing an active part in the furtherance of its doctrines. For eight years she served as president of the ci' federation, was Los Angeles county president for a number of years and from 1908 to 1912 was State president, in addition to which she had held many lesser offices in the organization.

Prison work was the phase of the W.C.T.U. work in which Mrs. Miller was most interested and during her administration as president it was largely due to her influence that three measures of reform were passed by the State Legislature, including segregation, paroling of prisoners and appropriation of $8000 to aid paroled prisoners. She also was instrumental in the installation of the proper type of matron in the women's section of San Quentin. She was a member of Ebell Club and the Woman's City Club.

She leaves her husband, Francis A. Miller; two sisters, Mrs. Belle Graham of Oakland and Mrs. Cora Elwell of Eagle Rock, and a niece, Mrs. Lola Merritt.

Board Dodges Predicament in Palmistry

Having denied Katherine Adams, gypsy, a permt to practce palmistry because of inadequate police personnel to provide the necessary regulation, the Police Commission yesterday found itself in a predicament when action on the application of Marie Hummel came up and the members desired to grant a permit.

The gypsy applicant had explained that although she has been fifteen years in this country without applying for citizenship papers she has a chicken ranch and is a responsible resident of the community.

Mrs. Hummel explained that she has four children and her only means of supporting them is to read cards in a restaurant where arrangements had been made for the readings.

Commissioner Drake solved the problem by a motion changing the Adams denial to grounds that "she is unfit to receive a permit because she has spent years in this country without becoming a citizen."

Then Mrs. Hummel was granted her permit.

Psychic Science Churches Meet Here Tomorrow

The third annual conference of the National Federation of Spiritual and Psychic Science Churches will open at the Los Angeles division church at 1720 South Flower street tomorrow and will continue until the 13th inst.

A public reception during which delegates will be welcomed by Frank Mickley, president of the federation, will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Thursday's program begins at 9:30 a.m. The afternoon session begins at 1:30 p.m. Demonstrations of psychic phenomena by Mrs. Laura Turner, Rev. James O'Neill, Rev. Ida Hopkins and Rev. Florence Bigelow will be highlights of the evening session beginning at 8 p.m. Three conferences will be conducted each day until Tuesday.

Election of officers will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

JUDGE SHAW TAKES HIGHER BENCH SEAT

Superior Judge Shaw yesterday began sitting as acting presiding judge of the appellate department, during the absence of Presiding Judge McLucas. Judges Tappaan and Bishop complete the bench. Judge McLucas has gone to San Francisco, where he will aid in inauguratng the newly created appellate department of that county.

Airport Lease Extension by City Approved

A report of the Finance Committee, extending the lease of the south 480 acres of the Municipal Airport, was adopted yesterday by the City Council, with an addition to the report declaring efforts are being made to extend the lease on the north 160 acres. The present lease runs for ten years. The new lease extends it forty more years. The annual rental is $93,600.

An option is included in the lease whereby the city can purchase the property at $3250 an acre between next September and September, 1935, and at $3500 an acre between September, 1935, and September, 1940.

Councilmen Lewis, McAllister and Williams voted "no."

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the charming visitors to Los Angeles this summer is Mrs. John David Stern (Jane Lawler,) who arrived Tuesday of last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lawler, at their home in Beverly Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawler entertained over the week-end at their cabin at Idyllwild in the San Jacinto Mountains Mrs. Stern and Miss Margaret Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rufus Martin of Holmby Hills, who returned aboard the same train as Mrs. Stern, after enjoying two months' visit in New York City.

Mrs. Stern is to be the guest of honor Friday afternoon at a luncheon with which Mrs. James Rathwell Page will entertain at her home in Windsor Boulevard.

Bowl Festivities

Society of the Southland is planning many delightful parties preceding and following the symphonies under the stars at the Hollywood Bowl, and last evening found many groups of friends who entertained before and afterward.

One of the most charming of these was the garden picnic supper given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Buchanan Barret in their spacious gardens in Orchid avenue, Hollywood, honoring Miss Elsa Alsen. This was the first of a series of similar events planned during the Bowl season by Mrs. Barrett, and among those bidden were Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Grove Chester Fiske, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Booth, Mrs. William Francis Howard, Mr. and Mrs. William Honnold, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonzo Bell, Mrs. A. J. Chandler of Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank William Davey, John Newton Russell, Jr., Lyale Nosworthy, Mr. and Mrs. Gurdon Wallace Wattles and their guest, Mrs. Luther Drake of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo Morgan, Jr., and their house guest, Miss Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Claudius Rives, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Klamp and their house guest, Mrs. Hemphill, wife of Gen. Hemphill, U.S.A., of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robey Simons of Plymouth Boulevard had in their box with them Mrs. R. D. Shepherd and Mrs. McClurg Hays, while Friday evening they will have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oddie of Palos Verdes.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Gurdon Wallace Wattles is planning an afternoon tea in the gardens of their Curson-avenue home, honoring Miss Marie Mirkova, formerly of Omaha (the Wattles' former home,) who is to be one of the soloists this season.

Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson is chairman of the hostess committee at the Bowl this season and one of the delightful affairs of recent date was the tea with which she entertained at her home in Hills Road, Beverly Hills, plans being formulated for the summer's activities. Those included on the committee are Mmes. Chester Wallace Brown, Alexander B. Barret, Lucien Napoleon Brunswig, Cecil Blount De Mille, Mrs. Harry Culver, Miss Ada Dryden, Frank W. Davey, Paul English, Erwin H. Furman, Cecil Frankel, J. Langford Stack, Richard Fudger, Grove Chester Fiske, John D. Fredericks, George Benjamin Hull, Oscar Robert Howard, Joseph Levy, Avery McCarthy, Harvey Mudd, Dean Mason, Harmon D. Ryus, William D. Syers, W. J. Thomas, Gurdon Wallace Wattles and Joseph Zuckerman.

Another attractive affair of last evening was the supper party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin H. Furman in Sycamore avenue, Hollywood, the guests all motoring to the Bowl afterward. This is also the first of a series of similar affairs Mrs. Furman is planning before the Bowl concerts.

Those included in last night's affair were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Frankel, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Pettis, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Aleardo Alberti, Mrs. O. E. Sandusky, Miss Maxine Dalglish, Tullio Robbozo, Winston Pettis and John Pettis.

Mr. and Mrs. Furman will have as their house guests for six weeks Maestro and Mme. Bernardino Molinari, who are arriving in a few days, as Maestro Molinari is to be guest conductor at the Bowl from the 22nd inst. to August 16, inclusive. There will be many social courtesies extended them by many friends made during previous trips here.

Bon Voyage

Honoring Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, many dinners and luncheons have been arranged in her honor. Mr. and Mrs. Irish have been dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Braun at their ranch in the Santa Monica Mountains; Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Brown entertained at their home in Venice, Mrs. Mathew Everhardy entertained at her home with a dinner and again with a bridge-luncheon at her home in South Bronson avenue, Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyce-Smith at their mountain cabin with a week-end party, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Von Rolf entertained with a dinner for six guests.

Senator and Mrs. Nelson Edwards of Orange entertained with a dinner at their home in Glassell avenue, Orange, Monday evening. Thursday Mmes. Georgia Lowe Dickson, C. F. Taylor, Earle Riveley Holland, John Boyce-Smith, George Kuhns, Ivy Crane Wilson, Edna Ritchie Shaw and Alfred T. Mannon surprised Mrs. Irish with a picnic luncheon on the beach honoring her and Mrs. Helen Wells Johnson, noted lecturer, who will leave for the north at the same time Mrs. Irish leaves for Europe. She is planning to meet Mrs. Irish in New York upon her return.

Monday afternoon Mrs. John York and Mrs. Ada Gorham of Charlotte, N. C., entertained at the Biltmore with a tea, Mrs. Irish being the special guest of honor.

For Bride-Elect

One of the popular brides-elect of the season, for whom many attractive affairs are being given, is Miss Theresa Elenor Deike, who has chosen the 23rd inst. as the date for her marriage to Dr. George William Scherer, the ceremony to take place in the Arlington Avenue Church.

Among the charmingly appointed affairs of recent date honoring Miss Deike was the surprise shower given by Mrs. Francis Donnelly at her home in Alfred street, when games were played and delicious refreshments served. Among those bidden were Mrs. George Scherer, Mrs. Paul Deike, Mrs. Frank Schleiker, Mrs. Emil Weilbacher, Mrs. William Charles Elliott, Miss Dorothy Callison, Miss Dorothy Brown, Miss Kathryn Dundas and Miss Deike.

Mrs. Harold Harding also entertained with a kitchen shower for the popular bride-elect, the affair taking place at her home, 558 West Ninety-second street. A mock wedding was an interesting feature and the guests included Mmes. Willard Dill, Katie Dill, Wilhelmina Randall, Harry Curry, Lee Prather, George Scherer, John Maxey, Ralph Jones, Emil Weilbacher, Francis Donnelly, Frank Schleiker, Paul Deike, Eugene Callison, Tom Amend, Lou Schreyer, Laurence Bucher, Francis Maxey, Henry Deike, Miss Dorothy Callison, Miss Charlotte Callison and Miss Deike.

Another hostess was Mrs. Emil Weibacher, who have a miscellaneous shower at her home in Huntington Park, a dozen intimate friends of the bride-elect being bidden, while Dr. and Mrs. Laurence Bucher of Banner Place gave a dinder and shower, and Dr. Scherer shared the honors of the evening. Those included were Messrs. and Mmes. Charles Steinbrenner, Curt Gerisch, Richard Gerisch, Howard Bucher, Tom Amend, Charles Amend, Miss Doris Hall, Mrs. Lou Schreyer, Mrs. Kate Paulson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deike, Miss Deilke and Dr. Scherer.

SUGAR SUPPLIES CALORIES AT THE LOWEST PRICE

Few Foods Return Such High Caloric Value for the Money

Sugar is an inexpensive food. Compared with butter, bacon, macaroni, bread, meats, milk, green vegetables and fresh fruits, sugar supplies the system with far more calories for each cent spent than the same amount expended on any of the rest of the products named.

This fact is significant because the average system requires approximately 3000 calories daily. Of this amount, sixty per cent should be derived from the carbohydrate group of foods to which sugar belongs.

To get the full value of sugar the housewife should consider it in relation to all the foods she chooses for her table. The most inexpensive balanced meal can be made satisfying and complete by a sweet dessert. Canned vegetables, as well as fresh ones, can be much improved in taste appeal if a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is added while they are cooking. Breakfast cereals and stewed dried fruits have added goodness when sugar is added.

Doctors and dietitians approve the use of sugar in making essential foods tasty. For these foods contain vitamins, minerals and roughage — all of which are needed by the system. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

A reception and wedding supper will follow at the Huntington.

Film Actress Wins Divorce

Left with a 4-year-old child on her hands after, she testified, she had supported her husband for some time, Mrs. Glende P. Richards, known in motion pictures as Glenda Farrell, was granted a divorce from Thomas J. Richards in Superior Judge Hanby's court yesterday.

"He refused to work and when I refused to give him pocket money any longer he left home," said Mrs. Richards.

Testimony of the witness was corroborated by her mother, Mrs. Minnie Farrell.

ASSISTANT JAILER AND STENOGRAPHER MARRY

J. J. Moran, assistant jailer of the County Jail for the past two years, yesterday telephoned friends at the Hall of Justice news of his marriage at Monterey last Saturday to Miss Mae Crocker, stenographer at the California Bank. He said he and his bride are motoring south and will be at home here after Saturday.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

A Bedtime Story

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

WHY MRS. MUSKRAT DIDN'T MISS THE YOUNG MUSKRATS

Whatever is, you're bound to find,
A cause or reason has behind.
—Old Mother Nature.

Jerry Muskrat's children had gone out into the Great World to make homes for themselves. All of them had gone down to the Big River, for, you see, they wanted to see something of the Great World, and the Smiling Pool was not a big enough place for them. Now, you would have thought that their mother would have missed them sadly. She didn't. She didn't seem to miss them at all.

Peter Rabbit noticed this. "I should think you would be very lonesome, Mrs. Muskrat," said Peter.

"Is Mrs. Peter very lonesome when the last of her children goes out into the Great World?" asked Mrs. Muskrat.

Peter considered for a moment. "Well, said he, "sometimes it seems to me there isn't any last. You know, one family is hardly out of the way when another one takes its place. It seems to me sometimes as if there are babies in the dear Old Briar Patch all the time through the summer."

Mrs. Muskrat grinned. "We mothers do not have much time to be lonesome," said she. And without another word she disappeared under water and Peter saw no more of her that day.

Jerry Muskrat spent most of his time taking things easy. There was plenty to eat and little difficulty in getting it. There was no work demanding his attention. So Jerry swam about, visited and had a good time generally. Peter Rabbit happened to remember that when Mrs. Muskrat had had that big family in the house in the bank of the Smiling Pool, Jerry had had to go elsewhere.

"I suppose," said Peter to Jerry, "that now the family has gone, you are back in that home of yours in the bank."

Jerry grinned. "Supposing so doesn't make it so," said he.

"What do you mean by that?" demanded Peter.

"Just what I said," replied Jerry.

"Do you mean that you are not living there?" Peter asked.

"You've guessed it," said Jerry.

Peter at once became very curious. "Why?" he demanded. "Why aren't you living there?"

"I should think you would be very lonesome, Mrs. Muskrat," said Peter

"For the same reason that I didn't live there before," replied Jerry, and grinned again.

"You mean—you mean,"—began Peter.

"Exactly," said Jerry, interrupting. "That is just what I mean."

"How many this time?" Peter inquired.

Jerry shook his head. "I don't know yet," said he. "Probably plenty."

"Now I know," said Peter, "why Mrs. Muskrat hasn't seemed to miss the children who went out into the Great World."

"That's it," replied Jerry. "She had something else to take up her mind. By the way, Peter, what about your own family? Haven't you any babies over in the dear Old Briar Patch?"

"I did have when I left home," grinned Peter. "Some of them were beginning to think that they knew all that I could teach them. So by the time I get home again they may have started off into the Great World. Your children don't seem to worry you much, Jerry."

"Nor do yours seem to worry you much, Peter," replied Jerry. "But then, I guess the mothers do worrying enough for the whole family. Worrying seems to be part of a mother's job. Hello! Here comes Longlegs the Heron! No, it isn't Longlegs! Now, who can he be and where did he come from?"

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

DANGERS OF THE PARLOR AND BATH

Almost 50 per cent of all accidents occur in and around the home. As high as 60 per cent of the accidents to women occur at home. One out of every eight deaths from falls is caused by falling on a floor; one out of every twenty is from falling off, or over a chair; one out of ten, out of a window.

Most of the dangerous falls are on the sidewalk about the home or on rough ground in the back yard. Then come falls from stairs or steps; falling on rugs or slipping on waxed floors; falls over furniture; falls from ladders; falls from tables and chairs by people who were in too much of a hurry to get a ladder; falls out of bed, and falls from bathtubs. Mark Twain, the famous author, said that he would certainly avoid "those deadly beds," when told that most people die in them. But many people hasten their ends by rolling out of them onto the floor. The bed is now more dangerous than the bathtub.

Bathrooms possess peculiar perils of their own. People slip on the soap and fall in the tub. They skid on the tiles. They scald themselves with hot water. They touch the electric lights while standing in the tub and are electrocuted. Some with heart disease faint in the tub and are drowned.

Common accidents to children at home are: Cutting the hands or feet with glass; playing with matches or setting the clothes on fire from a stove without a guard; swallowing open safety pins; swallowing poisons, such as medicines or rat poisons; scalding themselves by upsetting boiling water on their bodies. Many children play with guns when "they didn't know they were loaded," and kill other children. Some die from infections from running nails into the feet. Many children's fingers are smashed from sticking them into that crack behind the door or from catching them in the doors of cars as they are slammed shut.

Grown-up accidents include walking off the porch in the dark; exploding gasoline while cleaning clothes; trying to lift heavy objects; and some people even hurt themselves while taking off their shoes.

Most home accidents are strictly preventable. If you watch your step at home keep a sharp eye out for falls, mind the stairs and the chairs, you will form the habit of being as careful at home as you are elsewhere, and may live to see the neighbors going to the hospital for needed stitches, while you keep safe and sound.

Staying up late at night, rushing off without any breakfast, drinking alcohol, poor hearing, poor eyesight and mental fatigue will make you prone to accidents. People are not alert at home and this is the big reason that so many dangerous accidents occur while there. See if you cannot make it as safe to live at home as to travel on a train.

PROPOSAL TO CLOSE DANCE HALLS FOUGHT

A protest against the proposal to close all taxi dance halls was filed with the City Council yesterday by the Security-First National Bank on behalf of the Roseroom Dancing Academy. The communication pointed out that this hall has been operating for many years, with no complaints. The bank asks for a thorough investigation of the matter. The communication was referred to the Police and Fire Committee.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HOW CAN WE GET CHILD TO EAT VEGETABLES?

The amazement with which I read the two letters which follow will probably be matched by your own. They are such perfect complements for each other that the accident of their arriving the same day and being read one following the other seems almost uncanny. Here they are—judge for yourself:

"My baby is 17 months old, has twelve teeth, weighs twenty pounds and is thirty-one inches tall," Mrs. P. H. R. writes. "She does not look thin but solid and strong. She eats eggs, bread, bacon, cereal, fruits and puddings. She drinks one and one-half pints of milk a day. She also has beef broth and orange juice. She sleeps well but sucks her thumb at night. She likes to imitate us and this works well every place except at the table. She won't touch anything that looks like a green vegetable. I have tried vegetables she has never tasted before. One taste and they are out. We ignored her. We put her to bed without supper and she cried all night. Can you help me?"

IMPROVEMENT IN APPETITE

Here is the next letter, solved by a change in the other foods and the cutting down of one meal daily:

A young mother confides: "I wish to thank you sincerely for the good results I had following your advice. You remember my fifteen months old boy who would not eat vegetables? You told me to cut down on such foods as cream, oatmeal etc., and I wish you could see him eat carrots, spinach, peas, asparagus, fresh tomatoes and so on. I feed him only three times a day at regular intervals. He gets so hungry he eats anything put before him. He looks rosier every day. A friend just remarked how much brighter and healthier he seemed. For some reason he suddenly quit sucking his thumb.

TRAINING SUCCESSFUL

"I wrote you for your leaflet on training to the stool. I began the kidney training about one and one-half or two months ago and the result is that he now goes for days without wetting himself. (Any mother who desires the training leaflet may have it for only a self-addressed, stamped envelope.) He used to carry his chamber to me and I would have him sit on it, and now he no longer plays with it unless he wishes to use it. I found if the small chamber is put on the mother's lap that the child does not resent using it. Your column is such a big help to us mothers, Mrs. Eldred."

It is sweet of you to tell me the good results of the advice. I often wish more mothers would, for while we aren't asking for cake to be returned for the bread we cast on the waters, we would like to know what happens to the bread.

I hope Mrs. P. H. R. will find that when the rich satisfying and sometimes appetite-destroying foods in her daughter's menu are limited in quantity, it will arouse a better appetite for the vegetables. Our leaflet, No. 118, "How to Introduce New and Nourishing Foods," will also be helpful. Just inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and the leaflet will be sent promptly.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PEACH DELIGHTS

Four cupfuls of flour, six teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of shortening, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one egg, one teaspoonful of lemon extract. Sift the flour, salt, sugar and baking powder, then chop in the shortening. Add the extract, and enough milk to make a soft dough. Drop a spoonful of the mixture into large gem pans, place a half of a peeled peach in each one. Fill the cavities with an almond and sprinkle with sugar, place in a hot oven and bake.

COLD MACKEREL VINAIGRETTE

Take a mackerel weighing about three pounds, wash well, dry and wrap in a piece of thin cloth. Place it on a rack in a kettle, cover it with water and for every four cupfuls of water add a half a cupful of vinegar. Boil carefully until tender—fifteen to twenty-five minutes should be sufficient. Make a vinaigrette sauce with a half a cupful of tarragon vinegar, one cupful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of made mustard, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, one teaspoonful of chopped shallots (or small green onions may be used) and two teaspoonfuls of chopped capers. Place the vinegar in a sauce pan, add the mustard, salt and melted butter and the chopped ingredients, mix well, remove the cloth from the cooked mackerel, place it on a platter, pour over the sauce, allow to cool, then place in the refrigerator. When cold garnish with parsley and sliced lemons.

ALMOND FINGERS

Two cupfuls of flour, one-half a cupful of butter, one egg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking powder. Chop the shortening into the sifted flour that has been sifted with the sugar and baking powder, make into a stiff paste with the beaten egg. Roll out and cut in finger-length pieces. Chop one cupful of almonds and mix it with one-half cupful of sifted sugar and the white of one egg, beaten stiff. Spread this mixture on the fingers and bake quickly until light brown in color.

COLD SLAW

Cut one medium-sized cabbage very fine and place it in a salad bowl, place two tablespoonfuls of vinegar in a sauce pan, allow the vinegar to heat. Beat two eggs, and add to them one-half a cupful of sour cream, and two tablespoonfuls of oil. Pour the hot vinegar over this, stirring constantly, return to the sauce pan and allow to come to a boil. Add one teaspoonful of salt, a seasoning of pepper and pour over the cabbage while hot. Allow to cool and serve.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HUSBAND HAS TO QUIT KICKING DOG AROUND

"You gotta quit kicking my dog around," once famed as a campaign song, yesterday was enunciated in legal phraseology by Mrs. Esther Bell Norton in obtaining a divorce from Forest L. Norton, a Hemet rancher. Mrs. Norton told Superior Judge Cabaniss that her husband kicked her pet dog against a dresser merely to cause her mental suffering. She was awarded $75 a month alimony for the support of herself and two minor children. Attorney Jerome Richardson represented her.

HALF-ORPHANS ADMITTED

Two half-orphans have been admitted to the Los Angeles Orphans' Home, 815 North El Centro avenue, since January 2, last, it was announced yesterday by A. M. Manavian, acting superintendent. They are Lavina Oswald, 8 years of age, and Steward Lusk, 7.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Commemorating the French Independence Day, dating back to the storming of the Bastille, next Monday evening is to be "Parisian night" in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel and will feature a number of French artists on the entertainment program. Guest star at the affair will be Ann Codee, Parisian comedienne, who will head a group of artists of her native land on the bill of diversion, which is to be staged by Frank Orth. Other highlights will be the appearance of Ann Pennington, dancer, now playing a limited engagement in the Blossom Room, during which she is appearing nightly in a specially created terpsichorean offering, and Ben Bernie and his orchestra.

HONOR FOR SENNETT

Gloria Swanson, Buster Keaton, Wallace Beery, Marie Prevost, Polly Moran, Harry Langdon, Louise Fazenda, Noah Beery, Chester Conklin, Vera Reynolds, Daphne Pollard, Ford Sterling, Monte Blue, Al St. John, Roscoe Arbuckle, Harry Gribbon and other film players who have appeared in Sennett comedies have been invited to attend the gala program in honor of Mack Sennett, which will be given at George Olsen's Club, Culver City, tonight. Charles Irwin, Broadway comedian, will act as master of ceremonies. In addition to the regular performance of the new revue Olsen and his music will feature a medley of selections dedicated to Mack Sennett.

COOKING HIS HOBBY

Peluffo's Italian Cafe on Olvera street near the Plaza Park boasts of an unusual chef. Unusual in that mere cooking is the smallest part of his daily chore. One gains the impression through conversation that here is an individual whose interest is such that his work is really his hobby. Duono Pasqualino is his name. He was born in Longobardi, Italy, and has lived in this country the past twenty-four years. He hopes some day to return to Italy, where he first acquired a technique based on the creed: "We do not care what may be the cost of the ingredients that go to make up a food dish or the time involved. We give both gladly as long as it possesses that certain something in taste and flavor."

LA CASITA CAFE OPENS

La Casita Cafe, featuring Spanish, Mexican and Italian dinners, has just opened. This unusual combination dining establishment at 3839 Fountain avenue is owned and managed by Mary Kimball Leomazzi, formerly connected with La Mission Cafe in Hollywood. Past associations and experience as a public caterer should go far toward making this cafe a distinct success. Lunch and dinner from 11 a.m. till 11 p.m. is served daily.

Sears, Roebuck Workers to Get Half Days Off

A half-day holiday each Wednesday, beginning today and continuing until the end of August, is to be observed by Sears, Roebuck & Co. retail stores in Southern California, Clair Nolan, district manager, announced yesterday.

The stores in Los Angeles affected are those at Ninth street and Boyle avenue, Figueroa at Pico streets, Vermont and Slauson avenues and Hollywood. Also affected are the stores in San Diego, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, Riverside, San Luis Obispo, Long Beach and Pasadena.

The stores will close at 1 p.m., Mr. Nolan announced. He added the new policy of an extra half-day vacation per week is in line with a previously announced national policy of July and August, closing applying to all the company's 320 retail stores.

No reduction in salaries will accompany the reduction in working hours. The new policy is an experiment which the company hopes will work out toward permanently shorter working hours.

DANCE FOR BRITONS

BITS OF NEWS FROM RENTAL COLUMNS

Gas, lights and garage are included in $30 monthly rental asked for three-room furnished house—with overstuffed set listed among the furnishings.

To party seeking quarters for light manufacturing, advertiser recommends his two stores—which he offers to rent separately or together.

"It's a furnished front room and airy," says landlord, who points out that tenant can enjoy advantages of continuous hot water and garage, both included in the rental.

We feel that they can't be beaten for this type of program—and from the daily mail—a big slice of the public seems to think so, too.

"We have been doing our utmost to raise the standard of our programs, have built up a big audience, and the public is interested in knowing from their daily papers what we have to offer."

Every effort is being made to keep the public posted regarding programs but it is really up to the public to learn the characteristics of the broadcast stations. The radio column endeavors to play no favorites but it is a fact that most listeners-in have their favorite stations to which the receiving set is dialed most of the time.

KHJ at 5 o'clock this afternoon brings over the Columbia network an address by O. L. Bodenhamer, National Commander of the American Legion, entitled, "My Message to World War Veterans." At 6:30 Prof. Charles Frederick Lindsley will give a dramatic reading of the chariot race from Lew Wallace's noted work, "Ben Hur." Wesley Tourtellotte will provide the organ background. California Melodies will flood the nation again tonight at 7:30 with a fiesta of features including Lillian Roth in a new comedy number, "Johnnie and Me;" Sweet William and Bad Bill, ebony funsters, will deal in Negro dialect while Jo Trent and His Forty Entertainers bring "The Parade of the Paupers." A new number by Irving Berlin titled, "My Bluebird is Caught in the Rain" and Dorothy McNulty, star of "Good News," sings "My Kind of Man" from the "Floradora Girl." Fast on its toes, at 8 comes Romantic 49'ers tearing pages from romantic California as the olden, golden days, while 8:30 the MJB Demi Tasse Revue with George Olsen and His Music has as its guest Al Boasberg, Hollywood's ace of wisecrackers.

KFI at 8:30 o'clock tonight features James Burroughs and Eva Olivotti in thirty minutes of classic and semiclassic song, as guests of the Packard Concert Orchestra, while again at 9 and still again at 10 Arthur Lang and Gretchen Garrett will be soloists in concert repertoire.

KECA at 6:30 o'clock this evening takes golfers to the dial when Grantland Rice interviews Walter Hagen on the American open golf tournament at Minneapolis. An all-string dance orchestra will be included on this half-hour. At 7 tonight Noreen Gammill with her "Original Character Sketches" will provide cracks "at folks we all know." Camel Pleasure Hour at 9:30 tonight should be good with Betty Kelly, the Coquettes and Mahlon Merricks's thirty-five-piece orchestra.

KNX offers the Melody Girl at the organ at 6 o'clock tonight while 6:30 finds Margit Hegedus, violinist, and Tudor Williams, baritone, in recital. At 8:30 Theodore Kittay, tenor, with the KNX Symphony, will be heard in a pleasing repertoire.

KMTR at 6:30 p.m. features selections from four of the best-known light operas by Karl Hoschna while a flock of Talking Picture Song Hits will be heard at 8. "A No-Advertising Program" at 9 tonight with a male chorus of sixteen voices and other features in the interest of Santa Barbara's Spanish Days Fiesta holds promise. This is sponsored by the Standard Oil Company and should be worth your dial.

KFWB claims they have at 7:30 p.m. "The Man Who Taught Hollywood to Play the Piano" while 8 tonight is threatened with thirty minutes of blistering Spanish music, including Carmelita, lyric soprano. At 9:30 a "Night in Chinatown" from a racketeer's angle brings chow-mein 'n everything. The Breakfast Club Frolic at 8 this morning features Earl Burnett's Biltmore Orchestra and the Biltmore Trio.

BROADWAY WORK AIDED

The ordinance of intention for the paving and improving of the new Broadway between Pico and Forty-first streets was adopted yesterday by the City Council. It is set for protest August 11, next. An allocation of $350,000 is included.

KRAUSE WILL GO ON STAND TODAY

Accused Berman Juror Fixer to Defend Himself

Son and Wife Refute Story of State Witnesses

Bright Boy's Forgery Trial Will be Lengthy

Louis Krause, charged with having been a go-between for Jacob Berman in a jury bribery plot connected with the first Julian jury in 1928 and now on trial in Superior Judge Wilson's court on a bribery conspiracy indictment, probably will take the witness stand in his own defense today.

Under the direction of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Harold Jones, the prosecution, which got under way more than a week ago, closed yesterday shortly after noon. During the prosecution testimony it developed that Krause, acting as an agent for Berman, purchased a house from Frank Grider, one of the Julian jurors, for $16,000, and also brought Berman and John Groves, another juror, together in a secret meeting.

SURVEYOR ON STAND

Jacob Berman and his brother Louis both took the stand against Krause after cases against them had been dismissed and told of a $5000 payment in cash to Groves and of the purchase of the Grider house. Both Bermans, however, declared they never had met Grider and that all the dealings with him were through Krause.

Yesterday the defense opened with testimony from Arthur Kroll, a surveyor, as to distances around the Groves home in an effort to disprove portions of the prosecution case as to a meeting between Berman and Krause said to have been seen by a neighbor of the Groveses.

OTHER WITNESSES

A number of additional witnesses, including Max Krause, son of the defendant, and Louise Krause, his wife, took the stand and testified that during the summer months of 1928 when Krause, according to the prosecution, was driving about in an automobile, he was, in fact, unable to drive a machine.

Today when Krause takes the witness stand he is expected to enter complete denials to the story related by Jacob Berman and to maintain that he acted only as an agent of Berman without any knowledge of a bribery plot.

The examination of the defense witnesses was conducted yesterday by Attorney W. O. Graff who, together with S. S. Hahn, represents Krause.

BERMAN'S FORGERY TRIAL TO LENGTHEN OUT

Trial of Jacob Berman, once connected with the Julian Petroleum Corporation, scheduled to commence at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Superior Judge Schauer's court, probably will last three weeks or longer, it was estimated yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney, in charge of the prosecution.

Berman is charged with four counts of forgery of stock certificates and one count of embezzlement. To present the evidence on the forgery charges, it was necessary to subpoena more than a score of witnesses, McCartney stated yesterday, in addition to those called in connection with the embezzlement allegation.

Public Defender Vercoe and Deputy Public Defender Hill will represent Berman at the trial. They were busy yesterday interviewing witnesses expected to be called upon the part of the defendant.

UKELELE IKE SUES MATE FOR DIVORCE

Wants to Gain Back Part of Property He Gave Her in Separation Settlement

Clifton A. Edwards, known as "Ukelele Ike," a radio entertainer, yesterday sued his wife, Irene L. Edwards, for divorce, naming as a corespondent Austin J. Young, with whom Mrs. Edwards is asserted to have associated at 153 Channel Road, Santa Monica, June 14, last.

Edwards states he was married May 14, 1923, and separated from his wife, May 6, 1929, at which time he settled on her $104,347 worth of property. He asks in his divorce suit that the status of this amount be declared, and that, if it is found to be community property, that he recover one-half.

The plaintiff already has on file a suit to rescind the contract by which he made the separation settlement, asserting that Mrs. Edwards had violated her contract to "preserve a chaste and virtuous life" in return for the property. There are no children involved. The suit was filed by Attorney Roger Marchetti.

SCHOOL LEADER HONORED

Appointment of Alex Perez of 239 North Avenue 18 to the post of editor-in-chief of the Summer Optimist, official organ of the Polytechnic summer school, was announced by school officials yesterday. In addition to his association with the school paper, Perez is identified with the associated student body and the Knights, an honorary organization of the city school system.

Jeffries Trio Get Fines and Jail Sentence

Elmer B. Jeffries, head of the Jeffries Automatic Service Company, venders of automatic sandwich machines; Herbert G. Danforth and George M. Pettett, who pleaded nolo contendere in the court of United States District Judge McCormick to charges of using the mail to defraud, were sentenced yesterday by the court.

Jeffries was sentenced to six months in the County Jail; Danforth to three months in jail and Pettett to six months. In addition, each was fined $1000 on each of twelve counts and in lieu of payment to serve two years at McNeil Island Federal prison. The prison sentence, was suspended upon condition of payment of the fines.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Inquest Into Deaths Will be Conducted Today; Sunday Accident Victim Expires

An inquest into the death early yesterday morning of Mrs. Florence Stromberg, 36 years of age, of 821-A Grandview street, and Ross F. Blouin, 42, of 102 South Manhattan avenue, in a collision between the automobile in which they were riding and a Southern Pacific freight train will be conducted at the Van Nuys funeral parlors at 2 p.m. today.

Blouin, according to police, was instantly killed. Mrs. Stromberg died within a few minutes after the accident at the Van Nuys Receiving Hospital. Two other occupants of the automobile, Walter C. Brewer, 33, of 414 North McCadden Place, and Miss Jane Bloom, 36, of 2233 South Norton avenue, escaped serious injury.

The car was driven by Blouin, and crashed head-on into the train at the Devonshire-avenue crossing near Chatsworth, police said.

Walter Wright, 22, of 2485 Wallgrove street, Venice, died in the General Hospital yesterday from injuries received in a traffic accident last Sunday. Police reported Wright, driving his father's automobile, collided with a light pole at Thirty-eighth avenue and the Speedway, Venice.

Arline and Max Johnson of 1011 Ocean Front, Venice, occupants of the car, were painfully injured.

ALIMONY GRANTED WIFE TILL SHE FINDS TREASURE

Just who has the $18,430.19 (thirty-six $500 bills, four $100 bills, a twenty, a ten, a dime, a nickel and four pennies) that Mrs. Annie Rosenbaum says she stowed away for safekeeping was not made clear in Superior Judge Archbald's court yesterday, where Mrs. Rosenbaum and her husband Samuel, a tailor, were in court on an alimony hearing.

Mrs. Rosenbaum was telling why she thought she ought to have alimony.

"I drew this money from the bank and tied it up in a handkerchief and stuffed it in my blouse," said Mrs. Rosenbaum with careful attention to detail. "When I got home I put it in a fruit jar and buried it in the cellar. When I went to look for it later it was gone."

"You mean you never buried any money in that cellar, you got it hid out," interposed Rosenbaum before his attorney, Lewis A. Schaffer, could stop him.

Judge Archbald quelled the argument and ordered Rosenbaum to pay his wife $50 until she can find her jar of treasure. Rosenbaum had his wife arrested on an insanity charge when she persisted in looking in the cellar for money, but later Mrs. Rosenbaum got an injunction against anyone stopping her treasure hunt.

MODISTE HELD FOR JURY TRIAL

Miss Kurakowska in Court for Preliminary

Assault on W. W. Stewart Laid to Jealousy

Oil Magnate Victim Would Prefer Her Release

Jealousy was the motive for an attack made by Antoinette Sofia Kurakowska, modiste of 807 North Fairfax avenue, with fingernails, fists, glass and a safety razor blade on W. W. Stewart, 65-year-old retired oil operator, testimony in Municipal Judge Russill's court yesterday brought forth. The woman was undergoing preliminary hearing on charges of assault with a deadly weapon. The asserted attack took place in front of 109 Orlando avenue June 26, last.

Stewart, called as a witness by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Broker, declared the woman was jealous of one of her employees in the modiste shop and that prior to the attack she had flown into a rage at his home, 233 South Hamilton Drive, Beverly Hills, when he refused to take her golfing with him, and had broken the glass in his automobile and also smashed the glass in the rear door of his home. He attempted to leave in the car, he said, but she scrambled into its rear seat and in spite of his efforts to placate her, launched a verbal attack which grew until it culminated in the bodily assault. The razor blade he identified as one he had given her the night before with which to trim her corns.

Under cross-examination by Paul Schenck, defense attorney, he declared he had been "extremely friendly" with the woman for nine months, and in love with her, "but not now," he added.

"If I had my way I would ask the court to turn her loose," Stewart said.

Police Officer Van Aken, who arrested Miss Kurakowska, testified that she said the whole affair occurred because Stewart, whom she designated as her "boy friend," was untrue to her.

When Schenck put on no defense, Judge Russill ordered the woman held for trial by Superior Court under $1000 bail.

Jury Says Old Show Place Worth $165,000

County Had Offered to Pay Owners $192,000

Property Condemned as Part of Civic Center

One of the fine homes of Los Angeles in the past century, the residence of Miss Fanny Wills on North Broadway above the tunnel, with three adjoining lots, condemned by the county as part of the Civic Center, is worth $165,000, according to the verdict of a jury in Superior Judge Burnell's court yesterday.

The property will revert to the county as soon as provisions of the law have been complied with, in a few weeks, if the defendants do not appeal. County Counsel Mattoon and Deputy Counsel Prichard, who tried the case, offered to settle with the owners of the land for $192,000, it was stated. Experts for the owners testified the lots are worth $275,000.

The old Wills home, at Broadway and Fort Moore Place, was built in 1878, and at the time was one of the show places of the city. The lot on which it stands was at one time occupied by the bastions of old Fort Moore.

The property, which now stands at an elevation of 400 feet above sea level, will be cut eighty feet, according to Civic Center plans. The county will not reduce the grade, however, until Spring street is cut through on one side and Broadway on the other. The city has condemned the property for the Spring-street extension, but has not acted in the matter of North Broadway.

TONGUE SWIFTER THAN PENCIL

Stenographer Loses Race at Hearing

FOR several years Miss Florence Mercer has been plying her pencil at meetings of the Board of Supervisors, taking down every word the Supervisors say and what is uttered by way of reply from taxpayers on the other side of the counter.

And never has Miss Mercer had any trouble chasing her pencil in pursuit of the swift-running consonant and the galloping vowel. But yesterday during a general argument by taxpayers about the proposed election to form a garbage district at Manchester and Normandie avenues a woman arose who proclaimed helself opposed to paying for having her garbage collected.

The general trend of her discussion, which proceeded at the rate of what competent stenographers estimated was at least 400 words a minute, was to the effect that people who don't want their garbage lying around should keep chickens. As for her, she isn't going to have garbage collectors coming around to take the bread crusts out of her chickens' mouths. She talked so fast Miss Mercer couldn't get her name.

After their stenographer had broken four pencils members of the board voted to call an election August 5 to decide the formation of a garbage district in the area bounded by Manchester, Normandie, Vermont and One Hundred and Fourteenth street.

SLAYING OF POLICEMAN RECOUNTED

Partner of Dead Officer Witness Against Rogers in Killing of Costello

Details of how Glenn A. Rogers is asserted to have shot and killed James Costello, Los Angeles police officer on the night of March 3, last, were told from the witness stand in Superior Judge Fricke's court yesterday by Elmer Hoffman, partner of the slain officer.

Rogers is on trial charged with first-degree murder, accused of shooting Costello to death at Seventh and Lucas streets when the officer sought to question him.

According to Hoffman, he and Costello drove alongside of Rogers's car and got out to question him. Rogers drew a pistol and ordered Costello back into his car, according to Hoffman.

"Move over Hoff," Costello said, according to the witness, "he's got the drop on us."

Hoffman, however, reached for his pistol and Rogers opened fire, killing Costello, Hoffman asserted. In the affray Rogers was wounded in the knee. Later he was captured when he sought medical aid.

FITTS GOES ON AIR TONIGHT

Gubernatorial Candidate to Give Two Radio Talks on California Taxes and Remedy

Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, will reiterate his charges that California is the victim of a deplorable taxation condition in two radio interviews tonight. His voice on the ether will be a departure from the stereotyped form of radio address. A radio interviewer will ask the candidate questions concerning the gubernatorial race and Fitts will answer.

The first interview is scheduled over station KMIC at 8:30 to 9 p.m. The second will be at 9:30 to 10 over station KMTR. Both interviews will be broadcast from these stations by remote control from the Los Angeles City Hall. Richard Connors will be the interviewer.

TAX VIEWS PROMISED

Fitts promises to delve into some sensational figures on taxation in both interviews, and to offer his solution of the problem of halting soaring tax rates.

A third radio address is scheduled for tonight when Miss Jane Maxwell, a zealous worker for teachers' retirement pension laws, speaks for Fitts from station KFWB. She will talk from 8 to 8:10 p.m., and will direct her remarks particularly to the teachers of California.

With Fitts in Los Angeles this week both he and members of his speakers' bureau will be exceptionally active. Thursday noon he will speak before the Rotary Club at Fillmore, and in the evening he will address the men's Bible forum.

OTHER BROADCAST

Friday noon the candidate will be guest of honor at a luncheon in the Paris Inn. His speech there will be broadcast at 12:30 p.m. over KELW. The luncheon will be sponsored by the Italian division of the B.P.O.E., with Bert Rovere acting as chairman. More than 800 guests are expected.

Fitts will wind up the week speaking to a gathering of former service men and their friends in Disabled Veterans' Hall, Saturday evening. Sunday he will address 200 members of the Long Beach Bible class in the Municipal Auditorium at Long Beach.

CITY CONVERTS LOUISIANAN

New Orleans Newspaper Man Finds Southland So Delightful He Decides to Retire Here Later

It took a doctor's orders to rend the chains that bound him to his desk and make a long-desired visit to Los Angeles possible; but two weeks of sightseeing have decided him to settle here when he retires, J. L. Ewing, prominent Louisiana newspaper executive, said yesterday in summing up his observations as a vacationist.

For several years he had yearned to break away for a spell, he said, and look over the widely advertised Southland, but pressure of business kept him in New Orleans, where he is general manager of the New Orleans States. Last month, however, his physician advised a rest as a precaution against collapse, so he motored here with his wife and daughter.

CITY SURPRISES HIM

"I wondered en route if I were about to find myself in a boom town, gaudily caparisoned with tinseled trappings, where oil derricks would be popping up all around me and get-rich-quickers would be closing in on me with gold bricks to sell," said Mr. Ewing. "But I have found a remarkable city blessed not only with magnificent scenery and perfect climate and great industrial activity, but with a spirit of hospitality to the newcomer that I had not dreamed existed. And when it comes my turn to retire I shall want to come back here and build a home and enjoy life with you."

Mr. Ewing is one of five sons of Col. Robert Ewing, owner and publisher of three Louisiana newspapers, National Democratic Committeeman from his State and vice-president for two years of the Associated Press. His brothers are J. D. Ewing, associate publisher of the Shreveport Times, Wilson Ewing, general manager of the Monroe Morning World; T. H. Ewing, Sunday feature editor of the Shreveport Times, and Robert Ewing, Jr., general counsel for all three publications. The five younger Ewings all graduated from Virginia Military Institute and all began their newspaper careers "at the bottom" as their distinguished father had done. He started on the New Orleans States as a telegraph operator.

PAPER QUICK SUCCESS

The youngest of the three Ewing newspapers, the Monroe Morning World, was established October 1, 1929, and the visiting son pointed with pride yesterday to the fact that although it had no circulation it made its bow with 150,000 agate lines of advertising, as proof of the community's faith in the Ewing enterprises.

Business depression is little known in his native city, Mr. Ewing stated in reviewing the late Wall-street debacle. Bank clearances there are at their peak and working conditions are steadily improving. Only a very small percentage of the New Orleans population is given to speculation in stocks, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing and their daughter are stopping at the Ambassador, where they expect to remain a few more weeks before returning home by way of Coronado and Mexico.

SWIM POOLS AID HEALTH COMMISSION

Children Under 15 Years of Age to be Barred as Help in Fight on Paralysis

Managers of public swimming pools and representatives of the playground department which operates ten of them, called into conference with the Health Commission yesterday at a special session, agreed to the request of the commission that pools in the city be closed to children under 15 years of age because of the increase in the number of cases of infantile paralysis.

While the disease afflicts adults as well as children, children are the most susceptible to its influence. The commission expressed the view that it does not desire to take radical action to prevent spread of the disease unless other measures fail.

The management of a theater where a party was being given yesterday to 1000 children, mostly newsboys, was called in to explain this move in the face of the health department's request to discourage assemblages of children.

The explanation was that most of the newsboys are more than 15 and the management agreed to co-operate by cutting the show as short as possible, which was done.

There will be a conference this morning between the health commissioners and the management of theaters over the precautions to be taken to prevent spread of the disease among children.

Eleven deaths and 142 cases have been reported to the health department since the disease first became serious. The total for July to date is five deaths and fifty-eight cases.

Incomplete figures of the County Health Department show six cases of infantile paralysis reported last Monday, in health department territory, which does not include Pasadena, Long Beach and Los Angeles. For the week ending Monday incomplete figures show twenty cases for this territory. Reports on new cases for yesterday will not be available until today.

AD MAN ON SPEAKING TOUR

To address divisional sales organizations of the Gilmore Oil Company in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle personally in one day, Chet Crank, vice-president of Botsford-Constantine Company, advertising agency, took off from United Airport here early Monday and arrived at Seattle the same afternoon. He was accompanied by B. A. Rowell, manager of refined oil sales for the Gilmore company, and the four-meeting flight was made in the company's monoplane piloted by Lieut.-Col. Roscoe Turner, holder of the New York-to-Los Angeles one stop record.

BY JOHN F. NESS
"Times" Staff Correspondent

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 8. (Exclusive)—The Junior Olympic Games contestants got their first official peep at the national finals this afternoon when they were weighed and measured for co-efficients. Louis Haley stands at 580, his figure in the Southern California finals; Sam Waxman gained 20 points due to growth, putting him in the 540 class; Johnny Lee held to 450 and Joe Andrade surprised the entire delegation by maintaining his figure of 490.

JOE ANDRADE

Even with the added 10 points Waxman goes into the meet with a 20-point advantage over Yamamoto of Hawaii and Haley enters against Louis of Honolulu on an even basis. With a few moments on the dope sheet it looks as if this meet both in the senior and junior divisions will be won on the basketball court and we concede that the boys from the midway Pacific can shoot baskets.

RECORDS THREATENED

Two national records will be threatened by Phoenix, Ariz., and Toledo, O.—the baseball throw and seventy-five-yard dash.

The program has been changed slightly. The meet commences at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at Bader Field with the seventy-five-yard dash. It will be followed by the baseball throw for distance. Wednesday afternoon will be a rest period and the nationals will again get under way at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, with the basketball throw in the Y.M.H.A. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the broad jump will be held on the beach front and will be closely followed by chinning the bar. The latter event being held SACRAMENTO, July 8. (AP)—Sacramento's Solons trimed the Hollywood Stars in a night baseball game here tonight, 5-1, breaking the jinx that Oscar Vitt's clan has held over them since the season started. It was the first Sacramento win over Hollywood this year, the locals having dropped seven straight in a series at Los Angeles, two weeks ago.

MICKEY HEATH

Lauri Vinci, southpaw, tamed the Stars, allowing ten hits. French and Camilli starred at the plate for the Sacs. In the seventh inning, Mickey Heath and George Hollerson, Hollywood players, were ejected in an argument with Umpire McLaughlin.

Holland Clouts Homer With Two on for Visitors

The work of installing lighting equipment for night baseball at Wrigley Field actually started yesterday when a group of workmen began the task of wiring the huge plant for its baptism of moonlight baseball.

The wiring contract was let yesterday to the English Electrical Company, whose men immediately started work as soon as the game ended. It is planned to have the lighting system installed in time to put on the first night game on Tuesday, the 22nd inst.

BY BOB RAY

The triumphant return of Jack Lelivelt's league-leading Angels to Wrigley Field was anything but that. It seems that somebody neglected to inform the Seattle players that the Seraphs were coming home from three profitable weeks on the road in what was expected to be a blaze of glory, so the Indians unkindly blanked the Cherubs, 6 to 0, in the series opener.

CARROLL YERKES

Wilbur Hubbell, one of Red Killefer's cast-off hurlers, officiated on the mound for the Redskins and let the pennant-bound Angels down with four scattered hits. In fact Hubbell was so good that the Seraphs never had a chance to act in the belligerent manner befitting a club driving for even half of a championship. Only one Angel managed to get as far as third base and he arrived there after two were out.

ONE BIG INNING

The Indians did all of their damage in one big inning, ourning Carroll Yerkes to the stake, scalping Clyde Barfoot and massacring the Angel chances in the third round when they bunched seven of their thirteen hits for all six runs. Dutch Holland's home run over the left

JUNIOR EVENT IN SEMIFINALS

Combs, Bailes Match Features Morning Play in Annual Championship at California; Ayres Faces Fallas; Fathers and Sons Battle for Laurels

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Surviving two bitterly contested matches yesterday in which brilliantly played golf intermingled with sensational performances, Ernie Combs, Jr., of Virginia, Phil Ayres of Los Angeles, Jack Fallas of Hollywood, and Rex Bailes of Virginia advanced to the semifinal round of the Southern California junior championship.

ERNIE COMBS

This morning at the California Country Club, Ayres, the medalist, faces Fallas in the upper bracket, while the two Long Beach buddies, Combs, the defending champion, and Bailes furnish the fireworks in the lower bracket.

Par was the rule rather than the exception yesterday. Ayres, playing faultlessly, was two under even 4's for thirty-three holes, defeating King Brown of Los Angeles, 1 up in twenty-one holes in the morning round, and Bill O'Keefe of California, 7 and 6, in the afternoon.

BRILLIANT MATCH

The Ayres-Brown match was easily the feature of the day. Both boys were one under par for twenty holes, Brown losing to a par on the short twenty-first hole. Brown, who played No. 2 man on the championship Los Angeles High School golf team during the past year, halved the match on the seventeenth hole by sinking a twenty-five-foot putt for a birdie 3. They halved the eighteenth hole in 4's, Brown having a medal of 37-34—71 against 36-35—71 for Ayres.

Bold putting on the part of Ayres featured the nineteenth and twentieth holes. In each instance Ayres putted past the cup, but holed his putts coming back for halves. On the twenty-first hole, Brown, whose

CIUCI, COX SET RECORD

Pros Shoot 69's to Set New Mark in Practice for National Open; Dunlap Registers 70

MINNEAPOLIS, July 8. (AP)—Golf such as Interlachen had never seen before, was pulled out of its narrow fairways and lively greens today when two 69's were shot in practice rounds preliminary to the national open which begins Thursday.

Two players, who previously have been held to 75's and more, walked off the eighteenth green this afternoon with the new course record, first Henry Ciuci, young pro from Stratford, Ct., and soon after Whiffy Cox, Brooklyn, a product of the public links.

GIBSON DUNLAP

They bettered by a single stroke the record set yesterday by Bobby Jones, defending champion, and Leo Diegel, ranking professional. Par is 72, thirty-six strokes for each nine, but Ciuci shot the first half in 34, two under par, coming home one under. His result was obtained with only four birdies as he shot par on every other hole excepting one, one of the most consistent rounds recorded in the practices.

Cox opened with a pair of spectacular birdies after par on the first, with another birdie on the sixth for a 33 on the outgoing nine. That score for the distance has been beaten only

Bill Tilden Will Be Asked to Reconsider

PHILADELPHIA, July 8. (AP) Joseph W. Wear, chairman of the United States Davis Cup committee, tonight said Fitz-Eugene Dixon, nonplaying captain of the American team, planned to approach Bill Tilden again with reference to his joining the Davis Cup squad.

Wear said he deeply regretted Tilden's reported refusal to accept the offer of a newspaper association to release him from his writing contract.

He stated he was still hopeful Tilden could be induced to join the team, but added he did not see how the player-writing rule could be ignored.

COHN AND LYNCH TRIUMPH

DES MOINES, July 8. (AP)—In the junior doubles second round of the Missouri Valley tennis tournament today Jay Cohn, Santa Monica, Cal., and Jack Lynch, Taft, Cal., defeated Harry Lazuras and William Wheatly, Des Moines, 6-0, 6-2.

OUIMET, WILLING, MACKENZIE DROP OUT OF OPEN GOLF PLAY

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) July 8. (AP)—Three ranking amateurs, all members of this year's Walker Cup team, were formally withdrawn today from the entry roll for the national open starting at Interlachen Thursday. They are Dr. C. F. Willing of Portland, Or.; Francis Ouimet, Boston, and Roland MacKenzie, Washington. The pressure of other activities was given as the reason for the withdrawals. This will leave 147 competitors in the tournament. Practically all of these were scheduled to make a practice round of the championship course today despite the intense heat.

Joe Stecher Tackles Everett Marshall in Main Event of Wrestling Show Tonig

CHAMPION MAY MEET VICTOR

Lee Wycoff Goes Against Joe De Vito

Double-Barreled Program for Mat Fans

Terrible Swede Takes on Tiger Taylor

JOE STECHER

Joe Stecher faces Everett Marshall and Lee Wycoff tangles with Joe De Vito, new Italian mat king, in the double-barreled wrestling show Promoter Lou Daro feeds to his fans at the Olympic tonight.

This is the first time that Stecher, the scissor expert, has grappled Marshall, the powerful young blond from La Junta, Colo., and there is some pulsating interest in the affair as a result.

On the outcome of the match there is said to hinge a possible championship match with Champion Gus Sonnenberg some time this fall. The mat king wired the promoter yesterday that he intends to take a few months' vacation, starting next week, but at the end of that time he would be ready to face any formidable foe Daro selects for him.

Daro has two of the best heavyweights in the country clashing tonight and it would not surprise many of the fans here if the winner should be selected to tangle with the leading exponent of billy goat butts and tackles.

Stecher has been training diligently, and has offered to put up a large chunk of the coin of the realm to get Sonnenberg in the ring for a title bout. Those who have seen him in training during the past few days look for him to give another wrestling lesson such as that handed the towheaded youngster by Lee Wycoff two weeks ago.

Although the possible outcome of the match is regarded as a toss-up, there are many stringing with Marshall, because of his greater strength, endurance and youth. Stecher is said to be primed to use more grips on Marshall than he ever did in his matches here with either Ed Lewis or Sonnenberg, all of which is expected to produce plenty of action.

Although De Vito is a newcomer here, reports received on the eastern grappler are to the effect he is as fast and as clever as Wycoff, Marshall or Don George, and is being counted upon to extend the lanky Missouri toe-hold exponent more than Marshall did. If Wycoff opens up on De Vito as he did in his last match here, the Italian will probably see more wrestling holds than have ever been tossed at him before in one night.

Steve Strelich, the "Terrible Swede," will clash with "Tiger" Taylor, another colorful youngster, in the opener. Each weighs 185.

TERRIS LOSES TO NEBO

A JONES THREAT

T. PHIL PERKINS, the blooming Britisher, who went to the finals of the American amateur at Brae Burn two years ago, will be Bobby Jones's greatest threat in the national championships this year.

Thus quoth Joe Martin, one of the Canoustie Martins, on return here recently from an eastern trip. Incidentally, T. Phillip is playing partner of Fred Morrison, big pro of the Midwick club, in the open which starts at Interlachen tomorrow.

And in this connection Mr. Martin remarks that T. Phillip will make our Frederick, known as a long driver par excellence, step on the gas to maintain his reputation.

It seems that T. Phillip left his native land and the British championship in the cold the year he came over here to match bats with our Bobby Jones at Brae Burn.

T. Phillip was horribly beaten in the finals by Bobby, but nothing deterred he settled down in little old New York to improve his game.

And, according to Mr. Martin, he has achieved such success that he is now just about the longest driver in the East, and has an iron game to match his length. He shot a 73 over the Interlachen course—one over par—yesterday, which in a way vindicates all Mr. Martin has said about him.

Mr. Martin even intimates T. Phillip's long game may discourage our Frederick Morrison to such an extent that he will lose some of his technique in an attempt to stay up with the long-hitting Briton.

I don't know whether it is clubby of Mr. Martin to say that or not, but at any rate he said it.

THE BASEBALL TOBOGGAN

MR. SETH VAN PATTEN is disturbed about the waning interest in prep baseball.

Mr. Van Patten is one of the powers of the C.I.F., southern section, and reports some very discouraging facts.

He says that in the recent semifinals for the Southern California championship Inglewood High and Cathedral High played to exactly $24 worth of cash customers.

Now, the umpires were paid $22 and four baseballs cost $6.

That left a deficit of $4.

This is a terrible state of affairs, and Mr. Van Patten doesn't know what to make of it.

He says that ten and twenty years ago a game of this importance would have drawn at least 2000 persons, and now the turnout scarcely surpasses the number of players on the field of play.

In an attempt to seek out the reason for such an appalling situation Mr. Van Patten plans an early visit to President Harry Williams of the Coast League, who from the hoary information of years may be able to furnish the solution.

HE TOOK THE $20,000

RAY ALVIS, manager of Young Jack Thompson, the black welterweight champion, is back in the city for a short vacation.

He has little to say about the shellacking Young Corbett handed his protege in a nontitle bout at San Francisco on the Fourth.

"Corbett is a tough guy to fight. He holds and hits, and he came in away above the weight.

"He's strong, and Thompson just couldn't seem to make a fight against him.

"I don't know what was wrong, but Jack didn't have it, and Corbett won easily."

"Well, you got your $20,000 guarantee, anyway, didn't you?" Mr. Alvis was asked.

"Yep, we got our $20,000," was the reply.

Incidentally, the show, as predicted, was a financial flop. It drew about $32,000, approximately half the "gate" at the Corbett-Fields bout last February, when Fields was the champion.

The northern fans had seen Thompson and Corbett too many times at $3 per head to pay $10 for the same thing.

CIUCI, COX IN RECORD ROUND

once, by Walter Hagen, twice champion, who turned in a sizzling 32 yesterday, but broke on the last nine. Cox, in common with Hagen and most of the entries, ran into greater difficulties on the second nine, but turned in par 36 to earn his 69.

Gibson Dunlap indicated the oldtimers will have to consider him in the championship play, when he turned in a 70, two under par, after two hours of play under a broiling sun. He was one under par on each nine.

Gene Sarazen, former champion, banged out a 38 on the first nine, and hurried back to the clubhouse to get away from the sun, reporting the course is at least four strokes easier this week than last.

The rough has dried out and the fairways have become harder, giving low but hard-driven balls up to fifty yards additional yardage through long rolls. The greens, however, continue to give all but the expert approach shots plenty of trouble, bounding even high-looped balls off into traps. Many of the greens are elevated, which has added to this difficulty.

T. P. Perkins, former British champion, and a veteran of tournaments, turned in a 73, one over par. Chick Evans, Chicago, who won the open in 1916 with the record score of 286 for the four rounds in Minneapolis, is the only one of the former champions entered who was not on the links.

Cards for Viuci, Fox and Dunlap, with par follow:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Par, in | 455 | 344 | 434 | 36 | 72 |
| Ciuci | 443 | 434 | 444 | 34 | |
| Cox | 432 | 534 | 345 | 33 | |
| Par, in | 435 | 344 | 434 | 36 | 72 |
| Ciuci | 345 | 344 | 444 | 35 | 69 |
| Cox | 455 | 354 | 334 | 36 | 69 |

Bobby Jones, still the favorite to win the seventy-two-hole medal play joust, was content to let the heat have its way and merely loafed around. He teamed up with a foursome, which included Jimmy Johnston of St. Paul, national amateur king, and spent most of the round experimenting. His game appeared slightly off, however, and while no accurate count was possible because of second and third shots from identical lies he was several strokes over par figures when he walked lazily off the eighteenth green.

Johnston played Minikahda, a neighboring course, in the morning and was content with a 70 captured there. On Interlachen, along with Bobby, he appeared far off his game, shanking his irons and pulling slightly now and then off the tee.

Hagen, George Von Elm, Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Leo Diegel, Johnny Farrell, Bill Mehlhorn, Ed Dudley and Cyril Tolley, regarded as the "threatening nine" to Bobby's crown, refused to combat the sun today and practiced much like the champion did. All seemed satisfied with their games and none seemed much awed by the difficulties of the championship course.

CHICAGO BOXER EARNS VERDICT

and followed it out letter perfect. It was left to the face, left to the body, then back to the face, and now and then a right—an offensive that literally beat Townsend to the punch.

Townsend's best rounds were the last three when he strove valiantly to make up lost ground.

Townsend weighed five pounds heavier than when he faced Santiago here about three months ago. He scaled 141½ to Medill's 142.

Max Baer, the heavyweight who meets Les Kennedy next week, was introduced before the main event got under way, and received a warm welcome.

So did Jimmy McLarnin, the baby-faced kid who got his start at Jack Doyle's old Vernon arena in the four-round days six years ago.

The fans welcomed Jimmy as if he was Jack Dempsey, and there was considerable noise over his presence quite a bit after he had left the ring. Jimmy has been a New York sensation for several years.

Manuel Quintero was another boy introduced.

Huerta Evans suffered a knockdown in the fifth round, and lost a six-round decision to Bobby Pacho.

The special—a six-rounder—was copped by Martin Zuniga, George Blake's boy, in an interesting fight. For one so inexperienced in the professional ranks Zuniga fights with great assurance, and looks very promising. He is a clever boy.

Buck Weaver, 6 feet 6 inches and 206 pounds heavy, outspeared Steve Hayden with his left and won a six-round decision. Buck was very weary at the end of both the fourth and fifth rounds, and a solid blow would have sent him to the canvas on both occasions.

Joey Rich won the four-round opener from Mateo Magdaleno.

SIR TOM GIVEN FINE SEND-OFF

shown remarkably fine racing qualities, the Prince said he thought the owner's pluck called for most admiration.

Dawes said Britain has shown she possessed the fastest airplane in the world, and the fastest motor car. "If she produces the fastest yacht," he continued, "America's disappointment will be assuaged by appreciation of the fine sportsmanship of the veteran who is making a fifth attempt."

Sir Thomas caused much amusement by his reminiscences of attempts he has made to bring back what he described as "that elusive old mug." He said he thought this time he had a fairly reasonable chance of success, the Shamrock being a very fast boat.

JUNIOR TOURNEY IN SEMIFINALS

iron play had been machine perfect, hit a bit behind his ball, and the spinning oval missed reaching the green and safety by a foot. A fraction further and the ball would have been hugging the pin. To make things worse, the ball buried itself in a bank of loose sand. Brown played a fine out, but his putt for a half rimmed the cup and Ayres was down in two to win the hole and match.

Combs, while he had his morning match with Bert Honey of Los Angeles well in hand, was pressed to win, 2 up. Bill Hart of Flintridge, a youngster who takes his golf seriously and will certainly be heard from in the future, started out well against Combs in the afternoon, but lack of tournament experience proved too stiff a handicap and he lost, 2 up. Hart played his shots skillfully, but let Combs off the hook by three-putting the fifth and sixth greens, which so unnerved him that he was never able to get back in stride.

BAILES SHINES

A fine match should result between Combs and Bailes, and Ernie is frankly wary of his opponent. Rex was banging the ball up by the pins yesterday, shooting a 74 in the morning round to eliminate Russell Osgood of San Diego, 3 and 2, and Don Nittinger of California in the afternoon, 2 up.

Fallas, a member of this year's Los Angeles High School golf team, won his way to the semifinals with a morning victory over Leonard Srere of Hillcrest, 2 and 1, and an afternoon win at the expense of Joe Nichols of Long Beach, 2 and 1.

The finalists will meet this afternoon over eighteen holes for the title.

The first flight, which appears to be dominated by Gerald Trautman of Red Hill, also furnished its share of thrills. Trautman, a 2-handicap man, after failing to qualify for the championship flight, shot a 70 yesterday morning to trim George Ellis, Jr., son of Rube Ellis, 3 and 2. Ellis had a 72.

Joe Richardson of California staged a magnificent comeback in his morning match with Louis Cass, Jr., of Flintridge, to win on the nineteenth hole with a birdie 3. Richardson was 5 down and 5 to go, and won the next six holes in a row to win. Richardson faces Trautman this morning in the outstanding match of the first flight.

While the finalists in the championship and first flights are battling this afternoon, father-and-son combinations will tee off in an eighteen-hole contest. Entrants in the junior championship are limited to boys under 18 years of age, but there is no age limit in the father-and-son event. Accordingly, a splendid field has entered, including such sterling teams as E. H. Seaver and Charles Seaver of Los Angeles, Harry Eichelberger, Sr. and Jr. of Los Angeles, F. W. Brown and Gene Brown of California, H. B. Brown and King Brown of Los Angeles, William H. Hart, Sr. and Jr. of Flintridge, Rube Ellis and George Ellis of Hacienda, D. P. O'Keefe and Bill O'Keefe of California, E. H. Morrison and Marshall Morrison of Los Angeles, and a flock of others.

Following are yesterday's results:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT
MORNING ROUND

Phil Ayres defeated King Brown, 1 up, 21 holes.
Bill O'Keefe defeated John Stevenson, 4 and 2.
Joe Nichols defeated John Ingle, 1 up.
Jack Fallas defeated Leonard Srere, 2 and 1.
Rex Bailes defeated Russell Osgood, 3 and 2.
Don Nittinger defeated Lee McFarlin, 2 and 1.
Ernie Combs defeated Bert Honey, 1 up.
Bill Hart defeated Budde Lyda, 1 up.

FIRST FLIGHT

Elmer Dauben defeated Jack Wallace, 6 and 5.
Tom McKnight defeated John McFarlin, 1 up.
Jim Feitshans defeated Bill Burke, 2 up.
Curtis Williams defeated A. E. Burr, Jr., 7 and 6.
Joe Richardson defeated Louis Cass, Jr., 1 up, 19 holes.
Ed McKnight defeated Dick Hampson, 3 and 2.
Gerald Trautman defeated George Ellis, Jr., 3 and 2.
Barry Giffen defeated Ray Freer, 2 up.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT
AFTERNOON ROUND

Phil Ayres defeated Bill O'Keefe, 7 and 6.
Jack Fallas defeated Joe Nichols, 2 and 1.
Rex Bailes defeated Don Nittinger, 2 up.
Ernie Combs, Jr., defeated Bill Hart, 2 up.

FIRST FLIGHT

Tom McKnight defeated Elmer Dauben, 2 and 1.
Curtis Williams defeated Jim Feitshans, 6 and 4.
Joe Richardson defeated Ed McKnight, 1 up.
Gerald Trautman defeated Barry Giffen, 4 and 3.

JOE MARTIN BACK AFTER EASTERN VACATION

Joe Martin, former professional of the Virginia Country Club, returned to Los Angeles recently after spending his first vacation in twenty-three years in the east and Florida. Martin was out at California yesterday gallerying two of his star pupils, Ernie Combs, Jr., Southern California junior champion, and Rex Bailes, also of Long Beach. While in the East, Joe renewed old acquaintances, and played a number of rounds with Macdonald Smith. Joe is hard put to understand how his old Carnoustie friend failed to win the British open, and says that Mac was playing grand golf before he sailed for England. Martin enjoyed his vacation tremendously and is feeling fit, but being Scotch is anxious to get back to work. He is looking for a club at present, and expects to be settled in a short time.

LAKE ARROWHEAD PLAY STARTS ON FRIDAY

Play in the fifth annual Lake Arrowhead invitation golf tournament opens Friday over the picturesque mile-high course and will continue through Sunday.

The tournament is open to all members of clubs affiliated with the Southern California Golf Association. Approximately 150 golfers are expected to enter according to Lew Owens, Arrowhead pro.

Play will be fifty-four holes medal with play in three classes. One round may be played each day, or two rounds on one day one round on the other.

SONG WRITERS CLASH AT RANCHO TOMORROW

Leon Keller reports that everything is set for the Song Writers' championship, which will be played over eighteen holes at the Rancho Golf Club tomorrow. A truly formidable array of the nation's leading song composing talent is entered, and there are a number of fine golfers in the select group. Among the leading candidates for the bountiful assortment of trophies are Irving Berlin, Al Jolson, Arthur Freed, Nacio Herb Brown, Grant Clarke, Lew Brown, Ray Henderson, Buddy DeSilva, Cliff Friend, Milton Ager and many others.

THE Sportlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

INTERLACHEN CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) July 8.—The mental and physical twists in this baffling game of golf are stupendous. At times there is no reason to the game. It may be largely on this account that some 4,000,000 or more people in this country are all tangled up in it.

For example, there is a young man by the name of Bobby Jones.

"What's all this chatter about trouble with your long game, the woods and the long irons?" I asked him.

It so happens this heretofore has been the strongest part of his play.

"I don't know what the chatter is," he said, "but it's true. I never have had much bother before with a driver, brassie, spoon or long iron. I have had plenty with the short pitches. But here lately I don't seem to know where my long game is going, but I feel I can hit the pin with a mashie or a mashie niblick. It's all just the opposite of what it used to be."

"Are you hooking or slicing?" I asked.

"Both," he replied, "but my main trouble is hooking. If I take out a No. 2 or a No. 3, I wouldn't bet you even money I could hit the green."

This should be balm for the duffer. If Bobby Jones can worry about two or three clubs, the average golfer should take heart. However, it it all comparative. No one is playing this course at Interlachen around 70 and 71 and missing many shots. The rough here is tiger country. When you get into it you turn suddenly as if expecting a leopard or a Bengal to leap on your back. It's a foot high and matted thicker than a wire mesh. So not even R. T. Jones, Jr., can be wandering far from the line and still beat par.

The rough is thick, heavy and devastating and the greens are none too easy to figure out— and that is where most of the strokes go.

An Investigating Tour

There seemed to be the essence of a story in the fact that Bobby Jones's wooden club shots were missing fire. It was much like hearing that Calvin Coolidge had turned garrulous and flippant or that Lindbergh had abandoned flying. So when Bobby Jones and Jimmy Johnston started out with Findlay Douglas and Herbert Ramsay of the U.S.G.A. official party, it seemed to be worth a trip, even in the death-dealing heat of a July day that would make the western desert look like a refrigerating plant.

Messrs. Ramsay and Douglas had nice tee shots. Jimmy Johnston hit a good one down the middle. Then Jones stepped up. But at this point the story of his topping, hooking, flubbing or slicing a drive broke down. There was the same old free body turn, the same amazing coordination of hands and wrists, feet and hips, and the ball only sailed 300 yards down the middle of the fairly soft course.

The first hole is 460 yards and it rained last night. Yet Jones was by the pin with a drive and a light iron, not more than a No. 4. He hit the same type of tee shot on the second and, as it was getting hotter and hotter, there seemed to be no great use in walking four or five miles up hill and down in the possible chance of seeing Bobby Jones make a terrible mistake by hitting one seven feet off the middle of the course.

For all that Bobby isn't any too happy just now over his long game, but I have a hunch it will get him around the course. He was never looking better and he admitted that he was never feeling betted. I think he is more light-hearted about this championship than any he has played in. He wants to win, naturally, but he isn't wrought up about it. He did the big job abroad, and that was where he became keyed up. He is out to win, but if he doesn't he won't shoot himself or dive in one of Interlachen's lakes.

How They Are Going

The public at large figure Bobby Jones almost a sure thing, but there is nothing sure in golf and the pros are all keyed up to stop this conquering march. Leo Diegel is hitting the ball in spectacular fashion and Leo is keen and ready to go.

Gene Sarazen just told me that he was hitting the ball better than he had ever hit it before, and you could see that he has great hopes.

I talked to Horton Smith and as usual this cool-headed young entry from Missouri was completely unworried and all set to open the fireworks. He trimmed Bobby at Savannah and Bobby trimmed him at Augusta and Hoylake. Now he feels that maybe he is due again and he won't be far away.

Walter Hagen, just back from the fairways and the bunkers on the other side of the earth, is playing better golf than he played last year. His nine holes in 32 shows that the old flame is still burning. He will handle these deceptive greens as well as any one here and, while he won his first title sixteen years ago in the Middle West, he is far from being through.

Hagen upset the swell dressers by abandoning his gay and dashing knickerbockers to appear in white flannel trousers and a white shirt. He looked like a tennis player suddenly transplanted, but he played golf like a golfer, which he still happens to be.

This course should also suit Tommy Armour, one of the most accurate golfers that ever played, for straight shooting means something over this bunkered country. And Armour can keep them on the line with that right elbow dug into his side, never lifted to let his club get out of control.

Mac Smith will need cooler weather. If they give him that, he won't be far away, for Mac says he has no complaint to make about the way he is hitting his shots.

Johnny Farrell is out to retrieve his misfortune at Winged Foot last year, where he took an 8 on the eighth hole and killed his last chance. He is playing much better golf now and Johnny is game enough to show what a comeback means.

KENT REDWINE WINS EVENT FOR BARRISTERS

Kent Redwine made almost a clean sweep of the Los Angeles Bar Association tournament held at the Hollywood Country Club recently. Besides winning both low gross and low net with 78-10-68, Redwine also scored 64 points to put himself out in front in the tin whistle competition. Other winners in the tin whistle event were H. W. Reynolds second with 61 points, O. R. Normandin third with 50 points and E. E. Noon and R. F. Church tied for fourth with 49 points.

The blind bogey resulted in a triple tie between Paul Watkins, M. MacKinnon and H. H. Harris. Winners are requested to communicate with Ernest Noon, chairman of the tournament committee, in regard to prizes.

Noon announced yesterday that the next tournament will be played at the Palos Verdes Golf Club on Saturday morning, the 19th inst. The Roger Marchetti trophy will be awarded as the special prize to the sweepstakes winner.

Helen Moody on Way Home

LONDON, July 8. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody today ended a successful tennis tour of Europe, when she sailed for home with the women's Wimbledon singles championship and a share in the women's doubles crown.

Mrs. Moody was presented with two gold medals, at the station, by the vice-president of the British Lawn Tennis Association.

"English tennis is improving," Mrs. Moody asserted. "You did not win any titles at Wimbledon but that was just bad luck," she told a London newspaper interviewer.

Godfrey Stops Frankie Simms

CLEVELAND (O.) July 8. (Exclusive)—Big George Godfrey, Negro giant of Leiperville, Pa., tonight won from Frankie Simms on a technical knockout in the second round. The Black Panther tore into Simms in the first round and after punishing him severely, sent him to the canvas all but out. Simms, however, was able to weather the round. In the second round Godfrey again knocked Simms down after a hard beating. Simms's seconds tossed in a towel. Godfrey weighed 242 pounds and Simms 206.

SHERIDAN AND KASSY WILL CLASH TONIGHT

Homer (Poison) Sheridan and Kayo Kassy, Armenian middleweight who won his spurs less than a month ago at Wilmington when he trimmed Joe Peregrina decisively in a ten-rounder, hold down the feature fight at Wilmington tonight. They clash over the ten-round route at 161 pounds.

Talayha Crew Saves Sailor

Lazard Lippman, owner of the yacht Talayha, one of four racing from San Pedro to Honolulu, sent a radio message to the Associated Press last night describing a near-tragedy in mid-Pacific.

"A sailor washed overboard," Lippman said, "but due to the heroic efforts of C. G. Johnson, Beverly Hills, guest aboard, and another sailor, who kept him in tow until other sailors could come to their assistance, he was saved."

Lippman's message was picked up by Harry Shaw, amateur radio operator, over his station, W-6AWG, and relayed by telephone.

The message also said, "light and variable winds. Making good time over the great circle route. Had a big turkey dinner. Everybody is well and doing his bit."

The message did not give the position of the yacht, which left San Pedro on the 4th inst.

O'BRIEN KAYOES BOLO

FRESNO, July 8. (AP)—Tommy O'Brien, one-time contender for the world's lightweight championship, knocked out Mission Bolo, of Manila, in the first round of their scheduled six-round fracas here tonights. They are junior welterweights.

YANKEE BOWS TO WHIRLWIND IN AMERICA'S CUP CONTEST

NEWPORT (R. I.) July 8. (AP)—The sloop Whirlwind beat the Yankee to the thirty-mile finish line by 7m. 30s. this afternoon in the second day's observation race to determine the America's Cup defender in the international contest with Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V off here this fall. The two craft were the first pair of the four contenders to get away today.

The Weetamoe, Morgan-Nichols entry, beat the Enterprise, winner of the recent Eastern Yacht Club series, by 27s.

Ray Kremer scattered the Cardinals' ten blows, one of which was a home run by Watkins. Grantham hit for the circuit for the Pirates. The score:

GIANTS LOSE

PHILADELPHIA, July 8. (AP)—Phil Collins displayed some of his most effective pitching today and the Phillies backed it up with hard and timely hitting to defeat the New York Giants, 8 to 1.

Collins pitched shut-out ball until the ninth when he eased up and allowed four hits and the lone Giant run. The Phillies opened fire on Bill Walker in the third inning and continued against Heving and Pruett for a total of fourteen hits. Frank O'Doul hit a home run in the fifth. Score:

YANKS SPLIT

NEW YORK, July 8. (AP)—The Yankees' losing streak was extended to seven games as the Philadelphia Athletics won the first half of today's double-header, 4 to 0, but it was broken in the second contest when New York triumphed, 9 to 4. The Philadelphia defeat helped the victorious Washington Senators add a half-game to their lead.

George Pipgras managed to get through the second game, mainly by striking out eight Athletics, although he allowed eleven hits and received ragged support. The Yanks collected thirteen blows off four pitchers. Cooke and Chapman hit home runs.

George Walberg, who was supposed to have a sore arm, held the Yanks to three hits in the opener and gave them their second shut-out of the year. Bing Miller's home run brought in three of the four Philadelphia runs, all scored off Henry Johnson in the first. Scores:

BROWNS BUMPED

CLEVELAND, July 8. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians held a hitting carnival today and defeated the St. Louis Browns, 12 to 6. It was the seventh victory of the season for Mel Harder, Cleveland pitcher. The Browns sent in three men against him. Coffman lasted a little less than an inning. Holshauser stuck for two rounds and Stiles finished.

The tribe plucked off fourteen hits including a homer each by Eddie Morgan and Earl Averill. Score:

RECORD FOR MAILS

Walter Mails was the first Portland twirler to score a shutout victory when he held Los Angeles to no scores in the first game last Sunday. Prior to yesterday's game the Angels had been whitewashed only three times this season. Tony Freitas and H. Pillette were the two twirlers besides Mails to accomplish the feat.

HUBBELL HURLS FOUR-HIT BALL

Angel Homecoming Spoiled by 6-0 Seattle Win

field wall with two men on and two out was the fig feature of the inning.

The Tribe put up a splendid brand of ball against the Lelivelitians and looked like they were the ones driving for the flag instead of the Angels.

As a result of their setback, the Angels were forced to wait a bit longer before cinching the first-half title. However, they're still three games out in front and there's no cause for worry yet. At that, it can't be overlooked that the Lelivelitians have lost their last three games and been shut out in two of them.

In an effort to pull a game nearer the first-half goal, Lelivelt plans to send his ace—Ed Baecht—against the Indians today. Lemanski, a young southpaw, is scheduled to hurl for Seattle. Baecht ought to be good for a decision.

For two innings yesterday both Yerkes and Hubbell mowed down the opposition without trouble, but in the third the Indians went on the warpath and how.

HOLLAND HITS HOMER

Fred Muller led off with a triple off the center-field bleacher screen, Moore slightly injuring himself when he collided with the wall. Borreani's infield out brought Muller home. Hubbell fanned, but both Knothe and Taylor singled. Holland then picked one of Yerkes's southpaw slants off his shoetops and golfed it over the left-field wall to put the Tribe out in front, 4 to 0.

Almada then singled to left and that was all for Yerkes, Barfoot coming on the scene. Almada stole second and went to third on Lawrence's infield hit to Dittmar. Almada scored on a successful double steal with Lawrence, although it looked as if Umpire Kolls booted his decision at the plate, Hannah apparently tagging Louie out. Anyhow, young Mr. Owen, the Tribe's good-looking shortstop from Santa Clara, followed with a two-base drive off the left-field fence and Lawrence ambled over the plate. Muller, up for a second helping, was thrown out on a nice play by Dittmar to end the rally.

That was all the scoring but, unfortunately for the Angels, it proved more than enough for the visiting Redskins. Score:

TIGERS TRIPPED

CHICAGO, July 8. (AP)—Ted Lyons's pitching and batting lifted the White Sox to a 3-to-2 victory over Detroit in the fourth game of the series today. Lyons gave the Tigers ten hits but kept them well spaced and his triple with Kamm and Tate on in the second accounted for two Sox runs. Smead Jolley poked out his twelfth homer of the season to provide the winning run. The victory was Lyons's twelfth of the season. Score:

Favorites Win at Ambassador

Ranking favorites in the Ambassador Hotel's third semiannual tennis tournament survived the third round, which was played yesterday without a mishap. The field has narrowed down considerably and today's fourth round matches will probably result in several upsets since a number of the stronger players are arrayed against each other.

Jimmy Bobbitt and Harold Steiner easily disposed of their opponents yesterday, strengthening their positions as title contenders.

HAWAIIANS FAVORED IN JUNIOR MEET TODAY

between two of the large amusement piers.

Louis and Sam are in fine spirits and both just ooze confidence. Johnny Lee figures that there is only one man in Atlantic City not interested in the meet and he is Shipwreck Kelly, who has been squatting on the top of a flagpole here for the past eighteen days. "It's just nothing to do, I say," was Joe Andrade's comment as they took another glance in Kelly's direction. If Shipwreck only knew it he had a close check on his sitting posture during the past few days.

SUPPORT FOR JOE

A surprise party will be sprung on Joe Andrade tomorrow morning when he reports for the dash. Arthur L. Herzog of Calexico, Cal., arrived here today and is heading a delegation of Imperial county boosters to accompany Joe to the field and pull for their champion.

Southern California's chances for a national title seem to rest in the hands of Andrade. If this Mexican boy shoots baskets Thursday he will be hard to beat. The boys took in the sights of the famous steel pier this afternoon and will be in bed early ready to contest for the honors of being among America's outstanding juvenile athletes.

ANDRADE AND HALEY BEST LOCAL BETS

Local fans who are following the fortunes of the Junior Olympic Games boys in Atlantic City will be interested in learning that Joe Andrade of Calexico maintained his coefficient of 490, which means that he goes into the national meet today with the best chance of the Southern California squad. If Andrade gets fourteen or fifteen baskets, as against the slim nine he scored in the local finals, he should give Harou Ouchi of Hawaii all the competition that young man wants.

Sam Waxman's gain of 20 points in his coefficient is apt to prove a handicap to him and it appears that Louis Haley of San Bernardino is now the best senior bet of the locals, although outscored by Waxman in the finals here. Haley made better marks in most of the events here, but Waxman's low coefficient boosted him into the title.

Cupie Yamamoto and Ouchi of Hawaii are favorites to win today. They have made higher scores than the Los Angeles boys and until our kids get the upper hand they cannot be considered the equal of the islanders. Yamamoto is a fine sprinter and if he equals his Hawaiian effort of 8 1-5s. in the opening event today it will be hard for Haley or Waxman to beat him out for the title. On the other hand should Cupie fail to equal his mark it will mean a great fight between the seniors.

As far as Haley is concerned much depends on what he does in the baseball throw today. If he hits close to 300ft. he will be very much in the running. Andrade must better 230ft. to stand a chance with Ouchi in the latter stages of the meet for Ouchi has done 252ft.

Here are the marks made by the respective athletes in their finals:

Yamamoto: 9ft. ½in., 293ft. 23 chins, 14 baskets, and 8 1-5s. Waxman: 8ft 7in., 272ft., 28 chins, 17 baskets, and 8 4-5s. Haley: 8ft. 8in., 289ft., 35 chins, 15 baskets, and 8 4-5s.

Ouchi: 8ft. 4½in., 252ft., 20 chins, 14 baskets, and 9s flat. Andrade: 8ft. 6in., 229 ft. 7in., 25 chins, 9 baskets, and 9 1-5s.

Johnny  hardly figures to beat Ouchi today, while Tony Louis of the Hawaiians is almost as good a bet as Yamamoto in the senior class.

Zinn Twirls San Francisco to Easy Triumph

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. (AP)—San Francisco defeated Portland 12 to 6 today, Zinn being the winning pitcher. The Seals made sure of the game with a five-run rally in the third inning, but Sheely cinched it in the eighth inning by hitting a home run with three men on base.

Oaks Trounce Mission Reds by 8-3 Count

OAKLAND, July 8. (AP) — Oakland today scored an easy 8 to 3 victory over the Mission Reds when Vergez, Lombardi and Martin did some timely hitting and Herb McQuaid, a Mission castoff, pitched a steady brand of ball and fanned nine batters.

Lombardi's two-bagger, which scored three men, was the deciding factor in the contest, although it occurred early in the game, in the third inning.

STAGE STAR TO PLAY IN FILMS

First National Signs Glenda Farrell for Long Term

Clark, Former Cameraman Given Directorship

Ernest Torrence Will Essay Lead for Paramount

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Another of Broadway's favorites has been signed on a long-term contract for talking pictures. She is Glanda Farrell, who has played leads in a number of New York shows.

First National, according to the announcement of Hal Wallis, has just signed Miss Farrell, and has already assigned her to a part. She will play the leading feminine role in "Little Caesar," which Mervyn Leroy is directing, with Doug Fairbanks, Jr., Buster Collier and others in important male roles.

Miss Farrell's latest success was in "The Uncaptured," produced in New York last season.

CAMERAMAN RAISED TO DIRECTORSHIP

Winfield Sheehan always tries to see to it that the worthy and the ambitious of his organization win promotion when the right time comes.

And now it is a cameraman who has most brilliantly fulfilled his mission during the past twelve years with Fox who is being promoted to a directorship. He is Dan Clark, who has photographed no less than sixty-four Tom Mix pictures, besides several others, during his time with Fox.

Clark is being signed to a long-term contract, and his first picture will be a talking version of "Alcatraz," by Max Brand, which served Tom Mix as a starring vehicle in the old silent days under the title of "Just Tony." The new name of the picture as at present planned will be "Wyoming Wonder."

While no hero is definitely assigned to the picture, it is understood that John Wayne will have the leading role, as he will be finished with "The Big Trail" by the time this one goes into production, and as he is quite obviously the one for the role.

Rex, the equine star, is definitely cast to play the leading equine role.

The cinematographers are losing a noted member of their craft through Clark's promotion. He has twice served as president of the Society of Cinematographers, and is considered one of the finest cameramen in the film business.

Torrence Plays Pioneer

ERNEST TORRENCE

When "The Fighting Caravan" goes into production at Paramount studios, no less virile and popular an actor than Ernest Torrence will have the important male role of the "heavy" pioneer. This is a role similar to the one he played in "The Covered Wagon." He has been borrowed from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for the role.

Torrence and his wife, who have been in the East, are arriving within a day or two. Otto Brougher will direct the picture, and Gary Cooper has the star role.

No leading lady has yet been assigned, but it is likely, we hear, that Mary Brian will have the part.

Arliss in Molnar Hit

GEORGE ARLISS

Although George Arliss and his wife have only just arrived in England for their vacation, the star's next Warner Brothers vehicle for him is already being purchased.

Our prediction of a few weeks ago as to what this vehicle would be has been fulfilled, for it will be a talking version of the stage play, "The Devil," by Ferenc Molnar. Arliss starred in this play during a season or two in New York at the Belasco.

While no director has been definitely assigned, it is assumed that Al Green, who has been so successful in the direction of Arliss' pictures, will again be at the helm.

Serge Eisenstein Writes

To whatever confusion in Russia Serge Eisenstein, Russian director, was accustomed, at any rate he apparently appreciates seclusion. He has betaken himself to the hills in Beverly, where he has taken a house, and at present is engaged in writing a story. The nature and manner of this story are at present a secret, and it is not known, either, for what star it is intended.

Barbara Bennett Leaves

BARBARA BENNETT

Barbara Bennett and her husband, Morton Downey, left Hollywood on Tuesday night for New York. Following a few days' stay in that city to attend to some business there, they will sail for Europe, where Morton is scheduled to begin a series of engagements, opening at the Kit Kat Club in London. Thence he will go to the Ambassadeur in Ostend, and after that to the Ambassadeur in Deauville.

Downey plans, on his return, to open a fashionable night club in New York.

This is the second time Barbara Bennett has given up her screen career to accompany her singer husband on a world tour. She recently completed an important role in "Love Among the Millionaires" for Paramount.

EVELYN BRENT EN ROUTE

Evelyn Brent is en route to Alaska with an R.-K.-O. company filming scenes for "The Silver Horde," in which she has the feminine lead.

TINY PLAINTIFF WINS AWARD

Two-Year-Old Whose Baby Buggy Collided With Auto Can Buy Lollipops

Superior Judge Sproul awarded $100 damages to a 2-year-old litigant yesterday when he found for the plaintiff, Ellen Pearl Joyce, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Joyce, injured in a collision between a baby buggy and an automobile.

Mrs. Joyce, who was wheeling the gocart, was awarded $586 damages against the same defendant, Ury H. Robinson, whose automobile skidded across a sidewalk near Slauson avenue and San Pedro street, June 17, 1929.

Sheriff's Liquor Squad Arrests 1004 in Year

During the fiscal year ending June 30, last, seventeen deputy sheriffs under Capt. Benton, head of Sheriff Traeger's liquor detail, arrested 1004 persons for violation of liquor laws, obtained 865 convictions in courts and made 6036 investigations, according to the annual report made yesterday.

Fines resulting from convictions obtained by officers of the detail totaled $312,680, as compared to $186,000 for the previous fiscal year. For the twelvemonth period officers of the detail worked a total of 21,980 hours, not including 2560 hours spent in courts, the report stated.

Headquarters for M. K. Young Drive Opened

Headquarters for the Milton K. Young for Governor campaign were opened yesterday at Suite 610, National Bank of Commerce building, 437 South Hill street.

A program for a State-wide speaking schedule for the unopposed Democratic candidate is being prepared by his supporters. Young's name also appears on the Republican primary ticket.

This noon the bearer of the Democratic banner, declared by party leaders to be the strongest candidate California Democrats have sponsored in many years, will address the luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles City Club.

FLINT GIVES EVIDENCE IN SHARES SUIT

Former Banker Testifies Concerning Security for 1922 Selznick Loan

Motley H. Flint, former banker, spent yesterday on the witness stand in Superior Judge Collier's court testifying in the suit of David O. Selznick against the Security-First National Trust and Savings Bank for recovery of 1000 shares of United Studios stock valued at $250,000. This stock was pledged as security with the bank, of which Flint then was executive vice-president, in 1922. With it was pledged title to sixteen motion pictures produced by Selznick. The latter seeks return of the stock, asserting that the pictures yielded the bank sufficient money to settle the debt. The case has been on trial two months.

Flint identified a mass of documents, telegrams and letters. He was called by Attorney William A. Bowen for the bank, and was cross-examined by Barry Brannen for Selznick.

"It was so long ago I cannot remember independently of the documents," the broker repeatedly replied in answer to many questions. His chief activity yesterday consisted of identifying exhibits which filled two large steel filing cabinets.

He testified that at the time of the loan he was executive vice-president of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, since merged with the defendant bank.

Flint said he could not remember being advised that Myron Selznick, associate of the plaintiff, promised reorganization of the film company. He denied sending threatening telegrams to the Selznicks. On the contrary, Flint testified, the telegrams were being sent to him, "begging and pleading."

Kiwanians Hear Clyde Plummer

Tendencies on the part of peace officers to flaunt the laws they enforce, and to place themselves under obligations to the racketeering element by permitting them to finance their political campaigns, last night were described by Clyde Plummer, candidate for Sheriff, as two of the outstanding reasons for laxity in law enforcement.

Speaking before the Kiwanis Club of Hynes and the United Veterans of the Republic, Plummer, retired deputy Chief of the Los Angeles Police Department, declared "the efficiency of the Sheriff's office can be increased by increasing the respect of the deputies for the head of their department."

PROGRAM TO CHANGE

"Born Reckless" has final showings at the Uptown Theater tomorrow night. "The Arizona Kid" starts a run Friday with Warner Baxter in the title role.

BOWL THRONG CHEERS HERTZ

Splendid Concourse Greets Symphony Opening

Wagner Number Introduces Ninth Season

Presentation Featured by Beautiful Music

what seemed comparatively so balmy a night.

Many people went to the bowl early as is the wont at a summer premiere. The pilgrimage had attained sizable proportions long before 8 o'clock. And there were throngs treading the path that leads there from Highland avenue as the actual time for the program approached.

"MASTERSINGERS" OPENS

Concerts start promptly according to an infallible rule. Lateness means waiting outside the barriers, but not out of earshot of the music, until the number is ended. Perfect quiet is sought for these musical events.

At approximately 8:30, therefore, Hertz, in all the ampleness of his figure, came forth on the stage, smiling in response to the ovation, and bowing, and then, stepping to the platform, began that ever-robust introductory selection, the Prelude to "The Mastersingers."

It would be Wagner—with Hertz, since his interest in the interpretation of the great composer of the music drama dates back for many a day.

Hertz followed this familiar overture with the Symphony No. 1 by Brahms, and admirably brought out the exaltation of the closing section of this singularly great work. Indeed, this final movement, and the second and third were all most effectively played. In the first there was lacking some of the finish to be noted in the other three, but the rendition in its entirety elicited the high approval of the music lover.

The tone poem, "Death and Transfiguration," by Richard Strauss, was the only other composition. It was given during the second half of the program, and was notable chiefly for its tonal climaxes. This is a favorite, of course.

NOVELTIES TO BE OFFERED

The entire musical presentation had a substantial quality, and was of interest especially to those who enjoy hearing the beautiful in music. It is not an index to forthcoming programs, for I understand there are to be many novelties offered at the bowl this summer. The human note that Hertz brings to any event with which he is associated pervaded this first concert more than the extraordinary. The "Father of the Bowl" was welcomed home.

Various prominent visitors, including George K. Eastman, Lee De Forrest, Merle Thorpe and Governors Trumbull and Case, were among those in attendance at the concert, which was heard by about 10,000 persons.

Origin of Jail Term Explained by Film Actor

Wallace Beery, the "Machine Gun Butch" of "The Big House" at the Criterion Theater, explains how the underworld of America first came to call a prison "the big house."

"Criminals, when they mention 'the big house,' accent the word 'big.' This is done to differentiate a State or Federal prison from a local jail," Beery says.

"Just where the term originated is not definitely known. For more than twenty years it has been used by criminals. However, Chicago detectives tell me that it was first applied to the Joliet penitentiary in Illinois to distinguish the Joliet 'pen' from the city and county prisons.

"Veteran New York reporters at police headquarters, however, claim that Sing Sing has been referred to as 'the big house' for more than thirty years. The New York reporters point out that 'up the river' has also been used for half a century to designate Sing Sing. Out 'in company,' however, criminals used the expression 'the big house.'"

Former Stage Comedian Has Picture Role

Victor Moore, whose name has been synonymous with comedy on the musical comedy and vaudeville stages of the country for almost a score of years, is one of the featured players appearing in support of Helen Kane in her rollicking burlesque of life and customs in the Klondike, "Dangerous Nan McGrew," starting tomorrow at the Paramount Theater.

Others in the cast are Stuart Erwin, whose two ambitions in life are to play a saxophone and win the love of the "boop-boopa-doop" girl; James Hall, Roberta Robinson, Louise Closser Hale and Frank Morgan. "A Man From Wyoming" will be seen for the last times today.

Youthful Stars in Host Roles

Roles of juvenile host and hostess will go to Billy Butts, the screen's youngest cowboy, and Dorothy Gray, known as "Hollywood's living doll," at today's matinee of "Hell's Angels" at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Sid Grauman has arranged to have a pair of noted youngsters receive at each of the daily matinees of the Howard Hughes aerial epic, which provides thrills for the younger generation as well as adults, for this week only.

Billy, who is 10 years old, is a protege of the late Fred Thompson. Dorothy, 6 years old, is known for her appearances before the radio microphone and will be remembered for her work in "The Vagabond Lover," with Rudy Vallee; "The Avalanche," with Jack Holt, and in Gus Edwards's "School Days."

Comedy Drama Hits Stride at Mayan

Dorothy Sills

Daughter of the noted actor, Milton Sills, is portraying a role in "Molly Magdalene," now in the second week of its local engagement.

THRILLER ANNOUNCED FOR R.-K.-O.

Betty Compson Will Star in "Midnight Mystery;" Stage Show Changes

Betty Compson is seen as a feminine Philo Vance in Radio's film thriller, "The Midnight Mystery," starting at the R.-K.-O. Theater tomorrow.

Set against the background of an isolated island off the coast of Maine, a "dummy" murder assumes the tragic consequences of gruesome realism. In the all-star cast with Miss Compson are Lowell Sherman, Raymond Hatton, June Clyde, Hugh Trevor, Rita La Roy, Ivan Lebedeff and Marcelle Corday.

PASADENANS SEE "THE SECOND MAN"

Production of S. N. Behrman's Play of Sophisticates Caviar Fare

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Caviar for the intelligentsia is "The Second Man," the New York Theater Guild success, by S. N. Behrman, now being given a delightfully sophisticated performance at Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Mr. Behrman knows his moderns, and he resolves thought processes into their constituent elements so thoroughly and with such microscopic precision that life for the introspective novelist of the play becomes just an artificial set of rather precocious reactions. This bachelor egotist has psyched his own and others' emotional impulses until his inner self sits ever in critical judgment over the actions of the outer man.

How many of the vaunted intelligentsia are in this precise state of mind? They have dissected every emotion and its accompanying reaction, and gaze with a sort of sadistic pride upon their own caperings.

It is a question whether this world of Freudian design is essentially a happy one. The brittle hero declares "Life is terribly sad. I just like to pretend it is gay," when the very modern adolescent flapper with her dream of love accuses him of being effervescent and artificial. These audacious moderns who arrogating every privilege to themselves, hoping to live minus emotion in a world of their own fashioning, regard "love" as mere childish illusion. They may achieve a sort of artificial grandeur which doubtless compensates for the loss of the more tender glamours of the amarous complex.

The comedy featuring these valiant and vivacious mondaines moves with celerity and the repartee is buoyantly exhilarating. There is very slight hyperbole here; the complexion of life as realized by the moderns is revealed with quite significant exactitude. The comedy is adroit, emphatically contrived and garnished with deliciously imagined lines.

Maurice Wells contributes another splendid characterization to his repertoire. Marian Clayton is a captivating flapper of the "she knew what she wanted" type. Miss Clayton has a delicate charm and an individuality and, to paraphrase, manages "to do things that no lady would do in a manner which only a lady could do them." As the earnest young scientist caught in the mists of love Ralph Freud gives a sympathetic and moving performance. Ellen Hall is interesting.

'Fata Morgana' Wide in Appeal

"Fata Morgana," Ernest Vajda's continental comedy which Arthur Greville Collins brings to the Hollywood Playhouse Monday evening, has been a dramatic success in nearly every civilized country in the world. It has been played in sixteen different languages.

The basic reason for its wide appeal lies in the fact that it deals with a fundamental human experience of interest to people of all ages and all nationalities. The glamorous Elsie Ferguson will be seen in the leading role. Tom Douglas, English juvenile, also has a prominent part.

Stage Drama Transferred to Screen

Announcement has been made by the management of the Orpheum Theater that "Lawful Larceny," Bebe Daniels's vehicle, will start Saturday. The film is adapted from the stage play of the same name, in which Lowell Sherman starred on Broadway. In the film version Sherman plays the same role.

Olive Tell, a prominent figure in silent films, makes her debut in this feature as a society figure who breaks hearts and bank accounts simultaneously and with ease.

Others in the cast who have prominent roles or Purnell Pratt, Bert Roach, Kenneth Thomson, James Neill and Maude Turner Gordon. "Shooting Straight" closes Friday night.

TECHNICOLOR USED IN "BRIGHT LIGHTS"

"Bright Lights," the current attraction at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater, is one of the first group of pictures to be processed in the newly completed laboratories of Technicolor in Hollywood.

Completion of this plant by Technicolor vastly increases the production facilities of this firm which pioneered natural color motion-picture films, it is said.

"Bright Lights" has Dorothy Mackaill and Frank Fay in leading roles.

VEHICLE OF TWO CROWS DUE TODAY

'Anybody's War' Promises Screen Entertainment at United Artists

Moran and Mack, better known as the "Two Black Crows," will be seen at the United Artists' Theater starting today, in "Anybody's War." As Amos and Willie Crow, Moran and Mack are said to provide many laughs in the film. This is their second talking picture.

As two lazy, drawling and work-fearing southern Negroes in the excitement of war without knowing what it is all about, Moran and Mack promise excellent screen entertainment. The story of "Anybody's War" is taken from the novel, "Two Black Crows in the A.E.F.," written by Charles E. Mack.

A slight love interest is maintained by Joan Peers and Neil Hamilton. The supporting cast also includes Walter Weems, Walter McGrail and Betty Farrington. Richard Wallace directed. Gaylord Carter, featured organist, has arranged a new program to accompany "Anybody's War."

"Unholy Three" Closes Run at Loew's Tonight

Lon Chaney in his first Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking picture, "The Unholy Three," will be seen on the Loew's State screen for the last times tonight.

Once again the debonair and suave romancer is Edmund Lowe's role in "Good Intentions," starting tomorrow. Marguerite Churchill, Regis Toomey, Owen Davis, Jr., and other players make up the cast of the picture. William K. Howard both wrote and directed the new picture.

Perry Askam, singing hero of "Desert Song" and "New Moon," will appear in person on the stage for one week, with Fanchon and Marco's "Green Devil" idea, making up the balance of the stage features. "Peg Leg" Bates, dancer, remains over for a second week to headline the new idea.

Story Brings Letters From Rogers Fans

A problem testing the memory confronts Will Rogers, who has just returned from the East. Several weeks ago a story appeared in the local papers stating that Rogers, whose latest starring picture, "So This is London," is in its third week at the Carthay Circle, made his first witty remark on a vaudeville stage, in retort to a "wise-cracker" in the gallery.

Several hundred letters have been received since, each with their own version of what they know to be first-hand information on the matter gathered from authentic sources.

To clarify the situation the question has been put up to Will Rogers, himself, who now is scratching his head harder and chewing gum faster, trying to remember exactly the place, the time and the facts.

SCHOLARS PASS ON YOUNG PLAN

German Reparations Scheme Topic of Addresses

Pacific Southwest Academy in Two-Day Session

Educator-Economists Hold Arrangement Makeshift

Belief that the Young plan is just another temporary adjustment but like the Dawes plan is a step forward and that the framers have had to deal with problems that may fairly be called unsolvable, was voiced by Prof. Ernest Minor Patterson of the University of Pennsylvania at last night's session of the summer gathering of the Pacific Southwest Academy at University of California at Los Angeles.

Yesterday marked the opening of the two-day session of the organization, which is a center of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. An audience of several hundred persons gathered to listen to the addresses and discussions.

YOUNG PLAN TEXT

The title of Prof. Patterson's address was "The Young Plan in the Making." He described the various stages in reparation payments from Germany.

"The Bank for International Settlements, which is a part of the Young plan, offers much hope. I see in the new bank a place for new national amity in that while its functions are limited to reparation payments and collections, yet here financial powers of all the world will gather and understand each other better," said Prof. Patterson.

Discussing the protection of American foreign investments Prof. Irvin Stewart of the American University, Washington, declared the judiciary branch of the government is least concerned in this matter, while the legislative branch has the most interest. Prof. Owyn W. Cook, U.C.L.A., declared that the State Department should function as well as the Standard Oil Company or any private corporation. Secretary Stimson with the co-operation of Congress should completely reorganize this branch of service and give distinction to American diplomacy, he said.

During the afternoon delegates and guests were entertained by Dean and Mrs. Thomas M. Putnam at their home, 714 Hilgard avenue, where tea was served.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

There will be a luncheon at the Beverly Hills Hotel at noon today and at 2:30 p.m. there will be a conference with Prof. Irvin Stewart presiding. Prof. Patterson will speak on American foreign investments and Prof. Ernest L. Bogart, University of Illinois, will speak on "International Debts and World Economic Readjustments." Prof. Merlin Hunter of the University of Illinois will lead the discussion.

The closing session of the gathering will be held at 8 p.m. with President of the Academy Remsen D. Bird, presiding. The subject will be "The Prospects of Peace in Europe" and the speaker will be Prof. Robert J. Kerner of the University of California at Berkeley.

Last Rites for Charles Hubach Will Be Today

Funeral services will be conducted in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, at 3 p.m. today for Charles Edward Hubach, widely known California concert singer and husband of Olga Steeb, pianist, who died Monday at his home, 453 South Wilton Place, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Hubach was 56 years of age and a native of Wheeling, W. Va. A breakdown in health forced his retirement from the concert stage six years ago.

Besides his widow, Mr. Hubach leaves three sons by a former marriage, Clifford and Walter Hubach of Los Angeles, and Ralph Hubach of San Francisco, and four brothers and three sisters in Kansas City.

Another Young Center Opens

Hollywood's C. C. Young-for-Governor headquarters were opened yesterday on the ground floor of the Bank of Hollywood Building, by Ben L. Goodheart, general manager for Hollywood of the Young forces and a prominent Hollywood attorney.

Announcement of the selection of Dr. Harry W. Martin as chairman of the Hollywood C. C. Young-for-Governor Committee was made by Goodheart. Other vice-chairmen, members of the general committee and also a women's committee will be announced later, according to Goodheart, who is first vice-president of the United Church Brotherhood of Los Angeles and president of the Brotherhood of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Hollywood. Stanley Farling and Charles F. Force will be in active charge of the Hollywood headquarters.

OLD-TIMER RAPS GANGSTERS

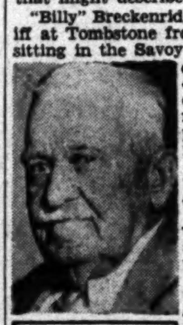
Tombstone Officer in Frontier Days Classifies Modern Bandit as Crook Rat

Chicago is raising them tougher than did old Tombstone. Never in its palmiest days, when they were planting them thick and fast with their boots on, did the old Arizona town ever harbor the species of rat that might describe the modern gangster.



"BILLY" BRECKENRIDGE

"Billy" Breckenridge, deputy Sheriff at Tombstone from 1877 to 1883, sitting in the Savoy here yesterday, defended the ethics of the old-time bad man as compared to the modern.

"Those old-timers never shot a man in the back—they were quick with a gun but they were not murderers. Billy the Kid used to shoot his man in the back, as did a few others, but that was a rare occurrence. But these gangsters—pah," he said with indignation.

"I went through the palmiest days of old Tomstone and I saw it all. It is not to be compared with the killings by the thugs of today. I think these modern gangsters, unless they ganged up on a man, wouldn't have had a show in a stand-and-fight gun-battle at Tombstone in the eighties. Some of the boys I knew would have picked their teeth with a forty-five while they were getting their machine gun set up.

"Even the kids on July 4 were showing the Chicago influence. I saw the little fellows 'boom-booming' their playmates in the back with cap guns. They used to battle it out fact to face—times have changed for sure."

Breckenridge, born on Christmas Day, will be 84 years of age this winter. He went to Arizona in 1876.

"Yep, I saw most of it," he said. He told of being on freight trains that were held up for a day at a time while buffalo crossed the track. He told of seeing the plains alive with antelope and game. He touched lightly on Indian scraps at forgotten water holes, of times he had to "fan" some one to bring him in.

"I usually let the other fellow shoot first. Only three times did I have to turn my man over to the undertaker. I never got a scratch and was never hurt. Those bad men were easy to arrest. You could talk to them and they listened. It used to be easy to track a man in those days. He had to go to a water hole and there you were. Every one went armed but now the only man with a gun is the outlaw. They are just plumb reforming things so it ain't safe for any one any more."

He knew Billy the Kid, not intimately, but casually, and knew him for a cold-blooded assassin who could be hired to kill his man for a very small amount—sometimes for the fun of it.

"Many of the boys who were killed at Tombstone killed themselves—that is a fact," he said. "A cowboy would get a few drinks in a saloon and would start to whirling his revolver on the trigger guard and firing. I know of twelve of the boys who punctured their own hides with their own bullets. That was the price paid for being a frontier smarty. No sir—I don't like these modern gangsters. The officers of today have a much harder job than we did forty-five or fifty years ago."

Breckenridge is the author of the book, "Helldorado," and he plans to be at Tombstone again this year when the "Helldorado" celebration is staged. He says that even if he is old he can show the youngsters how to ride a "hoss." He plans to make a trip to San Francisco before he returns to his home at Tucson.

FLAG OFFICERS TO PAY VISIT

British and United States Admirals Will Arrive at Local Base Tomorrow

Two flag officers, of the British and United States Navy, respectively, are scheduled to pay the local base their first visits tomorrow. They are Vive-Admiral V. H. S. Haggard, C.B., C.M.G., and Rear-Admiral William D. MacDougall.

Admiral Haggard, who has just relieved Vice-Admiral Cyril Fuller as commander of the British North American and West Indian squadron, is coming from Bermuda on his cruiser flagship Despatch on a tour of inspection which will take him to the British Columbia ports of Vancouver and Victoria, and the naval base at Esquimault. The Despatch will spend five days at Los Angeles Harbor. A series of receptions and entertainments has been planned for her officers and crew by Southland British residents.

Admiral MacDougall, who will arrive in San Francisco this morning from Manila aboard the liner President Grant, next week will hoist his flag aboard the U.S.S. Procyon as new commander of the United States fleet base force. Coming here from duty as commandant of the Sixteenth Naval District in the Philippines, he succeeds to the post recently left vacant by Rear-Admiral Thomas Pickett Magruder, now commandant of the Eighth Naval District at New Orleans.

Admiral William V. Pratt, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, will leave port this morning aboard the flagship Texas for Honolulu, where he will arrive on the 17th inst. for an inspection of the Hawaiian establishment. The Texas, to go to Puget Sound from Honolulu, will return here on August 27 with the battle fleet.

PIONEERS HELD VICTIMS OF INFERIORITY COMPLEX

The frontier American of 100 years ago was pictured to students of the summer session of the University of Southern California yesterday by Dr. Ernest Bogart, visiting professor of economics from the University of Illinois, in a lecture on "American Manners 100 Years Ago."

"Our great-grandparents were characterized by a love of individual freedom, both economically and socially," stated Dr. Bogart. "Democracy was the basis of their doctrine and it often resulted in bruskness and ill manners toward travelers from foreign countries just to prove to themselves that they were on an equal plane socially.

"Ability was the sole test on the frontier. The economic system at that time did away with poverty and at the same time tended to keep down large individual fortunes so there was no aristocracy founded on wealth present.

"There is no doubt that the American of 100 years ago suffered from an inferiority complex," said Dr. Bogart. "His bluster and at times almost uncouth manners covered a sensitive spirit which was resentful to the foreign criticism prevalent at that time.

"Leisure and culture are the result of an advanced stage of industrialism and could not be expected during the pioneer development of our country. No nation as a whole has either good or bad manners but individuals of that nation may have either."

THIS TWO-REEL STORY TOO REAL

Film Producing Angler and Wife Tangle Fishing Lines and Then to Compromise in Row, Each Pulls Up Sea Monster—354 and 358 Pounds

"Hey, cut out that, can't you see my line is out there?" testily demanded J. Charles Davis, film producer to his wife, Marilyn Mills, while they were fishing from a small boat off Anacapa Island yesterday. Miss Mills, who had just made a cast after spending twenty minutes trying to get some bait on her hook looked at her husband and queried:

"Say, whose ocean is this?"

"That's not a fair question," responded Davis, "all I want is a chance to catch a fish after being out on the desert for about two months. Gimme a chance."

Shortly the crew of the boat, Sousa, from Point Hugo, were agitated by exultant shouts from Davis and plaintive pleas from his wife. The two were situated about twenty yards apart on the deck of the boat and each had a fish pole in hand.

"I've got one and he's a whale!" Davis exclaimed. "Get away everybody and I'll land him."

"Get your line off mine," suddenly interjected Miss Mills; "I've got a bite and you are going to ruin it with all that noise."

In the meantime the crew had assembled with gaffs as Davis began to reel in his line. Interest in what he had on his hook, however, dwindled when the line of Miss Mills, which apparently had become tangled with that of her husband, suddenly straightened out. Valiantly she began to wind in the reel, as experienced fishermen, aboard the boat, smiled.

"Hold everything," exclaimed Davis, as he wound up his reel.

"Hold nothing," replied Miss Mills as she pulled in her line, while the crew of the boat stood by.

To the amazement of all on board, after a struggle of forty-five minutes the catches of both Davis and his wife were drawn alongside. The lines were tangled but on the hook of each was a giant black-sea bass, commonly known as a jewfish. In consternation the crew rushed about the deck to procure nets, gaffs and other equipment designed for the successful landing of such catches.

When brought aboard, and after the lines had been untangled, it was discovered that the catch of Miss Mills was 358 pounds, while that of her husband weighed 354 pounds.

"Goody-goody," she said, "I knew I had the biggest one."

CAT'S HUNGER SOFTENS LAW

Drunk Penalty Minimized so Offender Can Go and Feed Feline

The pleadings of an old man for the feelings of a pet cat who might die of a broken heart if its owner was not on hand this morning to lay out its customary dish of tinned salmon, won a light sentence for John W. Martin, 65 years of age, 1459 West Twenty-ninth street, who appeared last night before Municipal Judge Edward Miller in the Police Night Court to answer a drunk charge.

Martin freely admitted his offense but with tears streaming from his eyes told the court that for six years it had been his daily pleasure to lay before his pet cat the contents of a small can of salmon. "Your honor," he said, "if I am not there in the morning to give my cat his salmon, my pet will die of a broken heart—please let me go."

Judge Miller said: "$5 or one day." So at 6 o'clock this morning Martin will walk forth a free man and the cat will get the fish.

Threats Against Wife Told at Suspect's Trial

Kin of Murdered Woman on Witness Stand

Use of Assumed Name Traced by Prosecutor

Threats asserted to have been made against Mrs. Ann McKnight Burkhart by her husband several months before she was murdered were related from the witness stand yesterday in Superior Judge McComb's court by Mrs. Joy Hoskins, a sister.

William Burkhart is on trial charged with shooting his wife to death in a bungalow at 6742 Franklin Place on the night of March 24, last, following a reconciliation attempt.

According to the sister's testimony, she met Burkhart outside a drug store at Santa Monica Boulevard and Western avenue and he declared: "She's my wife and I'm going to take her with me if I have to spend the rest of my life in the penitentiary."

Mrs. Nell Hoskins, mother of the murdered dancer, also testified. She declared that Burkhart once came to her home and threatened to kick in the door unless she permitted him to enter and search for his estranged wife.

Today T. P. Menzies, Deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, is expected to call Hunter Graham, automobile salesman, to prove that Burkhart bought a coupe several days before the murder as part of his plot to kill his wife. Burkhart used the same assumed name, officers charge, in renting the bungalow where the woman was killed.

The murder was discovered when Burkhart asked neighbors to aid him in placing his wife's body in his car, stating that she had "passed out" following a drinking party. When the neighbors saw blood on the woman's clothing, however, they called police and it was found that she had been shot to death.

Optimists Name Rolph Manager

Harry Sperb of San Francisco, general State-wide manager of the Rolph-for-Governor campaign, was elected vice-president of Optimists International at the annual convention held yesterday at Erie, Pa.

Although absent from the annual convention for the first time in eight years, Mr. Sperb's name was placed in nomination and he was unanimously elected. It is understood that yesterday's election will give the new vice-president the international presidency at the Optimist convention next year, according to custom.
